Second Article taken up,— “ To choose by ballot the following town officers:— One Town Clerk, for one year; five Selectmen, for one year; one Collector of Taxes, for one year; one Treasurer, for one year; three Assessors, for one year; three members of the School Committee, for three years; one member of the School Committee, for two years; four Trustees of the Public Library, for three years; one Trustee of the Public Library, for two years; one Trustee of the Public Library, for one year; two Trustees of Walnut Hills Cemetery, for three years; one Park Commissioner, for three years; one member of the Water Board, for three years; three Auditors, for one year; a Committee for Planting Trees, of three members, for one year; two Fence Viewers, for one year; five Constables, for one year; also, upon the same ballot, to vote ‘Yes’ or ‘No’ upon the question ‘Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this town?’ For these purposes the polls will be opened at 6.50 o’clock in the forenoon, and may be closed at 5.15 in the afternoon. Also, to choose or appoint all the other usual town officers in such manner as the town may determine.”

The Town Hall had been fitted up as a polling place, a space railed off, and eighty compartments or shelves provided for the convenience of voters in examining and marking their ballots, and each compartment was supplied with cards of instruction and other necessary facilities. Cards of instruction and specimen ballots were also posted in different parts of the building outside of the rail; all in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts governing elections.

The arrangement of the railing was such that four entrances were provided for voters to enter the space inside the rail for the purpose of marking their ballots, with four ballot-boxes to correspond, one for each entrance. The Ballot Clerks were provided with duplicate sets of the list of registered voters of the town, one for men voters and one for women voters, as prepared by the Registrars of Voters for use at this election. These alphabetical lists of voters were divided to correspond with the four entrances and four ballot-boxes as follows:—

Entrance No. 1—A to D inclusive.	Entrance No. 3—L to P inclusive.
Entrance No. 2—E to K inclusive.	Entrance No. 4—Q to Z inclusive.

The Moderator appointed Constable Willard Y. Gross to have charge of the ballot-boxes and the space inside of the railing.

The Town Clerk delivered to the Ballot Clerks, Robert A. Smiley and Francis F. Muldowney, three sealed packages of ballots to be used at this election, and took their receipt therefor in writing, as follows: One package marked “2,300 Official Ballots, Brookline, March 16, 1904”; one package marked “2,230 Official Ballots, Brookline, March 16, 1904”; one package marked “520 Official Ballots, for Women Only, Brookline, March 16, 1904.”

The election officers stationed at the four entrances were supplied with the lists of voters, and with the official ballots taken from the packages received from the Town Clerk, with instructions to deliver such ballots only to voters whose names were found and checked on the lists.

The four ballot-boxes—as inspected and approved by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to be used at elections—were then opened in public meeting, examined by the Moderator and other election officers, and found to be empty. The register of each box was set at zero (0), the boxes locked, and the keys delivered to Willard Y. Gross, the constable appointed in charge of the ballot-boxes.

At seven minutes before seven o'clock the polls were declared open for the reception of votes for town officers, and were kept open until fifteen minutes after five o'clock in the afternoon, when, after due notice, they were declared closed.

By consent of the Moderator and Town Clerk, the ballot-boxes were opened several times during the day for the purpose of removing the ballots to be counted.

At the close of the polls the registers of the ballot-boxes read as follows: ballot-box No. 1, the "Ideal," registered 571; ballot-box No. 2, the "Ideal," registered 515; ballot-box No. 3, the "United States," registered 590; ballot-box No. 4, the "Gravity," registered 530, but this box failed six times to register the ballot, thus indicating 536 ballots to have been deposited.

The total number of ballots deposited was thus indicated to be two thousand two hundred and twelve (2,212), as follows:—

Ballot-box No. 1	571
Ballot-box No. 2	515
Ballot-box No. 3	590
Ballot-box No. 4	536
Total	2,212

The names checked on the voting lists by the Ballot Clerks at the entrances to the polling place, and by the checkers at the ballot-boxes, were counted up, compared, and found to agree, and the total number of names so checked was two thousand two hundred and twelve (2,212), of which one hundred and sixty-nine (169) were the names of women, and two thousand and forty-three (2,043) were the names of men, as follows:—

Entrance No. 1. A to D.	Men	520
	Women	51	571
Entrance No. 2. E to K.	Men	483
Entrance No. 3. L to P.	Men	553
Entrance No. 4. Q to Z.	Men	487
	Women	49	536
Total names checked			2,212

The number of names checked agreed with the number previously stated as registered by the ballot-boxes.

The Ballot Clerks reported that the number of ballots unused at the close of the polls deducted from the number received in the three packages showed that two thousand and forty-three (2,043) ballots had been delivered to men voters, and one hundred and sixty-nine (169) ballots "For School Committee Only" had been delivered to women voters.

The Moderator, Town Clerk, and Tellers then canvassed the ballots, and the whole number was two thousand two hundred and twelve (2,212), one hundred and sixty-nine (169) of which were votes of women for School Committee only, which were sorted, counted, and declaration thereof made in open town meeting, at twenty-five minutes before seven o'clock in the evening, as follows:—

WILLARD Y. GROSS, Constable.

In pursuance of the foregoing warrant, the inhabitants of the town of Brookline qualified to vote in elections met at the Town Hall in said town on Tuesday, the eighth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and four, and were called to order at six o'clock in the morning by James M. Codman, Jr., chairman of the Board of Selectmen. The Town Clerk read the warrant calling the meeting, and the return thereon of the constable who served the same upon the inhabitants.

James M. Codman, Jr., chairman of the Board of Selectmen, took charge of the meeting after the reading of the warrant and acted as presiding election officer.

The Town Hall had been fitted up as a polling place, a space railed off, in which were eighty compartments or shelves for the convenience of voters in examining and marking their ballots, and each compartment was supplied with cards of instruction and other necessary facilities. Cards of instruction and specimen ballots were also posted in different parts of the building outside of the rail; all in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts governing elections.

The arrangement of the railing was such that four entrances were provided for voters to enter the space inside the rail for the purpose of marking their ballots, with four ballot-boxes to correspond, one for each entrance. The Ballot Clerks were provided with duplicate sets of the list of registered male voters of the town, as prepared by the Registrars of Voters for use at this election. These alphabetical lists of voters were divided to correspond with the four entrances and four ballot-boxes as follows:—

The Town Clerk delivered to the presiding election officer a sealed package as received by him from the Secretary of the Commonwealth, marked "First set of Ballots, 4750, Town of Brookline," together with specimen ballots and cards of instruction, and took a receipt therefor from the presiding election officer, in conformity with law.

The presiding election officer publicly broke the seal on the package of ballots and delivered the ballots to the Ballot Clerks, Robert A. Smiley and Francis F. Muldowney, who had been duly appointed by the Selectmen.

The election officers stationed at the four entrances and four ballot-boxes were supplied with the lists of voters, and with the official ballots, with instructions to deliver such ballots only to voters whose names were found and checked on the lists at the entrances, and to allow no voter to deposit his ballot until his name was found and checked on the lists at the ballot-boxes.

The four ballot-boxes — as inspected and approved by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to be used at elections — were then opened in public meeting, examined by the election officers, and shown to be empty. The register of each box was set at zero (0), the boxes locked, and the keys delivered to Willard Y. Gross, the constable appointed in charge of the ballot-boxes.

At nine minutes past six o'clock the polls were declared open, and were kept open until thirty minutes past four o'clock in the afternoon, when, after due notice, they were declared closed.

By unanimous consent of the election officers, the ballot-boxes were opened several times during the day for the purpose of removing the ballots to be counted.

At the close of the polls the registers of the ballot-boxes read as follows:—

The Ballot Clerks reported the total number of names checked at the entrances to be three thousand five hundred and fifty-six (3556).

The election officers canvassed the ballots deposited in the ballot-boxes and the whole number was three thousand five hundred and fifty-five (3555).

REPORT.

The Selectmen submit the following report for the fiscal year ending January 31st, 1905:—

An increase in the tax rate, the first since 1896, with a simultaneous increase in the debt, and a substantial reduction in the unappropriated balance in the Treasury at the close of the year, constitute a decidedly less favorable financial showing than the town has been accustomed to. This result is due primarily to an increase of $38,000 in our State, County and Metropolitan taxes and a reduction of $40,000 in receipts from Corporation and Bank taxes, although large local expenditures, notably for school purposes and for the purchase of land near the Public Library, have been an important factor. The State, County and Metropolitan taxes are not likely to be reduced at present, but on the contrary there will probably be a further large permanent increase in all of them. Few citizens are accustomed to give much attention to these taxes, on the ground that they are beyond our control and cannot be helped, but unless they are helped, a considerable reduction in the resources available for local expenditures is inevitable.

The Town Debt.

The town debt at the end of the year was $1,620,474, an increase of $77,139.

The loans are as follows:—

For land near Public Library	$110,000 00
For new water main	40,000 00
For Harvard and Washington streets	20,000 00
For enlarging Pierce Primary School	80,000 00

All these loans bear interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent and are payable in annual proportionate payments beginning with January 1st, 1905. The street and schoolhouse loans will be extinguished in ten years, the land and water ones in twenty.

The amount of debt paid off was $172,861, and the amount which becomes payable this year is $156,161, which must be provided for by taxation. The detail of these payments follows:—

	<hr/> $1,620,474 00	<hr/> $56,497 05	<hr/> $54,728 89

The necessary appropriation for interest for the current year on debt now outstanding is $55,231.39, which includes $502.50 for overdue coupons not yet presented.

* Final payment.

More than half the debt can be paid off during the next six years and the last of it matures in 1925, so that it is for the future rather than for the past to decide how much of a burden our debt is to be. In this particular our debt is a contrast to many public debts in Massachusetts which are managed on different principles.

In order to make our bonds more attractive to purchasers the policy has been adopted of having them certified by a well-known Trust Company after the manner of corporation bonds. This not only insures to the purchaser the authenticity of the bonds, but the certificate also states that their form and legal validity have been passed on by the most expert and critical counsel. The lawyers are employed by the Trust Company and the cost to the town is about the same as the cost of a legal opinion alone has been hitherto. It is intended that all future issues of bonds shall be thus certified.

The tax rate for 1904 was $10.50, an increase of fifty cents over the previous year. The valuation was $88,274,800, an increase of $1,101,900. Of this increase $203,100 was in land and $1,673,700 in buildings, while there was a decrease in the valuation of personal property of $774,900. It is to be regretted that some heavy personal property taxpayers, for whom a low tax rate has no attractions when coupled with a high valuation, are leaving town.

Condition of Current Special Appropriations.

The land near the Public Library has been acquired, at a cost of $110,000, the amount appropriated.

The construction of the new Heath School, to pay for which money has been raised by taxation for the past three years, has been completed at a total cost of $119,335.50, and the furnishing of it has also been paid for. Final payments have been made for the renovation of the Lincoln School. The enlargement of the Pierce Primary School, for which $80,000 was borrowed, is substantially completed and the school is occupied. An appropriation of $4,500, for furnishing it, was made last December. Less than half the appropriation of $5,000 for additional furnishing at the Manual Training School has been expended, but the School Committee intend to make further purchases. The work of improving the new Heath School lot, for which $14,000 has been appropriated and $12,067.85 so far expended, is still unfinished. The new water main, for which $40,000 was borrowed, has been completed at a cost of $36,120.98. The new pumping engine, for which $39,000 was borrowed in 1902, has been completed at a total cost of $39,844.39, and the electric lighting plant at the low-service pumping station has been put in and paid for. Final payments on the covered reservoir have been made and the grading of the grounds has been completed. A tablet and some shrubs, which are contemplated, can, if finally decided upon, be managed without longer keeping open these appropriations, and the balances have not been carried forward.

Abbottsford road, Thorndike street, Clark road and Cypress place are done, but an additional appropriation is required for land damages on Cypress place. The construction of the Brookline avenue widening is to be carried out this spring, and there is a balance in the appropriation sufficient to meet the estimated cost. The land damages have been paid. No work has yet been done on Griggs road or the widening of Cottage street, and the amounts appropriated for these purposes are in the treasury.

The original appropriation for widening Harvard and Washington streets was $56,000. Towards this, $27,439.78 was paid from the general balance in the treasury in 1903-4, and $20,000 was borrowed in 1904, of which $1,623.33 remains in the treasury. Suits brought by Messrs. Talbot and Johnson and some of their tenants and by the Baptist Church are still pending.

A good deal of filling material has been purchased and placed on the easterly arm of the Y at the junction of Lee street with Boylston street, and ashes and other waste material are being deposited there by the Street department from time to time. This arm will probably be in condition for surfacing during the spring or summer and the balance of $968.35 remaining in the appropriation will be available towards the cost of opening for travel this useful bit of street.

It is expected that the freight yard on Kent street will be developed this year, as arrangements have now been completed with the Twichell estate and with the Railroad Company for getting a side track properly located and built there. There is a balance in the appropriation of $3,175.09 for this purpose.

Old special appropriations for the use of the committee on School and Library and for plans for a Schoolhouse, have lapsed. Substantially all of the $6,000 appropriated for draining the Putterham meadows have been expended.

There is a balance of $46,768.01 of the amount borrowed for the purchase of land for public playgrounds, and of $3,562.25 in that for town stable additions.

The appropriation of $250 for the use of the committee on financial relations with the State has been expended for printing.

State Tax.

The preliminary figures indicate a State tax this year of $4,000,000, compared with one of $2,500,000 last year. Our proportion of the State tax comes to $28,050 in each $1,000,000, so that a State tax of $4,000,000 means that our share will be $112,200. Last year it was $70,125. There is some prospect that the Commonwealth will this year collect a large claim against the United States Government and apply half of it towards reducing this year's State tax. This with other economies may keep the State tax down to $3,000,000, but on the other hand many large expenditures are proposed, among the largest of which is for the suppression of the Gypsy moth.

The increase in the appropriations called for in the preliminary estimates is mainly due to the decennial census and to the fact that as no provision was made for the sinking fund last year, there are two years' requirements to be met this year. Postponement of liabilities by loans and otherwise may be pleasanter for a time than paying as you go, but the day of reckoning cannot be put off forever.

County Tax.

Last year's tax for Norfolk County was $162,500, of which our proportion was $63,572.17. This year the County Commissioners estimate that a tax of $231,000 will be needed. Our proportion of this comes to $90,384.24. This great increase of $68,500 in the Norfolk County tax is caused in part by an increase of some $48,000 in appropriations, the rest being due to a reduction in the cash balance in the County Treasury, as last year's County tax was figured pretty closely. The increased appropriations mainly grow out of the fact that the new Registry of Deeds and Probate Building at Dedham is about to be finished and put into use. A beginning is this year to be made towards paying off the debt incurred for this building, and as all the money required for building it has been or is about to be borrowed, there is a substantial increase in interest payments too. The heating, lighting and maintenance of the new building cost money and the alteration and renovation of the old building made necessary by the removal of the Registries of Deeds and Probate cost more. The latter item is exceptional but the others are permanent. An exceptionally large appropriation for Highways is asked for on account of pending litigation, and the interest account is still further swollen because the County is at present required to pay interest on money borrowed for the Weymouth Fore River bridge, pending the apportionment of its cost between the County and the municipalities especially benefitted by its construction.

The debt of Norfolk county amounts to $240,000, of which $220,000 is for the Registry of Deeds and Probate building and $20,000 for furnishing it. As the contracts for the building amounted to $259,164.65 and for the furnishings to $47,212 up to January 1st, 1905, it is evident that further loans must be issued. All this debt is payable by installments of $20,000 annually, beginning in 1905.

The Fore River Bridge debt amounts to $106,000.

Metropolitan Sewer Tax.

The High-level sewer has been so far completed that the Neponset Valley and Charles River Valley sewers have been connected with it. The whole amount of bonds issued to date for the South Metropolitan sewer system, which includes all three of these sewers, is $7,702,912, and the extension of the High-level sewer through Brookline, Brighton and Newton, which must be begun soon, if not this year, will cost about $1,000,000 more. At present our proportionate share of carrying this debt is about one-fifth, but a new apportionment is to be made this year.

As the interest on Metropolitan bonds is payable semi-annually and the assessments of the municipalities are not paid to the State until December, the State Treasurer has adopted the plan of charging interest, to cover the cost to the State of borrowing temporarily the money needed to meet the semi-annual interest on the bonds. Our share of this additional interest amounts to a substantial sum, about $2,000 for this year, for sewers and parks together.

Based on the present apportionment, our tax this year has been computed at $67,753.07, but these figures cannot be depended on as likely to be even approximately correct under the new apportionment. This amount compares with previous payments as follows, the wide fluctuations being due to juggling with the premiums obtained on bonds sold:—

	1901	1902	1903	1904	1905
Sinking fund . .	$3,124 38	$5,429 45	$3,359 00	$8,359 00	$9,129 59

Metropolitan Park Tax.

The total debt of the Metropolitan Parks District up to January 1st, 1905, is $10,396,000. Our proportion of this debt now is about 6 per cent, but a new apportionment is to be made this year by a commission to be appointed by the Supreme Court. Based on the present apportionment our tax would amount to $46,624.22 this year, as compared with $41,732.98 last year, unless more bonds are issued in time to affect this year's assessments. The effect of the new apportionment cannot now be forecasted.

In addition to new parks and boulevards, the expense of building the Charles River dam and improving the Charles River basin is to be added to the Metropolitan Parks District debt after deducting so much of it as may be found to represent the cost of a new bridge between Boston and Cambridge, and a part of the cost of a bridge across the Mystic river, between Somerville and Medford, is to be assessed upon the Metropolitan Parks District.

Appropriations.

The amount of the annual appropriations recommended for the current financial year, as shown below, is $1,314,355.58, while the total amounts charged against the taxes and receipts of previous years, including expenditures from special appropriations when not borrowed, were —

$1,241,481.78,	$1,289,654.16	$1,317,249.81

The fact that the ordinary appropriations already asked for are nearly equal to the whole amount charged to income last year, taken in connection with the reduced balance in the Treasury and the probable receipts, makes it clear that special appropriations of any considerable amount can only be provided for by borrowing or increasing the tax rate. The great increase in the regular appropriations is mainly in the State, County and Metropolitan taxes, although there is also a considerable increase in the appropriation asked for the schools. The State tax may turn out to be smaller than here provided for. The borrowing capacity of the town under the municipal indebtedness act, although reduced, is still large, amounting to $1,367,470.00.

The net expenditures from all sources, after deducting payments on account of maturing debt, compare as follows :—

$1,281,293.56	$1,413,754.98	$1,379,029.85

The appropriations recommended for the current year are presented below in tabular form, both in groups and in detail. The formal vote authorizing and limiting the expenditure of the various appropriations will be presented later.

The amounts recommended for Schools, Library, Water, Parks, and Forestry are recommended by the several boards having those matters in charge, and have not received the independent judgment of the Selectmen.

Highway Department.

The severe weather in the first three months of the fiscal year, February, March and April, 1904, made necessary a very unusual expenditure for removing snow and ice, and correspondingly reduced the amount of money available for street improvements and repairs. For the whole fiscal year the snow and ice expenditure exceeded that of last year by more than $8,000, and it was nearly double that of 1901-2.

It is desirable that before this year's work on the streets is planned, some idea should be obtained as to the proposed changes, to be made in separating our sewer and surface-water systems. If streets are to be dug up for laying additional pipes, it is important that this should be done before, rather than just after they have been newly surfaced.

Fire Department.

The fire department has been efficiently maintained under the direction of the Fire Commissioner. There have been more fires than ever before recorded. The new water main from Fisher Hill to Beacon street is a great protection to the northern end of the town against danger from a serious fire there, but the extreme south end of the town near the West Roxbury line, still lacks the high water pressure which an extension of the high service system through South street from Newton street to Grove street would afford.

The fire engine houses and the apparatus are in good condition, needing but little more than the ordinary repairs and renewals which are constantly required to keep them up to the highest standard. The discipline and temper of the men is excellent. The Commissioner now has under him, a chief and an assistant chief, six captains, eight lieutenants, two enginemen, twenty-eight permanent men, a chief's driver and thirty-one call men. The number of call men has recently been reduced from forty-three to thirty-one, and all call men are now required to sleep in the engine houses. This is in line with the practice in other places. The saving effected by reducing the number of call men has made possible the employment of an additional permanent man, and the Commissioner recommends that the appropriation be so made as to provide for still another. Permanent men are, of course, more certainly to be depended on than call men, but even permanent men leave the houses for their meals, and there are many hours in each day when an alarm of fire finds the apparatus with less than its full complement of permanent men.

The appropriation asked for by the Commissioner compares with the expenditure of the previous year as follows, allowance for the new permanent men asked for being included:—

	Recommended 1905	Expended 1904
Salaries	$57,661 00	$56,442 24
Maintenance of equipment	8,306 00	7,949 70

Contingencies	1,000 00	572 00
	$74,127 00	$70,478 08

As all the items of expenditure are liberally estimated for, it seems to the Selectmen that the $1,000 asked for contingencies is unnecessary, and that it would be better to ask for more money later in the year in case any large expenditure not now foreseen should become expedient.

Police Department.

The prospective removal of the stable occupied by Chase's Express brings up the question of building a stable connected with the police station for the use of the department. Such a stable if properly built and maintained would not be objectionable to anybody and would add much to the efficiency of the police force. The development of the land acquired by the town at so great a cost must, however, be considered as a whole, and it would therefore be premature to decide the stable question until other plans are more advanced.

There were nine cases of housebreaking during the year, a sufficient reason for approving the recommendation of the Chief, that an additional man be assigned to the detective force, his place to be filled by the appointment of a new man.

Fire and Police Alarm Telegraph, Poles and Wires.

A good idea of the varied business and activity of this department is given in the report of the Superintendent. Besides the maintenance in effective condition of both the police and fire alarm telegraph systems and the supervision of the condition and location of all poles and wires, some new apparatus has been put in as contemplated when last year's appropriation was made. Keyless doors were placed on all the fire alarm boxes not already so equipped, at a cost of $665. A new registering machine for the police table has been procured. An additional police box was placed on Babcock street and another is recommended this year to be located on Washington street near Fairbanks street. Some further work is contemplated this year in the way of moving fire and police boxes to special iron posts with which they are connected by underground wires. A considerable amount of new wire must be obtained to replace worn out and damaged wire in the underground conduits, for wire wears out even in underground conduits.

No underground work was done by the Street Railway Company, but the removal of overhead feed and return wires on Washington and Boylston streets is promised for this year, leaving only those on Cypress street between Boylston street and the car house for another year. The Gas Company has buried its electric light wires on Beacon street as far as Dean road and will continue the work to the town line this year. The plans of the Telephone Company for underground work are not yet developed.

Lighting Streets.

The price of arc-lights was reduced one-half a cent per night per light — to 34 cents, in consideration of the town not giving notice of the termination of the existing contract under the clause permitting such notice to be given March 30th, 1904. The contract now runs till 1907.

The appropriation required to maintain existing lights at present prices with a suitable allowance for new lights, comes to $56,500, computed as follows:—

242 Arc-lights @ 34 cents per night per light, or $124.10 per light per year	$30,032 20
17 Parkway lights @ 33 cents per night per light, or $120.45 per light per year	2,047 65
1 Half-arc light @ 20 cents per night	73 00
Estimate for new arc-lights	597 15
	<hr/>	$32,750 00
799 Welsbach lights, at an average cost of $28.50 per light per year	$22,771 50
Estimate for new lights	978 50

Sewers and Drains.

The general plan of the proposed high-level Metropolitan sewer which is to be built across Brookline has been indicated by the Metropolitan Sewerage Commission and it is plain that it must soon be built. The work of separating our sewer and surface-water systems to be undertaken in connection with the construction of this Metropolitan sewer is being planned by the Town Engineer, but as yet nothing has been finally decided upon.

Legislation.

The Legislature of 1904 passed an act (Chapter 327) providing for pensioning permanent men in the fire and police departments of towns which accept the act by a two-thirds vote at an annual meeting and an article will be inserted in the warrant for the annual meeting under which this matter can be acted upon.

An act (Chapter 157) was passed authorizing Brookline to establish a public gymnasium.

The appropriation to enable the Metropolitan Sewerage Board to determine lines and grades of the proposed sewer across Brookline was made.

Application has been made to this year's Legislature for an act authorizing the town to sell a portion of the old Reservoir property.

The bill permitting towns to assume and pay their Metropolitan liabilities has been introduced.

Exterior Repairs of Town Buildings.

The roof and conductors on the Town Hall have been repaired and the fence on the roof has been painted, and a fire escape has been placed at the end of the building on Pierce street. These matters, with repairs of the outer doors and walls, have cost about $500.00.

Painting, mending roofs and doors and walls, and repairing drives, at engine houses have cost some $800.00.

Repairs of roofs and conductors on schoolhouses, especially the Runkle and Devotion schools, have been made, which with $178.40 for setting glass, $50.00 for the plans for changing the High School tower, and a few minor items, have cost in all a little more than $800.00.

The roof of the town stable has been repaired at an expense of more than $100.00.

The house adjoining the High School has been painted outside and some changes of plumbing and interior painting done for the tenant and the same have been charged to this appropriation, amounting in all to about $250.00

Minor repairs have been done at the Police Station, Almshouse and Hospitals.

The whole expenditure was $2,623.83 and an appropriation of $3,000.00 is recommended, the same amount that was appropriated last year.

Suits Against the Town.

The cases of the Town of Dedham, S. M. Weld and F. J. Stimson, against the town growing out of the construction of a dam in Dedham by the Water department are still pending, as are the cases brought by the mill owners on Mother Brook for damages caused by the taking of water.

The cases of Thomas J. Kelley and others for the reduction of betterments levied on Chestnut street brook channel were settled by the payment to the town of $700.00.

Suits growing out of the Harvard and Washington street widening brought by George N. Talbot and some of his tenants, Harris R. Head, William Y. Wadleigh, Willis E. Files, Patrick Johnson and William Sundell, have not yet been heard. The case of Mary I. Wason growing out of the same widening was settled by the payment of $9,000.00, and the case of Francis E. Fillebrown by the payment of $906.80. A settlement has also been effected with Patrick Johnson for damages to his own house and lot on Harvard street for $1,800. The case of George Brooks and others was heard by an auditor who assessed damages at $5,122.48. This case is now pending in the Superior Court. There are no other land damage cases resulting from this widening.

The suit of Mary C. Eichorn for damages caused by taking land near Newton street for sewer purposes was settled for $525.00.

In the land damage case of William A. Miller for land taken for the Washington street playground, it has been agreed that the purchaser of the land from Mr. Miller is to accept the award and nothing remains to be done but the dismissal of the suit and the payment of the award.

The case of Paul vs. Mahon brought against a patrolman for false arrest is to be settled by the payment of one dollar and costs.

The accident case of Mary Crowley reported on last year has not yet been tried, and the accident case of Nicholas J. Larkin in which there was a verdict for the town, has not yet been argued in the Supreme Court.

Changes.

There were four patrolmen appointed to the force during the year, one resignation and one death.

The appointments, all under civil service rules, are as follows:—

Donald S. MacKay	May 1, 1904
Matthew Moreland	May 9, 1904
Alexander B. Johnston	May 23, 1904

*Mounted.

Donald S. MacKay resigned May 9th, and Matthew Moreland was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Patrolman Joseph McMurray died October 17th, and William P. Downs was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Patrolman Joseph McMurray.

It is with profound sorrow and regret that I record the death of Patrolman Joseph McMurray, which occurred October 17, 1904. It is needless for me to narrate the details of the shocking tragedy which resulted in the death of Patrolman McMurray, which are familiar to you, nor to eulogize his splendid character, so well known. The generous response to the appeal to establish a memorial fund for the benefit of his family, shows in a marked degree the high esteem in which he was held by the citizens of this town, and those with whom he had business or social relations in other communities.

Patrolman McMurray was appointed to the force May 1st, 1893, and always patrolled the route to which he was first assigned, performing his manifold duties there in a fearless, energetic, but never oppressive manner.

The work of the department for the year is shown in the following tables:—

191 juvenile offenders have been arrested during the year, two more than for the year 1903-04. They were disposed of as follows:—

Reprimanded and released	51
Arrested for police of other places	5

Arraigned in court	135

Few of our citizens realize the large number of children residing in the town and on our borders; a conservative estimate would place the number at five thousand, there being some thirty-six hundred of school age in this town, and pilfering, particularly of fruit, which is the cause of the largest number of complaints, is not confined to any one class.

The question of dealing with this class of offenders is a grave question. I have endeavored to exercise judgment in the matter of complaints against juveniles and have caused prosecution to be made only in cases which in my opinion were deserving of punishment.

Patrol Wagon and Ambulance Service.

Number wagon calls for arrests	224
Number of ambulance calls	99
Number of miles run by patrol wagon	817
Number of miles run by ambulance	1,012

In order to increase the efficiency of this service, I beg to recommend that a stable for the use of this department be erected on land now owned by the town, on which the stable formerly occupied by the Chase Express Company now stands.

Under the present arrangement for the care of the horses of the department, delays in responding to calls for the police, either for arrests, alarms of fire, ambulance, or for any emergency where they may be needed, are unavoidable, and delays, if only of a few minutes, seriously interfere with the service of the department.

Police Signal System.

The police signal system has given, in the main, excellent service; some difficulty was experienced for a while caused by induction from the wires of the Electric Light Company, but the trouble has been remedied by Superintendent Davis. I recommend that one box be added to the system this year, the same to be located on Washington street near Fairbanks street.

The locations of the signal boxes are as follows : —

Circuit No. 1.

- 121 Tappan street, opposite Gardner road.
- 122 Warren street, corner Cottage street.

Crime.

The most serious crime which has occurred during the year or at any time in the history of the department, was committed October 17th, when Harry F. Boles murdered his wife and Patrolman Joseph McMurray. Boles has been indicted by the grand jury, and is now in the county jail at Dedham, awaiting trial.

There have been nine cases of house-breaking during the year, in two cases of which the loss was considerable. A series of petty stealing from the basement rooms of apartment houses has caused both the occupants and police much annoyance, but the loss, money entirely, has been small. Several stores were entered during the early evening or night-time by boys who have been arrested, two of whom are now serving sentence.

Detective Bureau.

The detective bureau of this department has performed the duties assigned to it in a faithful and persistent manner. The successful investigation of "Settlement Cases" by the bureau has been the means of saving the town many hundreds of dollars.

In view of the increased amount of work which this branch of the service is called upon to perform, I recommend that one more patrolman be detailed to assist Captain Paige. Should this meet with your favor it will necessitate the appointment of one additional patrolman to the force.

The following report of Captain Paige will show the work of the bureau for the year :—

To Alonzo W. Corey, Chief of Police :—

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully submit the following report of the work done by the detective bureau for the year ending January 31st, 1905 :—

ALBERT S. PAIGE,

Complimentary Mention.

During the year the following named members of the force have performed meritorious acts, calling for special mention:—

Captain Albert S. Paige, Sergeant Joseph J. O'Connell, Sergeant Edward J. Mealey, Special Officer Stitt and Patrolman Dugan, for heroism displayed in arresting Harry F. Boles for murder, October 17th.

Patrolman John Crory for daring horsemanship and rare judgment shown in stopping a pair of runaway horses on Newton street, November 25th, and preventing what otherwise would have resulted in serious injury to several persons, if not loss of life.

The Force.

The discipline of the force has been excellent, the officers and patrolmen have been vigilant and energetic in the discharge of their duties, and to them I desire to return my grateful acknowledgment for the valuable work performed.

Conclusion.

My thanks are due to the Justices, Clerk and Probation Officer of the Municipal Court of Brookline, for valuable advice and assistance rendered, and last but not least, to Patrolman Charles C. Watterson for clerical work voluntarily performed.

Respectfully,

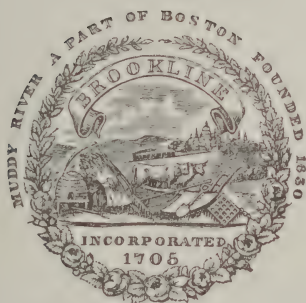

ALONZO W. COREY,
Chief of Police.

TOWN OF BROOKLINE.

REPORT
FIRE COMMISSIONER
OF
MASSACHUSETTS,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING JANUARY 31, 1905.

THE RIVERDALE PRESS: C. A. W. SPENCER.
1905.

REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE FIRE COMMISSIONER,
342 WASHINGTON STREET, BROOKLINE, February 7, 1905.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN,— I herewith respectfully submit my sixth annual report of the services of this department for the year ending January 31st, 1905.

We have had the largest number of fires during the past year in the history of the department.

Our houses are in good repair.

Our horses are in good condition, with a few exceptions.

Our apparatus is in good condition, and will need only the ordinary repairs.

During the year the following changes have been made:—

April 30th, 1904.—Hose 2 altered over with rubber tires and made a two-horse hitch.

March 25th, 1904.—Combination 3 made a three-horse hitch.

August 10th, 1904.—New rubber-tired wagon put into commission for Hose 1.

February 1st.—Old system of call men abandoned, and all call men hereafter to sleep in stations nights, to be on duty from 10 P.M. to 6.30 A.M. This will strengthen the department, as most of our serious fires occur in the night, and by this system the companies turn out with their full strength at the start.

Recommendations.

I would recommend that the sum of one thousand dollars be appropriated for the purchase of hose.

I would also recommend that the sum of nine hundred and ten dollars be appropriated for one additional permanent man for the Holyhood district.

I would also recommend that the town authorize the Water Board to put in the high service system in South street, as the present system is wholly inadequate for fire service.

Fire Record.

During the past year the department has responded to 206 calls, viz: 75 bell alarms and 131 still and telephone alarms. For four of these fires a second alarm was rung, and for two of them, a third alarm. The causes of these alarms were as follows:—

TOWN OF BROOKLINE. BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

REPORT
BUILDING COMMISSIONER
OF BROOKLINE,
MASSACHUSETTS,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING JANUARY 31, 1905.

BROOKLINE:
THE RIVERDALE PRESS: C. A. W. SPENCER.
1905.

REPORT OF THE BUILDING COMMISSIONER.

BROOKLINE, MASS., January 31st, 1905.

To the Board of Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN,—I herewith submit the sixteenth annual report of the Building Department.

New Buildings, etc.

If it had not been for the large amount of business carried over from last year into the spring of this, 1904 would have been a very quiet year in this department. As it was, we had the smallest amount of building for years, although some of them required a greater amount of inspection than is ordinarily necessary.

The Building Law is answering the purpose for which it was compiled, very satisfactorily, and as well as can be expected from any law which covers so much ground and contains so much that is new. I hope after another year's trial to be able to make some suggestions to the town, that if adopted, will eliminate much unnecessary matter while preserving the principle. I believe the State Legislature is at this time considering changes and additions to the State Building Law, which makes it advisable for the town to do nothing until the Legislature has taken action.

Our inspections of elevators in co-operation with the insurance companies are progressing very satisfactorily, a large majority of the owners welcoming suggestions and cheerfully making needed changes.

The owners of hotels, lodging houses, public halls, etc., in almost every case have completed the changes as called for by the State Inspectors and this department, and I have to report that the buildings of these classes are in a very satisfactory condition.

The following is a list of the buildings erected during the year :—

Plumbing.

The report of the Plumbing Inspector is as follows:—

Mr. Ernest Lyon, Building Commissioner:—

DEAR SIR,— I herewith submit my twelfth annual report, for the year ending January 31st, 1905.

The whole number of applications received for permits to do plumbing was 237. Of this number 25 were for brick and stone buildings, 56 were for wood and frame buildings, 126 were for additions and repairs, and 30 were for improving the drainage.

The aggregate cost of the above plumbing was $105,392.00, which is somewhat below the average for corresponding periods.

During the year, water fixtures have been installed in the various buildings as follows:—

Water closets	424
Baths	315
Bowls	365
Sinks	319
Trays	215
Other fixtures	22
Total	1,660

Tests and inspections have been made as follows:—

Water tests	258
Peppermint tests	37
Other tests	10
Total	305
Inspections, 1,130.

In the regular work of inspection, it has seemed advisable to adhere to the plan followed for several years past, which is about as follows: On receipt of notification of beginning work, a conference is held with the foreman on the work, the details of which are carefully gone over, and such construction adopted as the regulations require and existing conditions will permit. Frequent and regular visits are made during the progress of the work, the result of which is to reduce the number of changes and corrections to a minimum. This method necessarily involves a large amount of labor, but the saving in annoyance and expense, and the gain in the sanitary efficiency of the work, more than compensates for the time and labor involved.

In anticipation of the time when by the terms of Chapter 383 of the Acts of 1903, all property owners will be called upon to separate storm-water from sewage, all new plumbing has been designed to discharge sewage into the sewers and storm-water into the drains where two channels are provided. In the case of a combined system when the sewer only has been provided, the sewage has been separated from the storm-water in all plumbing work to a point about ten feet outside the buildings to facilitate future separation.

The existing By-Law which has only been in effect since May 22, 1903, appears to be fairly satisfactory; its operations have been closely watched during the past year with a view to discover its weak points and to suggest such changes and additions as would make it clearer and more efficient. Events have recently transpired which without doubt will have an important bearing on nearly all matters relating to plumbing and house sanitation, and which are the outcome of numerous appeals and bills presented to the Legislature for additions and amendments to the Building and Plumbing Laws now in force throughout the state. The report of the special commission appointed by Governor Bates to consider the whole matter was submitted to the State Legislature on the 10th of January. We have been unable to obtain a copy of this important report, and up to the present our information in regard to its provisions is limited to the newspapers' abstract which simply states that the plumbing requirements have been made more definite. Until more information is had it would be manifestly unwise to formulate any changes in our By-Laws at the present time.

Acknowledgment is hereby made of valuable assistance rendered by Mr. T. F. Cook, clerk of the Building Department, in the work of this division.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL DUFFLEY,

Inspector of Plumbing.

The licenses of six master and twenty journeymen plumbers have been renewed as required by statute. Fees amounting to $16.00 were collected for plumbers' licenses and remitted to the Town Treasurer.

Report of the Examiners of Plumbers.

The Board of Examiners of Plumbers submit their report for the year 1904.

The Board organized by choice of Horace James as chairman, and Michael Duffley as clerk.

The Board held three meetings for the examination of applicants for licenses, on the following dates : March 28th, April 7th, and August 4th. Of the three applicants examined, two were successful in passing the required examination. James A. Pinner was certified to the Building Commissioner to be licensed as a master plumber, and James J. Murphy as a journeyman plumber.

HORACE JAMES,

ERNEST LYON,

MICHAEL DUFFLEY,

Board of Examiners of Plumbers.

Gas-Fitting.

641 applications were made for gas-fitting during the year, a large decrease from last year. They were divided as follows :—

New buildings piped for gas	74
Old buildings piped for gas	12
Monarch heaters installed	3
Gas engines installed	1
Gas meters connected	254
Gas stoves connected	246
Buildings in which fixtures were hung and tested	98
Permits granted on application	627
Permits cancelled	14
Number of tests taken	814

There have been a few attempts to evade the law, but a refusal to grant further permits to the offending Master Fitter, has been sufficient without resorting to the courts.

The Examining Board of Gas-Fitters certified to me two persons for master licenses, one of whom decided after being examined to take out his license in the city of Boston. The license fee of the other was paid over to the Town Treasurer. The expenses of the Board were $15.00, paid to the third member, as required by law.

Report of the Examiners of Gas-Fitters.

The following report of the Examiners of Gas-fitters for the year ending January 31st, 1905, is respectfully submitted:—

The Board organized with the choice of Horace James as chairman, and Alfred G. Sanborn as clerk.

Three meetings were held for the examination of applicants for licenses, on the following dates: March 28th, June 27th, and July 11th. Three applicants were examined, two being successful in passing the required examination. William A. Courtney and Walter Devine were certified to the Building Commissioner to be licensed as master gas-fitters.

ERNEST LYON,

ALFRED G. SANBORN,

Board of Examiners of Gas-Fitters.

AND MEASURES.

BROOKLINE, MASS., February 9th, 1905.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN,--I herewith respectfully submit my sixth annual report of the services of this department for the year ending January 31st, 1905.

[illegible]

One hundred and two places of business were visited. and 1,513 scales, weights and measures were inspected and sealed or condemned, for which fees amounting to $65.58 were collected and paid to the Town Treasurer in accordance with chapter 62, section 35, of the Revised Laws, while there remains uncollected the sum of $2.63. The rest of the work was brought to the office and sealed free of cost as the law requires.

In consequence of the thirty-two visits made upon complaint, two dry measures, one scale and six liquid measures were condemned, five scales condemned for use until repairs had been made, ten scales were re-adjusted or repaired by the Sealer to conform with the legal requirements, while in eight cases restitution was made by the dealers complained of. Eighteen warning notices were sent to store-keepers and peddlers, and to one dealer, who had been previously warned, a notice of prosecution was served, which was subsequently withdrawn under conditions laid down by your Sealer.

As a comparison of this report will show, the services of this department are being utilized by the public more each year, and although a number of the complaints received have been found to be of imaginary origin, yet in the majority of cases more or less grave errors and omissions were found and corrected.

The town hay scales, those used at the Bath House, and the government's scales at the post-offices were inspected, adjusted and sealed during the year.

As Measurer of Wood and Bark, I have measured thirteen and one-half cords of wood, six cords of manure, and one load of loam. One and one-quarter cords of the wood was done upon request and the fee of fifty cents collected and paid to the Town Treasurer, and two smaller lots of split wood was certified to as being short and restitution was made.

As Inspector of Petroleum, I wish to again call attention to the need of some by-law which would prevent dealers from the careless storing of gasoline. They seem prone to store their gasoline either on top or beside their kerosene tanks, and as these commodities are usually kept in cellars where artificial light is used, it is dangerous to both life and property. There is now no authority under which to act, but several have heeded suggestions given them.

As gasoline suitable for fuel for automobiles must be of seventy-four or seventy-six test, and the commercial gasoline is but seventy-two, your Inspector has had several requests from citizens to make tests of the quality sold them. Pending a better knowledge of the laws relating to the duties of an Inspector of Petroleum, I have made four tests (charging the applicants the actual cost of such tests) and found one sample below the requirements as billed the consumer, which resulted in an exchange of the barrel for the quality desired.

There have been many complaints during the year regarding short-weight and undersized loaves of bread, and it might be well to explain that the action taken by the Baker's Association of Boston (whose members, with one exception, supply all bread sold in the town) practically eliminates the supervision of its weight. Rather than raise the price, they decided last winter to reduce the weight, a change less noticeable to the purchaser, and in order to be exempt from prosecution, issued a sign to be placed in the retailers' stores as follows: 1-4 loaves five cents, 3-4 loaves ten cents; thus where the law says that a loaf shall weight 32 oz. and may be sold in 1-4, 1-2, and 3-4 loaves, a ten cent loaf may weigh but 24 oz., and not be in violation of the statutes.

The inspection of coal for delivery in Brookline has been most thoroughly done, and although five loads were found whose certificates were in violation of the legal requirements, it was not thought advisable on account of each being a first offence to take action against the dealers, other than to warn them and report the violation to the State Deputy Sealer, which warning prevented a repetition of the offence. It was not thought upon an examination of these loads that they were short weight, but the certificates were not signed by a qualified sworn weigher, as the law directs.

I desire to point out that in order to retain the good results accomplished, a constant inspection is necessary, and it is hoped that the citizens will co-operate with this department by reporting any errors or omissions upon the certificates issued them by the coal dealers. The present laws regarding the delivery of coal may be in a measure responsible for the continued high price of that commodity, but they prevent unscrupulous dealers from giving fraudulent weight or charging for screenage, in order that they may, by giving low prices, secure contracts that would otherwise be placed with their more honest competitors. It tends to a more honorable competition among the dealers, and is, therefore, a protection to the purchasing public, as well as to those dealers whose methods of weighing have proven correct.

Although both the Deputy and myself have had some unpleasantness with coal dealers, agents or drivers, it is a pleasure to record the fact that the dealers have promptly furnished us with any information desired from them and rectified any errors in the filling out of their certificates when called to their attention, and in other ways have shown a marked regard for the law. The Deputy Sealer, Mr. Robert A. Smiley, upon whom falls the larger part of the coal inspection work, has, as last year, done most efficient and conscientious work, and the department is fortunate in having had his services. It might be well to state that Mr. Smiley's compensation from the town covers only the work of inspecting coal, and all other services rendered the department is work which is incumbent upon your Sealer and is paid for by him, as the Sealer's duties in other departments of the town's service sometimes make this necessary.

Mr. D. V. S. Palmer, the State Deputy Sealer, has made two official visits during the year and has expressed his approval of the work as it is being done in Brookline.

I wish to acknowledge the courtesy and assistance of Mr. Robert A. Smiley, and of the town officials and citizens who have aided me in the discharge of my duties.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLARD E. WARD,

Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Streets.

The easterly branch of Lee street at its junction with Boylston street has been partially filled under a contract with Mr. T. J. Kelley, at a cost of $1460.87. The surfacing of this branch can be done during the ensuing year, and will probably be of much public convenience.

In the widening of the part of Harvard street between Washington and School streets, the moving of the brick block at the corner of School and Harvard streets, which was begun in the fall of 1903, was completed Jan. 13th, 1904. Owing to the severity of the winter it was impracticable to begin the work of underpinning until March 14th. The work of transferring the building to the new foundation was successfully done and the repairs incidental to moving were completed early in June.

The roadway of the part of Clark road between Sumner and Cotswold roads, was surfaced with seven inches of macadam, and the northerly and southerly walks with twelve and eight inches respectively of cinders, at a total cost of $5,886.26, of which $2,498.75 was contributed by the abutters.

Plans were prepared for a subway, also for a footbridge across the tracks of the Boston & Albany railroad between Station and Pearl streets.

Numerous designs for a transfer station in Brookline Village have been prepared.

Much time has been spent upon plans for the improvement of Reservoir lane, also for the abolition of the grade crossing of the lane with the railroad.

Plans, estimates and reports have been prepared for many other street improvements and extensions.

Considerable time has been expended in preparing a list of all the public streets and paths, together with their location, date of acceptance, length and width. This list is published in the report of the Superintendent of Streets.

I desire to reiterate the paragraph in my last report on the subject of street numbering. Much remains to be done before all the houses in town shall be numbered in accordance with the plans made for that purpose.

Sewers and Drains.

A map and profile has been received from the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage Board showing the location, elevation and size of the high-level sewer which will eventually be extended across Brookline. The sewer will be laid through Perkins street, in Jamaica Plain, will be seven feet in diameter through Chestnut street, six feet six inches by seven feet through Kendall and Cypress streets, Brington road across Cypress street playground and Greenough street, and six feet three inches by six feet six inches in Washington, Park, Winchester and Columbia streets.

When this sewer is extended all the territory lying to the westward, as far as the divide, will drain directly into it and discharge by gravity at Nut Island, in Quincy. The territory to the eastward, and between it and the Boston line, will continue to drain into the present Metropolitan sewer and will flow to and be lifted by the pumping station on Ward street, in Roxbury, to a point in the high-level system under Parker Hill, from which it will also flow by gravity to the Nut Island outlet.

It will simplify and considerably reduce the cost of the separation of sewage and storm water, upon which work I assume the town is about to enter, and to the study of which considerable time has been given, if the high-level sewer is extended in the near future.

The Village brook channel seven feet wide by six feet six inches high, in Strathmore road, from Clinton path for a distance of 560 feet westward, was completed during the summer, the work being done by the town and paid for jointly by the town and Mr. E. G. A. Isenbeck. The dimensions of the existing channel and culverts on the line of this brook between Sumner road and Chestnut Hill avenue are such that further improvements of it should be discouraged excepting by beginning the work near Sumner road. Below Sumner road the channel is of ample size.

The drainage of Putterham meadows, which has been under consideration for some time past, was carried out this year. These meadows have an area of about seventy-five acres, are mostly owned by the town, are practically level, have been either entirely or very nearly submerged a large part of each year, and with their rank vegetation have created ideal conditions for the propagation of mosquitos. Open channels ± 10450 feet in length have been excavated so that with a small amount of work each year in keeping the ditches free, there is not likely to be any further trouble with stagnant water, especially if branch ditches are constructed to drain wet land owned by private parties. The appropriation for this work was $6000 and its cost $4982.05.

As the outlet was through a culvert under Hammond street which was likely to prove too small in time of freshet, it was decided to build a new culvert of concrete masonry, its dimensions being seven feet wide by six feet six inches high by eighty feet in length, and pay for the same in part from the unexpended balance of the Putterham meadows appropriation. The cost of this culvert was $1307.20.

A sewer assessment of $410.11 having been levied by the city of Boston on land owned by the town in Brighton and used as a gravel pit, a hearing was granted by the Street Commissioners to Mr. James of your Board and the writer, and payment of said assessment was deferred until the sewer shall be used.

A report was prepared by me on the subject of lateral sewers owned and used by private parties and connected with public sewers, but on which no sewer assessments have been paid.

The Town Engineer attended several hearings at the State House before a special committee appointed by the Governor under the authority of Resolve 98, of the Acts of 1904, "to investigate local sewerage systems within the Metropolitan Sewerage District."

Park Maintenance.

In addition to the regular work of maintenance, the cost of which is given in the appended table, considerable special work has been done.

DYMOKE STREET. As a part of the purchase price of the Amory Playground the town, before 1 Sept., 1906, was to construct Dymoke street along its westerly border from Beacon street to Freeman street. The work of rough grading, costing $2,363.34, was done during the summer, but the work of surfacing was deferred, partly to allow time for the consolidation of the heavy filling and partly to permit the laying of sewer, water and gas pipes. This latter work is now done and the street can be finished when ordered. My estimate for this work is $3,600.

The part of the Amory Playground adjoining Dymoke street has been roughly graded to adapt it to the grade of the new street, but additional work in the way of loam, manuring, seeding and planting remains to be done, the cost of which I estimate at $1,700.

At Reservoir Park the walk around the Reservoir has been surfaced with stone dust, a new walk graded from Warren street to the top of the embankment near the lower gate house, a new entrance laid out from Dudley street and considerable planting done. The walls of the brook which flows lengthwise of the Reservoir grounds on the Dudley street side are in bad condition and allowance was made in the last appropriation for rebuilding a part of them. No work was done, however, as it became apparent that the first step should be the adoption of a comprehensive plan for treatment of the entire brook, which has not yet been done.

At the Washington Street Playground a large amount of filling has been done with ashes and waste material and a small amount purchased from the contractor for the new Pierce Primary School building.

In the last appropriation there was an allowance of $400 for gymnastic apparatus which was to consist of swings, parallel bars and giant strides. In the early part of the season a set of twelve swings was installed at the Brookline Avenue Playground, Lincoln Primary, Parsons and Sewall School grounds. The swings proved so popular that it was decided to erect an additional set at the two former places, making seventy-two in all. The appropriation having become exhausted, no additional work was done.

There was an allowance of $500 in the appropriation for granite drinking fountains, but satisfactory plans for the same were not received until late in the year. This fact, together with a break-down of the turning machinery, delayed their completion until it was too late to erect them this season. The foundations, however, were put in and other work done so that a fountain can be set up in the early spring at the Brookline Avenue Playground, Cypress Street Playground and the Lincoln Primary School.

The iron foot-bridge over the Boston and Albany railroad at Carlton street, used as an entrance to the Parkway, has been thoroughly cleaned and painted two coats.

Heath School or Reed Lot.

All the grading originally contemplated has been finished except the filling of the old barnyard near Boylston street and that contingent upon the position and elevation of the northeasterly line of Reservoir lane when it is improved.

A greater depth of loam than was obtainable from the land, or, as yet, has been obtained elsewhere, is desirable in order to secure good turf on the playground and good results from the planting. Considerable of the planting, however, can be done in the spring.

Maintenance of stable and equipment	8,926 40
Superintendence and office expenses	4,608 59
Total net expended	<hr/> $82,486 23

For other details of this expenditure, reference is made to the reports of the Town Accountant and the Town Treasurer, which show the same result, but in different forms.

Mr. Fred B. Richardson was appointed Assistant Superintendent of Streets, and has continued to perform his duties in an acceptable manner.

Mr. Daniel G. Lacy was appointed clerk and stenographer on June 20th, and since that time the office has been kept open all the time during business hours, and its work has been much facilitated thereby. A desk, typewriter, and a filing cabinet have been bought, and the business of the office is now conducted in a much more satisfactory manner.

The stable equipment has been increased by the purchase of three new single carts and one snow plow, a new driving wagon for the Superintendent, and a new express wagon and harness for jobbing and sidewalk work. One work horse was exchanged, and one driving horse was bought; the other driving horse was used in "mosquito" work during the summer season, and has been kept since for extra service. The whole number of horses now owned by the department is thirty-two, three of which are still kept in the roller shed at the Devotion street yard.

The amount expended for the removal of snow, and for winter work in general, was larger during the past financial year than ever before in the history of the department. The amount set apart for this purpose for the whole year was expended during February and March, and the amount necessary for the present season's work was obtained only by deferring certain work of paving and resurfacing which might have been advantageously done.

The storage lot on Kent was filled practically to the grade given by the Town Engineer with ashes and other clean filling. The building of the side-track was delayed by questions about the title, but these are now settled, and at the special town meeting held February 1st, 1905, authority was given to make an agreement with the railroad company for side-track facilities, and the work will probably be done early in the coming season. The lot has already served a useful purpose as a temporary storage place for material. We have been able during the past year to purchase gravel delivered on the street at reasonable figures, but as the quantity which can be thus obtained is very uncertain, we should put ourselves in a position to deal with the railroad company as soon as possible.

The work of resurfacing Beacon street was continued last season and by next fall the whole street should be in excellent condition. The work of repaving the gutters should be continued, and in this connection I would suggest, that as fast as the gutters are repaved, the tree lawns should be regraded. The bridle path has been dug over so much for laying water pipes and underground conduits, that the surface is no longer fit for the purpose for which it was intended, and during the coming season it should receive a new top of loose screened gravel.

The question of improved pavements is receiving much of our attention, and estimates of the cost of doing this kind of work in many places are being prepared. When any considerable amount is involved a special appropriation should be made, as the regular appropriation is none too large for maintenance. It would be unwise however to do much in the way of smoother and more durable pavements, until the plans for separating the storm water from the sewage are completed, and much of the work of laying the new drains is done.

The guide boards heretofore reported to the town are all maintained, and seem to be all that are needed.

During the year permits were issued as follows:—

Brookline Gas Light Company	302
New England Telephone and Telegraph Company . . .	65
Sewer connections	90
Occupying streets for building purposes	81
Crossing sidewalks	84
Moving buildings	1
All other purposes	74
Total	697

The permits heretofore granted from the office of the Selectmen are now issued from this office, and no person or corporation is allowed to open or obstruct any public way without a permit, except the Water department. It would be well if the Water department also was required to take out permits, or at least to notify the Highway department of its intended operations.

Street Crossings.

In addition to the usual amount of repaving, new street crossings of granite flagging and small blocks were laid at the following places : —

- Across Alton place at Littell road.
 - “ Monmouth street at Hawes street.
 - “ Kent street at Colchester street.
 - “ Colchester street at Kent street.
 - “ Cypress place at Greenough street.
 - “ Evans road at Williston road.
 - “ Rawson road near Gardner road.
 - “ Beacon street at Brandon Hall.
- (This crossing was paid for by the lessees of Brandon Hall.)

Crossings of coal-tar concrete were laid at the following places : —

- Across Beacon street at Hotel Beaconsfield.
- “ Clinton path at Beacon street.
- “ Cypress place near Greenough street.
- “ Ivy street near St. Mary's street.
- “ Stearns road at St. Paul street.
- “ Tappan street opposite No. 100.
- “ Windsor road at Corey road.
- “ Oakland road at Walnut street.

Many of the old crossings are much out of repair and something more than the usual attention must be given them during the coming season. Some will have to be renewed, and in these cases, I would recommend the use of vitrified brick, which has given satisfaction in many places.

New Streets and Street Widening.

HARVARD STREET WIDENING. The portion of the work of widening Harvard street, between Harvard Square and School street, reported a year ago as unfinished in front of Masonic Hall building, was completed early in the season, and the whole street is now in excellent condition.

WASHINGTON STREET WIDENING. The unfinished work on this street near Harvard Square, consisting of a few yards of brick pavement in the roadway, and about 75 square yards of brick sidewalk, was completed early in the spring.

CYPRESS PLACE was laid out forty feet wide and was accepted and allowed as a public way at the town meeting held December 2d, 1903. It was constructed during the past season with edgestones and concrete sidewalks five feet in width and a macadam roadway twenty feet wide. The remainder of the ten feet is left in its former condition, that is a strip five feet wide outside each sidewalk, in which are two rows of beautiful trees. The improvement is quite noticeable, and the sidewalks and roadway seem wide enough for present conditions. The appropriation was $2,260.00, and it was all expended.

BROOKLINE AVENUE. An alteration and widening of this street to seventy-five feet in front of the property of the Brookline Gas Light Company from Washington street to Emerald street was accepted and allowed December 2d, 1903. Formal entry for the purpose of widening the street was made on Friday, July 15th, 1904. It is intended that the work of construction shall be completed by July next.

CLARK ROAD, from Sumner road to Cotswold road, was laid out forty feet wide, and was accepted and allowed March 30th, 1904. This street was originally constructed by the owners and was in very poor condition. The sewer had already been laid in the street, and a surface drain was built by the town in 1903. The estimated cost of putting the street in order was $4,900.00, and the abutters agreed to contribute about one-half of that sum. An appropriation of $2,500.00 for construction was made at the annual meeting, and the street was put in excellent condition under the direction of the Town Engineer. It was finished with cinder sidewalks, tree lawns and a macadam roadway. The cost exceeded the estimate somewhat, and an additional appropriation of $887.51 was made at the town meeting held December 28th, 1904. Some 1,600 feet of plank sidewalk was laid on this street, the cost of which was charged to the appropriation for sidewalks.

THORNDIKE STREET, from Gibbs street to the town line, was laid out forty feet wide and was accepted and allowed as a public way March 30th, 1904.

ABBOTTSFORD ROAD, from Naples road to Thorndike street, was laid out forty feet wide, and was accepted and allowed as a public way March 30th, 1904.

Both these streets were gravelled roads built several years ago by the owners, and for want of repair had fallen into poor condition; both streets were sub-graded and put in excellent condition with gravelled sidewalks, tree lawns and macadam roadways. Two catch-basins were built on Thorndike street and two on Abbottsford road. The appropriation for Thorndike street was $1,200.00 and for Abbottsford road $900.00. The entire amounts were expended.

STRATHMORE ROAD, leading from Beacon street in a southerly direction, then turning at right angles and running to Clinton path, was laid out forty feet in width, and was accepted and allowed as a townway December 28th, 1904. The sewer and surface drain had been laid in this street by the town, and the street was constructed by the owner and was offered to the town free of cost.

STRATHMORE ROAD, leading in a northerly direction from Beacon street to the town line, was laid out forty feet in width and was accepted and allowed as a public way December 28th, 1904. It was constructed by the owners some years ago and was offered to the town free of cost. Nothing has been expended upon it.

GRIGGS ROAD, beginning at a point on Washington street near Park street and running through the old Griggs Farm to Washington street at a point near Fairbanks street, was laid out forty feet in width, and was accepted and allowed as a townway December 28th, 1904. It was constructed some years ago by the owners, and has settled considerably in places, and is now in poor condition. An appropriation of $2,500.00 was made to pay the cost of putting it in good condition, which will be expended during the coming season.

COTTAGE STREET. An alteration and widening of part of Cottage street was accepted and allowed December 28th, 1904. Dr. Charles G. Weld offered the town free of cost a strip of land five feet wide along his whole frontage on Cottage street, with an additional amount at the intersection of Cottage street and Goddard avenue, on condition that his wall be replaced on the new line. Provision was made also for taking care of a very large amount of surface water which reaches the street at this point. An appropriation of $1,400.00 was made to pay the cost of construction, and it is proposed to do the work during the summer of 1905.

CRAFTS ROAD, leading from Circuit road through the Crafts property and along the Wright estate to a private way near Reservoir lane, was laid out forty feet wide, and was accepted and allowed as a townway December 28th, 1904. This is a well built gravel road, with gravelled sidewalks and tree lawns, and paved gutters for part of the way, constructed by the owners, and was offered to the town free of cost.

Change of Name.

The name of that part of Circuit road between Norfolk road and Crafts road was changed to Crafts road at the town meeting held December 28th, 1904.

Watering Streets.

The amount appropriated at the annual meeting for watering streets was $17,500.00. Twenty-six double teams were employed at the same rates as heretofore, viz., one hundred dollars per month for each team for six months beginning May 1st and ending October 31st, which rate included watering on Sundays and holidays; before May 1st and after October 31st payment was made at the rate of five dollars per day for each team. Practically all the streets in the town are now sprinkled; some of the routes are considerably longer than others, and most of them are longer than can be sufficiently watered under certain atmospheric conditions. The acceptance of many new streets during the last few years will make it necessary to rearrange the routes for the next season, and it is doubtful if the work can be properly done with the present number of teams.

The amount expended was $16,548.89, leaving a balance unexpended of $951.11, which is much larger than usual and is due to the less amount of sprinkling required in the spring and autumn of last season.

Sidewalks.

The kind and amount of work done on the sidewalks is shown in the following table. When plank walks have been rebuilt from old stock, the work has been considered in the nature of repairs and is not included.

Totals	12059.5	3359.97	1704.83	5590.38	3840.49	2878.45

The appropriation for sidewalks was $17,000.00, and the net expenditure, given in detail in the Accountant's and Treasurer's reports, was for the following :—

Edgestones and setting	$2,905 07
New coal-tar concrete walks	4,078 19
Repairing coal-tar concrete walks	2,025 04
New plank walks	3,852 34
Repairing plank walks	1,079 89
Artificial stone walks	1,863 11
Gravel walks, grading and sundries	825 78
Total	$16,629 42

The allowance towards the cost of artificial stone walks was fixed at fifty-five cents per square yard, and no contractors were allowed to do this kind of work in the public streets except those who had made contracts with the town, which provided for their proper construction, and their maintenance in good condition for a term of five years after their completion.

At the town meeting held March 30th, 1904, it was voted "To authorize the Selectmen to make contracts for a term of years for the construction and maintenance of artificial stone sidewalks." Contracts have been made with several parties doing this work for a term of three years from May 1st, 1904, and a bond of some approved surety company in the sum of $2,000.00 has been required in each case.

The contract for laying and repairing coal-tar concrete was awarded to Charles W. Lynam, and the prices paid were as follows:—

Sidewalks	$.75 per square yard
Skim-coating (cold work)40 " " "
Skim-coating (hot work)55 " " "
Sidewalk crossings90 " " "
Driveways	1.00 " " "
Street crossings	1.25 " " "
Gutters	1.25 " " "

The contract for supplying edgestones and paving material, and doing the work connected therewith, was awarded to Albert A. Libby & Company, and after the death of Albert A. Libby was continued with the succeeding firm of James O. Libby & Company.

Sewers.

The appropriation made at the annual meeting for the care of sewers and drains was $5,000.00. The expenditure was $3,300.70, and was for the work of the usual routine character, consisting chiefly of cleaning catch-basins, inspecting, cleaning and flushing sewers, repairing manholes, catch-basins, etc. The only work of an unusual character was the relaying of a short piece of the sewer in the proposed extension of Middlesex road which had been injured by piles driven for the surface-water drain close by. The expenditure was for the following:—

Cleaning catch-basins	$1,998 58
Cleaning and repairing sewers	541 12
Repairing Middlesex road sewer	154 73
Inspection	177 55
Rebuilding and repairing catch-basins	107 75
Rebuilding and repairing manholes	77 37
Repairing and repairing surface-water channels	163 63
Sundries	79 97
Total	$3,300 70

The work of replacing steps, plank walks and fences on Rawson path, after the completion of the sewer, was done by this department at a cost of $70.37, which was charged to extension of sewers. Certain other work, the cost of which amounted to $236.75, done under direction of the Engineering department, was charged to the same account.

Surface Drainage.

The main part of this work, as well as the construction of all new sewers, was done by contract under the direction of the Town Engineer. In addition, the following work was done by this department:—

Gorham avenue at Davis avenue	1 catch-basin
Harvard street at School street	1 " "
Washington street corner of Cypress street	2 railroad inlets
Harvard street at School street	2 " "
Corner of Emerson and Waverly street	1 inlet
St. Paul street at Stearns road	2 catch-basins
Brington road	2 " "
Colchester street opposite Chapel street	1 " "
Cypress place	1 " "
Thorndike street	2 " "
Gibbs street at Thorndike street	1 " "
Abbottsford road	2 " "

The cost of the above, with the necessary connections, etc., together with certain day labor performed under direction of the Engineering department which was included in our pay-rolls, amounted to $1,876.43 and was charged to the appropriation for surface drainage.

Collecting Ashes and Waste Material.

The cost of collecting ashes and refuse throughout the town was $14,204.44, which sum includes $2,755.14, credited to the Highway department for the use of horses, the whole cost of whose keeping was charged to the Highway appropriation. The cost of this work for the last ten years was as follows:—

1896	7,401 59
1897	8,075 24
1898	9,105 65
1899	10,913 16
1900	11,205 63
1901	13,056 56
1902	13,318 98
1903	13,917 62
1904	14,204 44

The number of loads collected was 26,078, as against 22,264 collected in 1903, 20,627 in 1902, and 21,775 in 1901.

The contract made October 26th, 1903, with the Middlesex Paper Company for the removal of waste paper and other combustible refuse, after its collection by our own force, was satisfactorily carried out until August last, when officials of the Company informed us that they had permanently shut down at the mill, and asked to be relieved of the contract. Negotiations with other parties were at once entered into, and for a time it looked as if the demand for this material was so great that we could not only relieve the Middlesex Paper Company of its contract, but actually make money by so doing. Before any contract could be executed however, serious difficulties presented themselves, the principal one being the inability of the parties with whom we were dealing to secure any suitable place in which the business of sorting and baling the material could be carried on. Finally a contract with the Paul N. Raymond Company of Somerville was signed on December 5th, 1904, by the terms of which they are to remove in our carts the refuse delivered at the Devotion street yard until May 1st, 1909, and we are to pay for this service $500.00 per year. The weather for the last two months has been such that the work of collection as well as of removal has been many times seriously interrupted, and it is too early to say that the service has been or has not been satisfactory, but it is intended that payment shall be made only for actual service rendered, and when the refuse is not promptly removed, we must get rid of it in as unobjectionable a manner as possible.

The best method for the sanitary disposal of municipal waste of all kinds is still an unsolved problem, but the matter is receiving attention all over the country, and we may hope that by the time our existing contracts have expired some satisfactory solution of the question will have been reached. Changes in the method of collection also will doubtless be demanded in the near future; all will admit that the presence of barrels on the sidewalks for many hours of the day, and sometimes for the entire night is not pleasant, and few features of city life are more disagreeable than loading ashes on the public streets on windy days. Requests have been received from several large apartment houses for a more frequent collection of ashes, and I see no objection to collecting from the larger of these houses, as well as from the public buildings, twice a week instead of once a week as at present.

Sundries.

The work of petrolizing the catch-basins, pools, etc., for the purpose of exterminating mosquitoes was done at a cost of $542.57, which was charged to the Health appropriation.

The avenue at fire station G was graded and concreted at a cost of $145.70.

Sundry other work amounting to $310.15 was done, the cost of which was charged to the various appropriations to which it belonged.

The following table, giving the names of all the public streets and ways, and their location, with date of acceptance, length, width and other information concerning them, has been compiled by Mr. H. A. Varney of the Engineering department.

The inventory of property belonging to the department is filed with the Town Accountant.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL DRISCOLL,

Superintendent of Streets and Sewers.

Arc-Lights.

During the year five lights were added and three discontinued, making the number of street lights the same as last year, 242. Two lights were added on the Parkway, increasing that number to 17. Of the five lights added, two were installed on Beacon street between Tappan street and Dean road, one on Beacon street between Harvard street and Centre street, and two were added in July and located in the Parkway, one of which was placed between Washington street and Morss avenue, and the other at the turn of the drive nearest Chestnut street, the location of which is known as the grove. As the town furnishes the wire and poles for the park lighting, the work was paid for out of the annual appropriation at a cost of $110.46.

This system of lighting on the whole has been very satisfactory. The total number of lights out was equivalent to one light for one hundred fifty-two nights, and the amount deducted for the outage was $52.21.

Numerous complaints have been received at this office stating that certain lights were not giving the amount of light that they should, and whenever such a complaint has been received, a request has been sent to the Brookline Gas Light Company to change these lamps, which has been attended to very promptly. Some of our main streets are not lighted as well as they might be, the locations being the same as when the lights were first installed in the town. People are asking for more light each year, and with arc-lights from seven hundred to nine hundred feet apart we must not expect to get a very bright light at a point midway, where the distance is so great.

The number of arc-lights discontinued during the year was three: one on August 1st on Winchester street, opposite Fuller street, one on October 25th, on Colbourne crescent, and one on November 18th, on Dean road near the Boston & Albany railroad tracks.

The work for underground conduit on Beacon street between Washington street and Dean road was begun on April 20th, and it was intended to have the street cleared of the wires and poles during the early fall. Owing to some unavoidable delay, the cables have not yet been connected, but I am informed that they expect to have the work completed by the first of February and the wires removed from overhead. I would recommend that the company continue this underground work from Dean road to the town line during the year 1905, and that all wires and poles be removed in that section. Beacon street will then be cleared of all overhead wires and poles from St. Mary's street to the town line near Chestnut Hill avenue. The number of arc-lights along the street of the proposed construction is three, and they are located as follows: one between Kilsyth road and Warwick road, one opposite Englewood avenue, and one opposite Strathmore road. I would recommend that three more lights be added, and, if necessary, that the location of the present lights be changed.

During the month of March, a communication was sent to the Brookline Gas Light Company requesting that a reduction be made in the price of arc-lights, this being the time specified in the contract when changes were to be made, if any. This company agreed to reduce the price of street lights one-half cent, making the price per night thirty-four cents for street lights and thirty-three cents for park lights.

Welsbach Lights.

The number of lights added during the year was fifty-five, an increase of three over last year. During the month of May, twenty-two lights were connected: one on Manchester road near Naples road, two on Naples road, and one on Stedman street on May 4th, four on Naples road on May 5th, making a total of six between Manchester road and Commonwealth avenue; one on Auburn street near Harvard street and one light near Auburn place changed to a new location, one on Hawes street opposite Chatham street on May 22d, four on Clinton road between Druce street and Fisher avenue and one location changed and one new light added on Druce street on May 23d, two on Norfolk road, one on Circuit road, one on Devon road on May 24th, one on Hyslop road and one on Middlesex road on May 25th, one on Franklin street connected for gas in place of naphtha on June 1st, one on Cypress street between Elm street and Davis avenue on June 4th, one on Griggs road near the westerly entrance from Washington street on June 9th, two on Littell road, one on Walter avenue near Washington street, and one on Warren street west of Cottage street and one location changed on June 18th, one on Winchester street at the corner of Fuller street, one east of Fuller street, two added and location of four changed between Thorndike street and the town line on August 1st, two on Summit avenue near the hospital building on August 6th, one on Clark road opposite Chesham road on September 1st, one on private way known as Elm street on October 1st, one on Colbourne crescent near Winthrop road on October 15th, three on Colbourne crescent southeast of Winthrop road on October 25th, one on Cypress street opposite Searle avenue on November 1st, one on Oakland road near Walnut street on November 8th, one on Warren street between Boylston and Walnut streets and two changed to new locations near Cottage street on November 14th, two changed from naphtha to gas on Pound lane on November 18th, one changed from naphtha to gas on Pound lane from Boylston street on November 21st, one on Catlin road at the northerly end on November 25th, one on Milton road east of Cypress street on December 1st, and one on Chesham road between Clinton road and Buckminster road on December 3d.

During the winter of 1903, naphtha lights were put up on trial on Naples road and two arc-lights removed. It was the opinion of your committee that the Welsbach lights gave the more even distribution of light, as the trees were at such a height as to cast heavy shadows on the sidewalk as well as on the street, and as soon as the streets were in condition for opening, the naphtha lights were discontinued and gas-pipes connected.

Trouble from frozen pipes has caused quite a large number of lights to be reported out,—the total number for December being 3,580, and for January 3,143.75 hours. A great many that were out last winter were reported to the Gas Company, and during the summer the pipes were dug up and changed, and it is the intention of the Welsbach Company to have those lights that have given us the most trouble looked after in the same manner this year. New streets are being opened, and your Board will probably receive petitions for additional street lights, and as a provision for these I would recommend that an allowance be made for sixty. Strathmore road is being built up very fast and no doubt will require several lights. I would recommend that the Welsbach gas be placed on this street.

The storm on January 26th was so severe that it was impossible for the lighters to get to all the lamps and one hundred and thirty five were reported out for the night, the total number of hours out being 1620.

The lamps were all numbered during the year by the Assistant District Superintendent of the Welsbach Company, and were arranged so the numbers would run from 1 to 500 north of the B. & A. R. R. tracks, and from 500 to 1000 on the south side. This gives plenty of numbers for the increase of lamps on either side. As the lamps were numbered, they were located by the house number or some object on the street, so that when complaints are received we can tell by our list just where the light is. This has been a great help in this office and a copy of this list was placed in the Police Station for the benefit of the patrolmen.

Naphtha Lights.

The number of naphtha lights does not change very much during the year, as the territory they cover has not developed to any extent during the last two years.

We have connected twelve new lights, the locations and dates of which are as follows: August 18th, two on Clark road near Chesham road (as the gas-pipe does not extend through this section and the distance was too great to light with gaslights from either end, your committee recommended the use of naphtha lights until the gas pipe was laid in the street); October 7th, two on the driveway in the rear of Shuttleworth terrace; October 8th, one on Rawson path; October 28th, Rockwood street near the town line; December 7th, Wolcott road near Newton; December 10th, one on the private way off Hammond street between Boylston street and Heath street; January 17th and 18th, three on Wolcott road from Newton street to a point opposite the residence of William J. McDonald.

The lights disconnected were all connected by gas, so that the total number shows an increase of two over the last year's report.

Fire Alarm.

This system worked satisfactorily throughout the year. The usual minor troubles have occurred occasionally, such as a gong not striking every blow, indicator not registering correctly, one of the strikers not working on the big bell, etc. These have all been attended to as soon as possible after receiving notice, so that no serious trouble has resulted, such as having the department going in the wrong direction. The repeater caught on one alarm so that only the first round was received. This was at box 4, but the bell at Station A could be heard at headquarters and very little delay was caused.

Considerable work has been done in the way of changes and improvements, at a very small cost. Two circuits have had batteries changed, requiring ninety cells. The old batteries had been in constant use for over five years, which is a longer time than they are guaranteed for. The other three will have to be renewed the coming year and will be allowed for in the appropriation asked for. Considerable attention has been given to the locating, changing, and arranging for the separate iron-post connection where underground wires are in use. Only two have been put in during the year, one on Beacon street at Dean road, No. 25, and No. 31 changed from corner of Aspinwall avenue to the westerly side of Harvard street. These posts not only support the fire boxes but have a slate distributing board in the back where all wires enter and leave. This gives a chance to test the wires in case of trouble on any circuit entering the box, and it also is convenient in case of a break beyond a box to cut out the wires in trouble and have part of the circuit working. Several more of our boxes can be arranged for this iron-post construction, and I would recommend that it be done this year.

Thirteen old doors with the key guards were changed on May 23d, and at present all of our fire alarm boxes have the keyless door, and since these have been in use we have had no false alarm. All of our fire alarm boxes were painted in the spring, and although this has been done each year they get to look very black and unsightly before the end of the year. As the expense is small and the appearance of the boxes is so much improved, I think it advisable to have this work done every year. The cost for the past year was $10.83.

Police Signal.

This has given good service through the year. Trouble from broken line wires has caused some of the boxes to be out of commission for a short time. Although the old register was working well at the end of the year, it was thought advisable to purchase a new one. A duplicate machine is necessary for this system, as they are liable to give out at any time. The time-stamps used in this system began to work poorly, some of the springs and other parts having become worn. These were sent to the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company's office in New York, where they were remodeled at a cost of $50.00.

The main relays were mounted on slate backs, changing the position from a horizontal to a vertical one. The coils divided so that one coil is on either side of the line, making an equal amount of resistance on each wire.

Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph (underground).

The only new work put in this year was on Babcock street, which was a distance of 850.9 feet between Freeman street and Winslow road. This enabled us to reach the police box which had been located on Babcock street opposite Winslow road. The route of the fire alarm and police signal wires connecting the boxes at the corner of Naples road and Abbottsford road was changed in November. The fire alarm wires were extended from Devotion street to Abbottsford road, and as the police wires passed this point they were both run onto the poles on Abbottsford road to reach the boxes at the corner of Naples road. (Circular loom cable was used in this section of overhead wiring, a distance of 630 feet.) The overhead wire, which was about 10,500 feet, and the cross arms were removed from Naples road on November 17th.

The changing of the conduits during the widening of Harvard street injured some of our wire so badly that I had new wire drawn in from Harvard Square to Aspinwall avenue. The pieces that were not injured have since been used for short distances, such as box connections, etc.

A slate base terminal board with connecting strips was placed in the cellar of Police Station at the point where all the wires enter the building. This was put in for the convenience of testing. All wires are fastened under binder posts and can be disconnected and connected very quickly. One group of batteries gave out and new ones were installed, twenty-four being required. These were purchased last year for emergency. As two to three weeks would elapse before batteries could be obtained from the factory, I think it advisable to have enough batteries on hand to duplicate the number used on the largest circuit. Three circuits will need sixty new batteries this year.

One new police box, No. 332, was added on May 24th. This was located on Babcock street at the corner of Freeman street. During the month of July underground conduits were extended to Winslow road, and on August 5th the box was changed to a new location on Babcock street opposite Winslow road, and an iron-base post was used. The number of feet of wire required to connect this box was 2,790 feet. Three boxes were removed from the wood poles and placed on iron-base posts. This necessitated the change in location of box No. 17 from the southerly to the northerly side of Walnut street.

Box No. 215, formerly located on Park street near Washington street, was changed to Washington street opposite Park street and is also used for a test station for all fire alarm and police wires running underground on Washington street. The wires were broken by ice forming in the pipe running from the manhole to box No. 332, Longwood avenue and Kent street. One of the iron-base posts was used for this box and the wires were connected for a test station. The new location is on the southeasterly side of Kent street and Longwood avenue. I would recommend that box No. 132 on Boylston street near Walnut street be changed to the iron-base post, as this has been complained of many times. If a car passes while the officer is talking at the box it causes such a vibration to the pole that it disturbs the carbon in the transmitters so that the officer cannot be heard or hear what is being said to him. Box No. 212 on Beacon street opposite Dean road will need to be changed, as this is on a wood pole which will probably be removed this year. Box No. 35 is on a wood pole on the northerly side of Harvard street and Beacon street, and the same trouble exists here as at box No. 132. I would recommend that the location be changed from the westerly side of Harvard street on the grass plot between the bridle path and the car tracks, there being plenty of room, and it will not interfere with travel, as the post will be back from the crosswalk.

Several of our lateral pipes will need to be dug up this summer and drips put in, as a few have already caused trouble by the ice forming, the water having collected during the last two or three years.

The Chief of Police recommends that a new box be placed on Washington street opposite Fairbanks street.

Two condensers in police boxes were burned out by lightning on June 21st, and the boxes could not be used until new ones were obtained. Two extra ones were purchased at this time, so that we might have them ready in case of loss of others.

Underground Wires.

BROOKLINE GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

The amount of underground conduits put in by this company was from Washington street to Dean road, and a section from Beacon street into the private way known as Park drive. The work was started on the 20th of April, and the conduits were laid and manholes finished the latter part of May. This was followed with the placing of the laterals for pole and other connections.

The cables were not drawn in until November and the work of connecting was finished on the 21st of January, 1905.

The cables were drawn into the ducts on Harvard street and Beacon street in early spring, and the wires were changed and one pole removed from the planting space on Beacon street.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

The underground conduits put in by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company during the year were for short distances, the longest being on Babcock street from Freeman street to Winslow road, and on Toxteth street from Aspinwall avenue to Brook street, and on Williston road from manhole on Beacon street opposite Tappan street to Salisbury road. A short piece run up University road from Beacon street. Three additional ducts were put in on Beacon street from Washington street to Tappan street, making six in all. Ten additional ducts were put in on Cypress street from Washington street to the railroad bridge, crossing the Boston & Albany railroad tracks. Twelve were put in under the bridge, using iron from the manholes on either side to connect with the wood ducts crossing the tracks.

Nine additional ducts were put in from the southerly side of the bridge to a manhole on Boylston street.

The following table shows location and amount of material used:—

BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY COMPANY.

This company did no work on their underground conduits during the year of 1904. As the construction of the East Boston tunnel required a vast amount of their time, they suggested that the work on the underground conduits in this town be postponed until 1905. I am informed that it is contemplated building from the manhole on Washington street at Villa lane up Boylston street to Cypress street and extend from the present conduit on Washington street in Harvard Square to Cypress street.

Poles and Locations.

New England Telephone Company:—

March 14th,—Petition granted for two locations on Osborne road from Babcock street; one pole was erected, as it was not considered necessary to use the second one at present.

May 31st,—The location of one pole was changed on Dudley streets as it was thought to be in a dangerous position.

June 20th,—The location of three poles were changed on Gorham avenue between Davis avenue and Tappan street, as edgestones were being set.

July 5th,—Locations for twenty-nine poles were granted on Clark road between Sumner road and Cotswold road. These poles were set when this was a private way, so that it only required the approval of the Board.

Eleven petitions were received for attachments of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company's wires to poles of the Brookline Gas Light Company.

Permits were given by the Street department to open the streets for the purpose of resetting seventeen poles which were reported decayed and dangerous.

Brookline Gas Light Company:—

February 8th,—Petition granted to set four poles on Cotswold road for period of five years.

February 8th,—Petition granted to set two poles on Circuit road near Crafts road.

April 4th,—Two new locations were granted for the erection of poles on the Pierce Primary School lot, the old ones having been removed as they were on the site of the new school building.

July 11th,—Petition was granted to change the location of one pole on Flora street opposite Walter avenue.

July 11th,—Petition was granted for the poles which had been changed on Harvard street between School street and Harvard Square.

July 12th,—Thorndike street accepted by the town as a public way from Gibbs street to Abbottsford road, and Abbottsford road from Naples road to Commonwealth avenue. Petition for five poles already erected was granted.

August 1st,—Location for two poles on Centre street between Shailer street and Beacon street was granted.

August 8th,—Location for one pole on Irving street near Upland road was granted.

October 31st,—Location for two poles on Winchester street, corner of Williams street was granted.

November 7th—Location for two poles on Winchester street, west of Thorndike street was granted.

The Street department issued permits for opening the streets for the resetting of fifty-one poles reported unsound and dangerous.

It was expected to have all of the poles on Beacon street between Washington street and Dean road removed in the fall. Owing to the delay on the work of the underground wires, the overhead wires were not removed until the last week in January. The conditions for the removal of the poles were so unfavorable that it was thought best to leave them until the spring.

Boston Elevated Railway Company:—

June 6th,—Petition was granted for re-location of one pole on Washington street near Harvard Square.

Open Wires.

The work of removal of open wires has been very little during the year. Arrangements are being made to remove all the wires on Beacon street from Washington street to Dean road.

Aerial Cables.

Permission was granted the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company to attach cable to poles on the following streets:—

St. Mary street, from Ivy street to Commonwealth avenue . .	30-pair.
Aspinwall avenue, from Toxteth street to Kent street	30-pair.
Brook street, from Toxteth street to Kent street	15-pair.
Naples road, from Abbottsford road to town line	15-pair.

Interior Wiring of Buildings.

The work of interior wiring has been carefully watched throughout the year, and nearly all of the contractors have sent in their notices promptly. With all the precautions taken to prevent work being installed without being inspected by this department, I find that it has been done. Investigations disclosed, in a number of cases where additional lights had been put in, that the work was not done by a contractor but by some one who had some knowledge of this kind of work, but was not familiar with the requirements of the law as to sending in notice before work is started.

Portable lamps are bought from the large stores in town and attached to fixtures without any regard to the By-Laws and Regulations relative to Wires and Lights. I am of the opinion that a few changes should be made in the rules for wiring, and a copy of these will be presented to the Board for approval at a later date.

Considerable work has been done by this department during the year for others for which no charges or transfers have been made. During the month of February and March, the main wires in the cellar of the Town Hall were changed from the east to the west side. The old location was unsafe, as the cut-outs and switches were mounted on inflammable material. A slate switchboard was arranged so that the different circuits can be controlled from this point. The wires from the street were brought in underground in April, and the overhead wires were removed, being the last to enter the building from a pole line.

During the month of August, the private line telephones connecting the hospital buildings and almshouse were installed, and one can now call to or from any of the other buildings.

Inspection of Gas Piping and Gas Fixtures.

The inspection of gas piping and gas fixtures has been followed carefully during the year. It has been necessary to request many changes, much to the remonstrance of the fitters, they knowing the work had been done in a different manner than the rules and regulations call for. The odor from hot water heaters has caused much discomfort to tenants and in some cases caused them to become quite sick for a short time. This is due to the neglect of cleaning and not being looked after properly. Many of these stoves are supposed to be connected with a pipe to chimneys. They are all constructed that way, but the pipe is not put up, as many feel that it is not necessary, while others think it would be unsightly.

Maintenance.

The appropriation for the fiscal year beginning February 1st, 1904, and ending January 31st, 1905, was $9,500. The total expenditure for maintenance was $9,479.07. Deducting from this sum $5,692.75, which represents the receipts of the Bath House for the fiscal year, we find that the total cost to the town for maintenance for twelve months was $3,786.32, against $4,139.30 for the previous year, or a decrease of $352.98. This decrease is accounted for in part by the larger number of private swimming lessons, 303 more having been given than in the previous year.

Heating and Lighting.

Four hundred and twenty tons of coal were used during the year at a cost of $1,898.85, which represents a decrease in expenditure of $92.14. The cost of lighting was $469.82.

Water.

The large tank in the Natatorium holds a little over 70,000 gallons of water. While the exact amount used to keep it filled cannot be accurately given, it is interesting to know that about 14,000,000 gallons have been used altogether. This is probably the same as the previous year.

Non-Residents.

Six thousand three hundred and forty-four non-residents have availed themselves of the privileges of the Public Baths during the year. As we have had occasion to say before, they have not in any way interfered with resident bathers, and have materially contributed to the receipts.

As in previous years, students from Wellesley College, the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics and the Sargent Normal School have received instruction in small classes.

Free Baths.

During the year, as stated in Table I., 6,525 rain and tub baths were taken. Of these only 510 were paid for. If we add the 1,914 free baths taken in the Natatorium by the public school pupils, 6,805 taken by boys and girls on the free days in the summer and 204 by the police and others, we get a total of 15,448 against 15,755 in 1903, a decrease of 307. More than a fourth of the total number of baths taken, or about 27 per cent, were free.

For the second year, the experiment of giving free baths in the Natatorium was continued. Though the attendance was large, there was a decrease from the year before of 781. The previous year there had been a falling off in rain and tub baths, but in 1904 we find an increase of 1,316. In two of the public schools, the Lincoln and the Heath, a large number of rain baths are now taken. In December at the Lincoln the number was 500 and at the Heath 1,462 for the months of September, October, November and December.

It is an interesting fact that as time has gone on the standard of discipline among the bathers has steadily improved. A few years ago considerable extra help would have been required to manage the large number using the Natatorium on free days. Now very little is needed. Each boy or girl gains admittance by a ticket obtained previously, and though there is a large crowd, there is no crowding. It is also gratifying to observe that of the total of 6,805 bathers in the summer free days, 2,885 are girls, a proportion much larger than the average during the remainder of the year.

Swimming Club.

The Club has had a prosperous year, though meeting with a severe loss in the removal of H. LeMoyne, the champion short distance swimmer, from this part of the country. The club was organized in 1897, the year the Bath House was opened, and has steadily improved and developed, until it has now attained a reputation second to none in the country. Year after year it has competed at different leading meets, invariably winning a large share of the prizes offered. Its own exhibitions are remarkable for their quality, and have undoubtedly been an important factor in fostering an interest in swimming and made our own Bath House widely known and popular. This year on two succeeding evenings it held exhibitions before crowded audiences, and it is fair to say that these were the best in its history.

In view of the somewhat severe strictures of President Eliot on football as a form of college athletics, in his Report of Harvard College for 1903-4, it is interesting to consider the place of swimming in athletics as exemplified in the experience of our own swimming club. "The main objection to football," President Eliot says, "lies against its moral quality." He speaks of the methods employed and says "they are essentially ungenerous and no sport is wholesome in which ungenerous and mean acts, which easily escape detection, contribute to victory, whether such acts be occasional and incidental, or habitual." Our swimming club has blown no blast on a college trumpet, but from the first has pursued quiet, simple and unsensational methods. It has obtained its present high rank by hard and continuous work week after week, guided and inspired by the superintendent of the Bath House, and, aided by the assistant, swimming teachers, and its own officers has adopted what was supposed to be best, and improved on it. Its resources have been small and its expenditures moderate, and no professional coach has ever been employed. Perhaps its marked success on slender funds might in part be accounted for by the more limited paraphernalia required, and the smaller teams and less rigid training as to diet and so on. And the swimming hero is not quite as glorified an individual as the football hero; the difference between fish and flesh perhaps. The lime-light of publicity does not exaggerate his person to the same colossal proportions. In a lesser degree, however, the environment is similar. It is easy to make the expenses too large; to think more of victory than fair play, and sacrifice principles to winning. Our own club has attained its present high reputation by clean, straightforward work, and shown that the best man wins who is best as a gentleman as well as a swimmer.

President Eliot says that "The football hero is useful in a society of young men, if he illustrates generous strength and leads a clean life; but his merits of body and mind are not of the most promising sort for future service out in the world. The alert, nimble, wiry, tough body is for professional or business purposes in future life a better one than his; and the mental qualities of the big brawny athlete are almost certain to be inferior to those of the slighter, quicker-witted men whose moral ideals are at heart as high as his." Whether or not we fully endorse these words, we know there is truth in them. In the type of man turned out in the swimming club we find neither the one nor the other. The big, brawny man must lose a little of his brawn, and the wiry man acquire some, to make the ideal swimmer. There is no better exercise than swimming for developing a symmetrical man, who in muscles, lungs, heart and nerves is not an extreme in one direction or the other, but a strong, capable, all-round man physically. It is probable that he will be better equipped for the burden and heat of the day than either of the types mentioned by President Eliot, supposing brains to be equal.

Another advantage of swimming over most other kinds of exercise engaged in for sport, is its tonic effect on the brain. There is no more cheerful or happy man than the swimmer; a few minutes in the water cleans every cobweb from the brain. The effect on all the organs of the body of keeping the skin active, as swimming does more than any other sport, should not be forgotten.

The club had its annual meet with the New York Athletic Club in New York in March, 1904, and succeeded in winning four of the seven events, Harry LeMoyne winning the 25 and 100 yard events, and A. M. McCormack winning the long plunge and holding the American record (65 ft. 7 in.). The relay team won the relay race for the third consecutive time from the New York Club.

School Instruction.

During the year 1,914 swimming lessons were taken as a part of the regular school instruction. This is 808 less than the year before. The number taking this kind of instruction tends to diminish rather than increase. This is partly owing to the fact that more children use the Bath House independently of school instruction and also because the interest in this instruction perhaps is not quite as great as a few years ago.

Private Lessons.

The total number of private lessons, as stated in Table III., was 4,165 as against 3,863 for the previous year, a gain of 302. There is no way of accounting for this increase unless possibly the weather conditions were more favorable.

Repairs and Improvements.

The uses of a Bath House are peculiar and unlike those of any other building. A large portion of it is kept at a high temperature (70 to 80 degrees) the year round. The large amount of water constantly used in the Natatorium, the swimming school tank, the rain and tub baths and the laundry, which of necessity wets a good deal of floor surface, renders inevitable an unusual degree of moisture. The heat and water call for an elaborate system of piping. When we consider that the Bath House is in use day and evening nearly every week day in the year, during which time between fifty and sixty thousand baths are taken by men, women and children, it is easy to see that the wear and tear must be far in excess of that of most municipal structures. To keep the Bath House from deteriorating, it is desirable not to delay necessary repairs, as the ultimate expense will be greater should a policy of waiting be followed. The committee have, therefore, from year to year, endeavored to maintain the efficiency of the plant by promptly making repairs.

Under this heading the principal repairs have been a new main from the street, at a cost of $75, and connected with this a new four-inch supply pipe to the tank about 115 feet in length. This supply pipe has two valves, one shutting off the supply permanently and the other temporarily. The latter is used for regulating the flow of water into the tank. The water is heated in passing through a five-inch Hancock inspirator, by means of which a small jet of steam is injected into it as it flows along. There is a second smaller Hancock inspirator to heat the water for the surface of the tank. This new pipe for supplying the tank is much more simple than the old, having only one valve instead of six, and it fills the tank in an hour's less time. Owing to these simpler arrangements, there is less to get out of order and there is also less jarring of the pipe. The whole cost of the supply pipe was $295.

The laundry machinery is hardly equal to the work put upon it, but in view of the contemplated municipal gymnasium, it seems best to the committee to make no alterations in it at present.

Employees.

The staff of employees remains the same. They have done their work with faithfulness and efficiency and the results are shown in the smooth and successful running of Bath House affairs.

General Remarks.

The year we have just completed has been signalized as our most prosperous one, as far as the attendance is concerned, since the opening of the Bath House. As was stated in Table I., it reached a total of 55,017, an increase of 355 over any previous year. The next highest year was 1902 with 54,735; the next, 1903, with 54,662; the next, 1900, with 51,453. In the general attendance there is no question that the weather conditions make a great difference. The winter of 1903-4 was unusually severe and decidedly affected the attendance, which up to the cold weather was ahead of any previous year. In 1901 there was a large falling off both on account of the weather, which was rainy and cold, and the smallpox scare, which kept people away.

Though the attendance is not largely increased, the fact that the tendency is to grow larger rather than smaller, indicates that a healthy interest still continues in swimming and bathing. The committee were impressed in the earlier years by the unusual popularity of the Bath House, but were told by some persons that it was a fad and as time went on and it settled down to its regular average work we should see a diminution in attendance, indicating that the public was getting a little tired of it. In reviewing the affairs of the Bath House for the last year, it seems in some respects to have been the most successful of any. We have already spoken of the work done by the Swimming Club and the largely attended exhibitions on two evenings; probably there would have been a large audience on a third evening, as one thousand tickets were given away and applications were received for two hundred more. The press for admission compared with the first years was much greater, which would be natural provided interest not only was sustained but increasing.

Not as many private swimming lessons were given during the last year as a few years ago, though more than in the immediately preceding year. The growth of attendance has been among the small fee or free bathers, as we might naturally anticipate would be the case. The number of those taking private lessons, while still large, might considerably decrease without meaning that the Bath House was not in a general way becoming more popular and filling more than ever the purpose for which it was built. There are more ways of obtaining private lessons than when the Bath House was opened, and there are more people in the community who know how to swim and can teach the members of their families, and for this reason perhaps we might expect fewer applications for instruction.

It is a most gratifying fact that no serious accident has ever taken place in the Bath House. Two or three persons have received slight injuries, but in almost every case it was the result of their own carelessness. Cases have been reported in other bath houses in which persons were seized with fits or cramps while bathing and were not rescued, as on account of the condition of the water they were not seen until too late. This suggests the necessity of filling our own tank frequently so that the water will always be clear enough to see the bottom. The expense entailed is a little increased, but for reasons of safety, as well as of hygiene, seems justifiable.

We find that the receipts amount to $5,692.75 as against $5,360.70 in 1903, a gain of $332.05. The receipts were highest in 1902, 1900 coming next; 1901, third, and 1904, fourth. This is accounted for by the very large number of private lessons taken in 1902 and 1900 and the comparatively small number of free baths. It must necessarily follow that with an increase of free baths there will be a decrease of receipts, or an increase of the cost of maintenance to offset the usefulness of the Bath House. As was stated in our report of last year,—“In the very hot weather when the poorer class of boys and girls in the town have nothing to do and free baths may be the means of occupying them and keeping them out of mischief, it seems to be the part of wisdom to attract them to the Bath House, even if they pay nothing; but, on the other hand, it is only right to make those who can pay do so. It must be remembered that the fees charged are very small and below the actual cost of what is furnished. So far the town bestows a benefit on the bather, but he on his part should show some appreciation of what he receives by contributing a little himself."

REPORT.

Almshouse.

During the past year there have been at the Almshouse, at different times, thirteen inmates, six less than last year. Of these only five have been there during the entire year. Of the others four remained for short periods, varying from a few days to one month and were then discharged, either to take care of themselves, or in one case to enter a charitable institution. One woman, who has been at the Almshouse at intervals for two years, became helpless through an accident while on a visit to friends and was transferred to the State Hospital at Tewksbury. There are now in the Almshouse six persons, three men and three women, who will probably remain there during their lives. There have been no deaths in the last year and less sickness among the inmates than usual. The expense of maintaining the Almshouse is about $300 less than last year. The Almshouse is in excellent condition and has been well kept by Mr. and Mrs. Estey.

Out-Door Relief.

The number of those who have received regular out-door relief is a little larger than last year and also the amount expended. Many of those who have been relieved are widows or deserted wives with young children. Where a man has been aided, it is, in two cases, on account of blindness, and in another because he has become entirely helpless through illness. During the year one of these men has died and another has been admitted to a charitable institution where he will be cared for permanently. Three families, where the children are now old enough to contribute to the general support, have been dropped from the list during the year.

Those who have received occasional relief are less numerous than last year. In one of these cases and also in one case where regular aid was given for a time, it was necessary to help the family during the imprisonment of the husband and father.

Among the families who have received out-door relief in Brookline, there are many who have no settlement here and for whom the town will be reimbursed.

Sick Poor.

About the same number of persons have been aided, on account of sickness only, as last year, but the amount expended is considerably larger, owing to prolonged hospital care in some cases.

Children.

The Overseers of the Poor have had the care of a larger number of children than for some years past. A family of three children were added to those already in charge of the town, last summer, owing to the illness of one parent and insanity of the other. One of these children, a baby, has since died, leaving two still to be provided for. They are boarded with relatives, who are willing to take care of them, but cannot afford to do so without some remuneration. Three children in another family have been rendered temporarily dependent on public aid and the town has also been called upon to support a little child whose father through general incapacity is unable to provide for his wife and child. Of the children who have been in the care of the town for several years, all but two have become self-supporting during the year. At the School for the Feeble-Minded at Waverly, there are three children who are supported by the town.

The expenditure for out-door poor and for the sick last year exceeded the estimates, but some saving in other items and unusual promptness in collecting reimbursements from the commonwealth kept the net expenditure within the appropriation. Accordingly there will be less reimbursements to collect this year, and so an appropriation of $8,000.00 is recommended.

General Health of the Town.

The death rate continues low and general health conditions are satisfactory. There has been decidedly less diphtheria and scarlet fever than usual, but a little more typhoid fever and consumption.

Board of Health Hospitals.

There were 66 persons admitted to the hospitals for contagious diseases, one more than last year. The maintenance of the hospitals has cost considerably less than last year, largely because there were a good many exceptional expenditures last year before the hospitals were in thorough working order. There have been some further expenses of the same kind this year and some repairs; also one of the old wooden buildings has been extensively fitted up and improved.

Bacteriological Laboratory.

The laboratory is efficiently maintained and the Bacteriologist desires now to assist the Inspector of Milk by making bacteriological examinations of milk in the laboratory.

Milk Inspection.

The results of examinations of samples of milk taken from the different milk dealers are kept on file at the Town Hall, so that consumers can readily ascertain the records of their milkmen and take their supplies from those who use the cleanest methods if they desire.

In addition to the milk tests now made, it is proposed that bacteriological examinations of milk samples be made, and that the sale of milk containing more than 500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter be forbidden.

Mosquitos.

Much has been done in the way of filling up or draining off unnecessary pools of standing water which were affording breeding places for mosquitos, and water which could not be drained off has in many cases been petrolized, particularly in the street catch-basins. A good many landowners are disposed to co-operate willingly, either doing the work themselves or paying the cost of it, but there are still some who have done little or nothing.

There are fewer people than there were who believe that mosquitos can be wholly exterminated in a single season, but there is an increasing number who think that much good can be accomplished by the work that is being done.

New Smallpox Hospital.

The Board has under consideration the question of building a new smallpox hospital as a measure of precaution in case it should be needed at some future time. It would probably remain empty most of the time, as the old one has. Recently it has been proposed that smallpox hospitals should be built by counties, and it seems desirable to wait until it has been decided whether counties are to build them or not, as a local one in addition to a county one would be superfluous.

Ashes and Rubbish.

The collection and disposal of ashes and dry combustible waste continues to be one of the important municipal problems which awaits a satisfactory solution. The Middlesex Paper Company having asked to be relieved of its contract for removing this material, a new contract was made with the Paul N. Raymond Company, under the terms of which the material, after being collected at a central point by town teams, is hauled out of town at a cost of $500.00 per year.

Reports of Officers of the Board.

Various other matters not mentioned here are fully dealt with in the appended reports, to which attention is called.

ORDERS OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

1. Ordered, a. That no child be allowed to attend school from any household in which there is or has been a case of scarlet fever, for a period of six weeks from the commencement of the last case in the household (except as provided in section "c" of this order) and until a certificate has been presented from the attending physician, the Board of Health, or its Agent, that all danger of conveying the disease by such child is passed.

b. That no child be allowed to attend school from any household in which there is or has been a case of diphtheria, for a period of one week from the date of the second successive negative bacteriological culture from both the nose and throat (except as provided in section "c" of this order) and until a certificate, as required in section "a," has been presented.

c. That the Agent of the Board of Health may, if circumstances warrant (for example, removal of the patient to hospital), give to children not infected in a household in which there is or has been scarlet fever or diphtheria, a special permit to return to school as soon as he considers it safe for them to do so.

d. That no child with chicken pox, German measles or mumps be allowed to attend school. Upon recovery and the entire absence of every sign of any of these diseases, such pupil may return at once to school.

e. That no pupil found to be ill with consumption, and a menace to the health of others, be allowed to continue in school.

2. Ordered, That no child who has visited a house in which there was at the time a case of scarlet fever shall attend school until the expiration of two weeks following exposure, unless he has already had that disease.

3. Ordered, That no child ill with measles or whooping cough be allowed to attend school until a certificate, as required in section "a," Order 1, has been presented. That no child from a household in which there is a case of either of these diseases be allowed to attend school, unless such child has already had such disease, and presents the certificate referred to in this order.

4. Ordered, That no child from any house where there is a case of scarlet fever or diphtheria shall be allowed to mingle with persons from any other house until after the removal, recovery, or death of the patient and the disinfection of the premises.

5. Ordered, That every house infected with diphtheria, scarlet fever, or smallpox shall have affixed on or near the front door a card, furnished by the Board of Health, stating the disease to be avoided; and any unauthorized person removing such a card shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

6. Ordered, That the Clerk of the Board of Health be directed to notify the School Department and the Public Library of each case of small pox, consumption, diphtheria and scarlet fever; the School Department shall also be notified of cases of measles, but not of cases of consumption except in patients of school age.

7. Ordered, That such rooms and such articles in any house, as in the opinion of the Board of Health have been subjected to infection or contagion from smallpox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, or consumption, shall be disinfected by the Board. The attending physician or the Agent of the Board of Health shall decide in each case as to the proper time for disinfecting, and shall then notify the Board; but in no case of scarlet fever shall disinfection be done in less than four weeks from the commencement of the last case in the household (except by special permit of the Agent of the Board); and in diphtheria disinfection shall not be done until after at least two successive negative bacteriological cultures from both nose and throat have been obtained; and in all cases a certificate of the attending physician shall be required, stating that all danger of infection from the patient is passed; said certificate in case of diphtheria to be based on the result of bacteriological examinations as above prescribed. Disinfection by the Board shall also be done in every case after a death from consumption, and after the removal of a consumptive patient, whenever in the opinion of the attending physician or of the Agent of the Board, disinfection is necessary.

8. Ordered, That no public funeral shall be held over the remains of any person who has died of smallpox, scarlet fever or diphtheria, without the written permit of the Board of Health, and under such regulations as may prevent the spread of either of said diseases. Ordered, further, that the remains of any person who has died from either of said diseases shall at once be placed in a tight or sealed coffin, and shall not thereafter be exposed to view or disturbed except for burial.

9. Ordered, That the undertakers of the town be notified to warn families, in the case of the death of a member from contagious disease, against a public funeral.

10. Ordered, That a circular suggesting precautions for preventing the spread of scarlet fever, malarial fever, and diphtheria, be sent to every household in which a case may be reported. That in case of consumption a circular be sent to the attending physician with the request that he either hand it to a suitable member of the family, or himself impart the information contained in the circular.

11. Ordered, That no person infected with diphtheria, membranous croup, or scarlet fever, shall leave the Board of Health Hospital until the Board of Health or its Agent shall find and certify that all danger of communicating such disease has passed.

12. Ordered, That no person other than patients, physicians, and nurses shall enter the Board of Health Hospital, except with the special permission of the Board, or of its Agent.

13. Ordered, That visiting the grounds of the Board of Health Hospital shall be allowed daily between the hours of 2 and 3 P. M. only, except with the special permission of the Agent of the Board; but in no case shall children be allowed to visit the premises.

14. Ordered, That no article of food be sent to the patients in the Board of Health Hospital excepting fruit, which must be left with the nurse in charge.

15. Ordered, That in the case of death where the deceased had not been attended by a practicing physician, the certificate of death shall be issued by the Medical Examiner.

16. Ordered, That no dead body of any person shall be carried to any cemetery, or from one place to another within the town, in any public vehicle other than a hearse or undertaker's wagon provided for that purpose.

17. Ordered, That the use of "wall draperies" in any room or place used for a funeral or for the preparation or retention of any human body before or in connection with such funeral be and the same is hereby forbidden.

18. Ordered, That no person shall spit upon the floor of any public conveyance, shop, store, hall, church, school-house, railroad station, or other public building in said town, or upon the steps of any of said conveyances or buildings, or upon the sidewalk (spitting into the gutter or street is not forbidden) of any public way of said town.

19. Ordered, That no person or corporation shall keep or allow to be kept upon any premises in his or its possession, within the limits of this town, any swine or more than one cow, without securing a permit from the Board of Health to do so. Such permit shall expire on the first day of May, annually.

20. Ordered, That no person or corporation shall use any building as a stable for cows, unless such building is properly lighted and ventilated; has a tight floor and roof; good drainage, connecting wherever practicable with the public sewer; a supply of pure water, and not less than one thousand cubic feet of air space for each animal.

21. Ordered, That manure shall not be allowed to accumulate in the neighborhood of barns. Yards surrounding buildings where cows are kept must be well drained and free from standing water and filth. The barns shall be kept as clean as possible, and the floor shall be sprinkled before being swept.

22. Ordered, That animals kept for the production of milk shall not be fed upon swill.

23. Ordered, That neither hogs nor manure shall be kept in cellars of cow stables, except by special permit of the Board of Health.

24. Ordered, That a person having any infectious disease (the Board considers consumption to come within the meaning of the statutes in regard to infectious diseases), or having recently been in contact with any such person, shall not be allowed to milk cows or handle cans, measures or other vessels used for milk intended for sale, or in any way take part or assist in the sale of the same, until the Board of Health is satisfied that all danger of communicating such disease is past.

25. Ordered, The premises where cattle are kept shall be open at all times to inspection by the Board of Health, or its appointed officer.

26. Ordered, That upon satisfactory evidence being furnished to the Board of Health of violation of any of the above regulations, the permit will be revoked.

27. Ordered, That no vault or cesspool shall be emptied by any other than the odorless process, nor by carts not of the Odorless Excavating Company, except permission be first obtained from the Chief of Police. It is further ordered that neither night-soil nor the contents of cesspools shall be dumped within the limits of the town.

28. Ordered, That the manure from livery stables shall not be removed between the hours of sunrise and sunset.

29. Ordered, That no manure heap shall be allowed within one hundred feet of any dwelling, unless so covered as not to prove offensive.

30. Ordered, That all householders be required to keep the waste material set out by them for removal by the town in separate receptacles.

(1) One or more of such receptacles shall be for garbage or swill and shall have tight-fitting covers. (An old pork barrel, beer keg, or lead cask makes an excellent swill barrel and may advantageously be kept in a tight garbage locker.)

(2) A second receptacle or receptacles, preferably made of iron, shall be used for ashes, tin cans, and other incombustible waste.

(3) A third separate set of receptacles shall be used for dry combustible waste, such as paper, old shoes, house sweepings, and such other waste material as it is customary for the Health department to remove.

31. Ordered, That no person shall overhaul the contents of receptacles for waste material set upon the sidewalks to be removed by the town.

32. Ordered, That any person having reason to suspect the presence of glanders and farcy among horses shall immediately report that suspicion, together with the street and number of the premises at which the animal is kept, to the Board of Health, when the Veterinary Inspector will at once examine the animal.*

33. Ordered, That the milk cans or jars of milk dealers shall not be left at any house in which there is a case of diphtheria, scarlet fever, or smallpox, but the milk shall be poured into receptacles furnished by the customer.

EXTRACT FROM THE REVISED LAWS.

CHAP. 75, SECT. 65. The board of health shall examine into all nuisances, sources of filth, and causes of sickness within its town, . . . which may in its opinion be injurious to the public health, shall destroy, remove, or prevent the same as the case may require and shall make regulations for the public health and safety relative thereto, and relative to articles which are capable of containing or conveying infection or contagion or of creating sickness which are brought into or conveyed from its town. . . . Whoever violates any such regulation shall forfeit not more than one hundred dollars.

*The more ordinary symptoms of glanders and farcy are: A discharge from the nostrils, enlargement and hardness of the glands under the lower jaw; or nodular enlargement of the skin with or without ulceration.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REVISED LAWS CONCERNING VACCINATION.

CHAP. 75, SECT. 136. A parent or guardian who neglects to cause his child or ward to be vaccinated before the child or ward attains the age of two years, except as provided in section one hundred and thirty-nine,* shall forfeit five dollars for every year during which such neglect continues.

CHAP. 75, SECT. 137. The board of health of a city or town if, in its opinion, it is necessary for the public health or safety, shall require and enforce the vaccination and re-vaccination of all the inhabitants thereof and shall provide them with the means of free vaccination. Whoever, being over twenty-one years of age and not under guardianship, refuses or neglects to comply with such requirement shall forfeit five dollars.

[Application for free vaccination, by persons who are unable to pay for it, may be made to the Clerk or Agent of the Board.]

CHAP. 44, SECT. 6. A child who has not been vaccinated shall not be admitted to a public school except upon presentation of a certificate signed by a regular practising physician that he is not a fit subject for vaccination. A child who is a member of a household in which a person is ill with smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or measles, or of a household exposed to such contagion from another household as aforesaid, shall not attend any public school during such illness or until the teacher of the school has been furnished with a certificate from the board of health of the city or town, or from the attending physician of such person, stating that, in a case of smallpox, diphtheria, or scarlet fever at least two weeks, and in a case of measles, at least three days, have elapsed since the recovery, removal, or death of such person, and that danger of conveying such disease by such child has passed.

PRESERVATION OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

[Revised Laws, Chapter 75.]

SECT. 49. A householder who knows that a person in his family or house is sick of smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever or any other infectious or contagious disease dangerous to the public health shall forthwith give notice thereof to the board of health of the city or town in which he dwells. Upon the death, recovery, or removal of such person, the householder shall disinfect to the satisfaction of the board such rooms of his house and articles therein as, in the opinion of the board, have been exposed to infection or contagion.† Whoever violates the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars.

SECT. 50. If a physician knows that a person whom he is called to visit is infected with smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof in writing over his own signature to the selectmen or board of health of the town; and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars for each offense.

[The Board of Health considers smallpox, chicken pox, scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria, membranous croup, cholera, typhus fever, typhoid fever, pulmonary and laryngeal tuberculosis, and malarial fever to come within the meaning of sections 49 and 50 of the above, but disinfection after measles, chicken pox, typhoid fever and malarial fever is not required. The Agent of the Board, if the circumstances justify it, will give special permission to remain in school to children in the household who have previously had measles.]

*Sect. 139 exempts children who present a certificate signed by a registered physician that they are unfit subjects for vaccination.

†In Brooklyn disinfection after smallpox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, and consumption is done by the Board of Health, and is done free of expense where the householder is unable to pay for it.

REPORT OF AGENT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,
BROOKLINE, MASS., Jan. 31st, 1905.

To the Honorable Board of Health:—

GENTLEMEN, — I have the honor to submit the following report for the year ending December 31st, 1904, also for the fiscal year ending January 31st, 1905.

Mortality.

During the calender year 1904, one death occurred from diphtheria, one from scarlet fever, one from typhoid fever and eighteen from tuberculosis ; fifteen of the latter were cases of consumption. There were no deaths from whooping-cough, measles or cerebro-spinal meningitis. Among the deaths from other diseases, nineteen were reported from pneumonia and thirty from cancer.

The number of deaths from all causes during the calendar year was 301, as against 303 in 1903, and 319 in 1902. This number of deaths (301) includes besides all those that actually occurred in Brookline (among them twenty-one deaths of non-residents) forty-six deaths of residents of Brookline who were away from home. Deducting the number of still-births (14) and the number of deaths of non-residents (21), there were 266 deaths during the year. This number of deaths with a population of 24,000, as estimated by the Town Clerk, gives a mortality of 11.08 per thousand inhabitants, as against 11.57 for the previous year.

During the fiscal year ending January 31st, 1905, there were two deaths from cerebro-spinal meningitis, one each from diphtheria and from scarlet fever, and fifteen from consumption. There were no deaths from typhoid fever, whooping-cough or measles. Among the deaths from other diseases, eighteen were reported from pneumonia and thirty-five from cancer. The number of deaths from all causes, of Brookline residents, during the fiscal year, after deducting the number of still-births (17), was 263. This number of deaths, with an estimated population of 24,000, gives a mortality of 10.95 per thousand inhabitants.

Infectious Diseases.

During the calendar year there were reported to the Board thirty-three cases of diphtheria, twenty-nine cases of scarlet fever, twenty-one cases of typhoid fever, seven cases of malarial fever, one hundred and six cases of measles, forty-one cases of chicken pox and thirty-two cases of consumption, occurring as follows:—

	Diphtheria.	Scarlet Fever.	Typhoid Fever.	Malarial Fever.	Measles.	Smallpox.	Chicken pox.	Consumption.

Totals for calendar year	33	29	21	7	106	0	41	32
Totals for fiscal year	35	40	19	7	99	0	55	34

The following table shows the number of cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever and typhoid fever reported during the last five years, and the number of cases of consumption reported since notification was first required in March, 1902:—

	Diphtheria	Scarlet Fever	Typhoid Fever	Consumption
1900	247	29	16
1901	158	27	26
1902	64	61	20	20
1903	55	54	17	27
1904	33	29	21	32

Diphtheria.

The number of cases of diphtheria (33) the past calendar year was twenty-two less than during the previous year, and the smallest for several years. Of this number nineteen were admitted to the Board of Health Hospital.

Scarlet Fever.

The number of cases of scarlet fever (29) was twenty-five less than that of the previous year. Of these twenty-nine patients, fourteen were cared for in the hospital.

Consumption.

The number of new cases of this disease reported during the year was thirty-two, an increase of five over that of the previous year.

Though the physicians are more careful to report to the Board cases of consumption and of laryngeal tuberculosis than when the order requiring it was first issued, there is still reason to believe that all physicians are not yet complying with the rule in every case. This is due more to carelessness, it is believed, than to any other cause, but the writer takes this opportunity to call attention to the requirement.

The need in this neighborhood of more adequate hospital accommodations for poor patients in the advanced and most infectious stage of consumption is still very great. It is practically impossible for a consumptive in the latter stages to live in a boarding house or tenement without being a real menace to the health of those about him.

Since unsanitary dwellings or apartments, especially those lacking sufficient sunshine and fresh air, are most important factors in causing consumption, more care should be exercised, both by landlords and tenants, to ensure better conditions in these respects.

Typhoid Fever.

Typhoid fever was more prevalent by four cases than during the previous year. Of the twenty-one cases reported, however, only one terminated fatally. The largest number reported in any one month was in September, when seven cases were reported. As usual in Brookline a large proportion of the cases of this disease were found on investigation to have been contracted away from home while on vacation.

Smallpox.

No smallpox cases were reported during the year, but protection against this disease by vaccination, especially of infants and school children, as provided by the law, has been attended to as far as practicable. The vaccine produced and furnished free by the State Board of Health proves very satisfactory.

The need of a suitable building for the isolation and proper care of smallpox patients has been recognized by the Board, and the plans for the building have been prepared.

Measles and Chicken Pox.

Measles was prevalent to a considerable extent during the first half of the year, during which time all but four of the one hundred and six reported cases occurred.

Chicken pox was more prevalent than usual, forty-one cases being reported, as against twelve the previous year. The number of cases reported (41) by no means fairly represents the actual prevalence of this disease, since a number of families did not call in a physician or report the cases themselves.

Malarial Fever.

The number of cases of malarial fever reported to the Board the past season was seven, one less than during the previous year.

Early in May letters were sent by the Board to forty land-owners or their agents, requesting their co-operation in preventing the breeding of mosquitos on their premises. Nine of these parties replied requesting that the necessary work be done by the Health department, and promising to pay for it, which all but one or two have since done. Two other parties did all the work themselves, under the general direction of the department. Other places on private land needing preventive work were attended to by the department and the expense charged to the owners, and considerable work was done on town land.

Most of the work done was of a permanent nature, namely the draining or filling in of stagnant pools found to be breeding malarial mosquitos. Over a thousand street catch-basins, located in thickly settled parts of the town, and found to be breeding places of the common mosquito, were treated with petroleum by the street department about every four weeks throughout the season. It is very necessary that land owners should co-operate more generally with the Board in its efforts to abate the prevalence of malarial and of common mosquitos in the town, especially in the more thickly settled parts.

Sanitary Inspection.

Although no serious epidemic has appeared in the town during the past year, the writer desires to emphasize the need of periodical and systematic sanitary inspection of tenements and other dwellings and premises in the more densely populated sections of the town. In this way only can over-crowding, damp and filthy cellars, sunless sleeping rooms and other conditions leading to debility, rheumatism, consumption and other diseases be prevented. At present we have no such inspection.

Medical Inspection of School Children.

The systematic medical inspection of the pupils of the Brookline public schools and of the parochial school has now been in existence ten years. Much good was expected from this inspection and the expectation has been fulfilled. It is generally agreed among sanitarians that schools, more than any other single factor, are responsible for the spread of diphtheria, scarlet fever, and other diseases that prevail among children. This being so, the importance of careful supervision by specially qualified physicians, of school pupils, and especially of those in the younger grades, must be evident to every thoughtful person. Among the results of this inspection may be mentioned not only the detection in the early stages of cases of infectious disease and the prevention in this way of epidemics of the more serious children's diseases, but the greater care of a number of parents to keep at home children found to be indisposed, and also the greater care to see that the children are kept free from affections of the skin and from other conditions that might make their presence in school objectionable.

The writer wishes here to call attention to the need of inspection, by specialists, of the eyes, ears, naso-pharynx and teeth of all the school children. This need not occasion great expense and would save many children from arrest of physical and mental development, and prevent many cases of eye strain, deafness, nervous disease and premature loss of the teeth, with all the resultant ill health and suffering from such conditions. This matter has been brought by the writer to the attention of the School Board's Sub-Committee on Hygiene and is now receiving consideration.

The physicians who served as medical inspectors of school pupils during the past year were Doctors B. S. Blanchard, G. H. Francis, H. M. Cutts, E. M. Bowker, C. S. Francis, T. J. Shanahan, J. Kittredge and R. W. Hastings, and the substitutes, all of whom were called to serve for a time, were Doctors L. W. Gilbert, A. G. Williams and E. Jones.

Inspection of Milk.

Since typhoid fever, diphtheria and scarlet fever are sometimes disseminated by infected milk, the Agent of the Board has constantly kept this fact in mind, and whenever two or more cases of the same disease have been reported about the same time in any one milk route, an investigation has been made and further steps if necessary have been taken. The purity of milk is of such great importance, especially in the case of bottle-fed infants and other young children, that during the past year many samples of milk delivered in the town by a number of the dealers have been subjected to an approved test, consisting of a careful count of the bacteria contained in one cubic centimeter of the milk on its arrival in the town. Milk found to contain over half a million bacteria to the cubic centimeter is below the required standard either of cleanliness or of freshness and constitutes sufficient ground for further investigation by the Milk Inspector.

The Board of Health Laboratory.

The laboratory has continued during the past year to furnish free to all physicians an early and correct diagnosis in cases of diphtheria, consumption, typhoid fever and malarial fever. The outfits for making these tests may be obtained at the drug stores of Messrs. Young & Brown, of Mr. Hayman, and of Mr. Gilcreas.

The Board of Health Hospital.

The year's work at the Board of Health Hospital is described elsewhere, in the report of its superintendent.

Noise Nuisances.

The steadily increasing amount of street noise in the town the past year has at certain times and places amounted to a serious nuisance. This led to the adoption of two measures which it is hoped will before long result in some relief. The Boston Elevated Railroad Company was written to, requesting the prevention of unnecessary noise in running the cars in Brookline, especially in the very early morning and the late evening hours and in such residential streets as Harvard street, and in reply the President of the road promised that the request should receive consideration. There appears to be no good reason why the electric railways in the suburbs of Boston should not be run as nearly noiselessly as are those in the suburbs of many European cities. A copy of the following circular was sent to every milk dealer delivering milk in Brookline:—

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

BROOKLINE, MASS., Aug. 1st, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Health respectfully requests your co-operation in securing greater quiet in the town during the very early morning hours. Disturbing noises are a nuisance, if not a direct and appreciable injury to health. This is especially true when sleep is interrupted, as is often the case in the morning delivery of milk (during the spring, summer and fall, when the bedroom windows are generally wide open), by the noise of a number of carelessly driven, rattling milk wagons, which often begin their delivery soon after 3 A. M., and continue to disturb sleep, more or less, for some three hours. Not only are the sick very often sufferers from this cause, but many other persons have complained of the disturbance.

The Board, therefore, requests every dealer delivering milk at houses in Brookline to carefully inspect, and if necessary, to alter his wagons with reference to preventing rattling and other loud noise, and also to instruct the drivers to drive slowly when near dwelling houses, to avoid cobblestone gutters, to handle the cans and bottles quietly, to refrain from shouting and in all other ways to do their work without unnecessary noise.

Yours respectfully,

JAMES M. CODMAN, JR., Chairman.

FRED'K H. OSGOOD, M.R.C.V.S., Inspector of Milk.

The Milk Inspector and his assistant have caused some of the noisiest wagons to be put into proper condition and are continuing their efforts in this direction.

The General Health.

As will be seen from this report, the health of the town during the past year has been good. A death rate of only 11.08 to the thousand inhabitants is certainly cause for congratulation.

As a means of maintaining and further improving the health of the people, not only the various measures already mentioned in this report must be continued, and where practicable improved upon, but quite a number of additional measures deserve and are receiving the consideration of those charged with its supervision. Among these should be mentioned the providing of as many places as practicable for exercise and recreation in our public parks and playgrounds and in the commodious, centrally located and well equipped municipal gymnasium that has been planned. The experience with the playgrounds we already have indicates that they are fully appreciated and of very great service to the health of the children and youth of the town. The proposed gymnasium will undoubtedly be a means of furnishing not only the school pupils, but hundreds of other young people, both men and women, just the kind of exercise needed to offset the injurious effects of the too sedentary or otherwise unhealthful occupations that many of them have to follow.

The experience also at the Public Baths on Tappan street and at the Lincoln and new Heath Schools, where excellent shower baths have been installed, indicates that the facilities of a gymnasium adjoining the Public Baths would be availed of by an even larger number of people. At the former establishment, the past year, the number of baths taken was 55,017, the largest attendance in its history.

Acknowledgments.

In closing the writer wishes to cordially thank the town officials and the many citizens who have in various ways assisted him in his work.

Respectfully submitted,

H. LINCOLN CHASE, M. D.,

Agent, Board of Health.

REPORT OF THE BACTERIOLOGIST.

LABORATORY OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,
BROOKLINE, MASS., February 1st, 1905.

To the Board of Health:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to submit the following report for the year ending January 31st, 1905:—

The routine work of the laboratory has been of the same character as during the preceding years. It has consisted of—

(1) The examination of cultures and swabs from suspected cases of diphtheria;

(2) The examination of sputum for the early detection of cases of pulmonary tuberculosis;

(3) The test for the presence of the typhoid, or so-called Widal's reaction;

(4) The examination of the blood for the presence of the plasmodium malariae.

All of the above examinations are made without charge for residents of Brookline. The necessary outfits for the use of physicians are kept at the following drug stores: at Young and Brown's, Harvard square; at Hayman's, corner of Beacon and Harvard streets, and at Gilcreas', corner of Beacon and Washington streets.

For a small fee, other microscopical and chemical examinations which aid in the diagnosis of non-contagious diseases are made for the physicians of the town.

Diphtheria.

There have been examined 618 cultures from 302 persons during the past year. Of these 302 persons, 32 were found to have Klebs-Loeffler bacilli. Many of these positive cases appeared to be simple sore throat, and could not have been recognized as dangerous to other members of the family and to the public except by cultures.

Very few cultures were made in the schools, as in no instance did it seem very probable that the disease was spreading in that way.

Swab Examinations. In order to secure an earlier diagnosis of some cases of diphtheria than is possible by means of cultures which are incubated for twelve hours, the laboratory now offers to make examinations directly from cotton swabs which have been wiped over suspected areas in the throat. On week days, when requested, the laboratory will make these swab examinations, provided the outfits are brought directly to the laboratory before 4 p. m., except on Saturdays, when they must be brought in before 12 m. No swab examinations are made on Sundays or holidays. Twenty-five swab examinations have been made during the past year, four of them being positive.

The results of the examination of the swabs are much less reliable than the regular culture examinations, as it is often difficult to recognize the bacilli even when present in these fresh preparations. A negative swab examination especially is of very little value.

Tuberculosis.

There were 118 specimens of sputum examined for the presence of the bacilli of tuberculosis, 32 with positive result.

Typhoid Fever.

Fifty-eight tests were made for the presence of the typhoid or Widal reaction, with specimens of dried blood from 52 persons with symptoms suggestive of typhoid fever. The reaction was present in 14 of these.

Malaria.

Twenty-six specimens of blood were sent to the laboratory for examination for the presence of the plasmodium malariae. In three of these the malarial organisms were found. This test would undoubtedly have been more frequently resorted to, had it not been for the work of the Board in exterminating the anopheles mosquitos the past three seasons.

The following table shows the routine bacteriological work that has been done in the laboratory during the past six years:—

REPORT OF THE SANITARY AGENT.

TOWN HALL, BROOKLINE, MASS., January 31st, 1905.

To the Board of Health.—

GENTLEMEN,— AS Sanitary Agent, I have the honor to submit the following report for the year ending January 31st, 1905.

In the majority of complaints of nuisances brought to my attention during the past year, through your honorable Board or otherwise, a commendable willingness has been displayed by the citizens to carry out the orders of the Board relating to sanitary improvements, and in most instances where the correction of sanitary defects caused little or no expense, they were rectified on receipt of my recommendations. Owing to the preventive measures of this department in past years, there have been but few complaints which required extensive changes in plumbing or drainage. As in previous years complaints have been made by tenants who wished to have premises declared unsanitary as a pretext for breaking their lease with owner, but investigations having disclosed the object of complaint and the fact that the complaint was unwarranted or did not come under the jurisdiction of the Board of Health, the Sanitary Agent has invariably refrained from taking any action in the matter. In this connection, it may be proper to state that occasional requests are still received from householders to inspect the plumbing in houses where cases of scarlet fever, typhoid fever, or diphtheria have appeared. It was formerly believed even by some sanitarians that these diseases sometimes arose from bad drainage or defective plumbing, but bacteriological researches have conclusively disproven this, and consequently requests to inspect plumbing under these circumstances will be declined unless coming from the Board or its Medical Agent.

Complaints charging serious offences against the public health have been long and frequent against one particular locality, embracing two stables and an old business building in which was a sleeping apartment. Thorough investigations were made and the owners were ordered to correct the offensive conditions. This has been done by connecting the drainage with the sewer in the case of the two stables, and by making other extensive changes which in the opinion of this department will prevent any cause for complaint in the future.

	No. of Complaints.	No. of Inspections.
Premises untidy	46	77
Stables offensive	17	79
Water closets defective and offensive	13	33
Drainage defective	7	13
Garbage lockers offensive	6	13
Privies offensive	6	11
Cesspools defective	5	16
Offensive odors in or about buildings	5	16
Cellars untidy	5	12
Manure exposed and offensive	5	8
Miscellaneous	7	9
Total	122	287

As seen in the foregoing table, the number of complaints against untidy premises has been large, but considerable of these required only the actual cleaning up and removal of the garbage and miscellaneous rubbish accumulated during the winter months.

By request of the attending physicians or Agent of the Board, inspections have been made of the drainage and general sanitary arrangements of three dwellings where there had been cases of serious infectious disease.

In accordance with Chapter 75 of the Revised Laws, periodical inspections of bakeries and their surroundings have been made, and in all cases they were found to be in a fair general condition.

During the year the Board granted permits to build and maintain seven cesspools in locations where sewer connections were not available. The number of permits issued for improving the drainage was thirty.

From February 1st, 1904, to January 31st, 1905, Mr. W. E. Ward, disinfecter for the Board, disinfected with formaldehyde and corrosive sublimate solution, or formalin, as follows: 61 rooms and 11 bath rooms after 30 cases of diphtheria, 46 rooms and 6 bath rooms after 34 cases of scarlet fever, 24 rooms after 23 cases of tuberculosis, also the 3 bath rooms, basements, hallways and elevators of two apartment hotels after a case of the latter disease, one room each after fatal cases of typhoid fever, erysipelas and cancer, and 145 library books. He has also disinfected, upon recommendation of the attending physician, after 2 cases of measles, 2 of diphtheria exposure, 1 of tuberculosis, 1 of typhoid fever, and a quantity of clothing, books, etc., all of which was paid for by the parties for whom the work was done, when able to pay for it, if not it was done at the expense of the Health department.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL DUFFLEY,

Sanitary Agent.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF ANIMALS, PROVISIONS, AND MILK.

To the Brookline Board of Health:—

A general inspection of all cattle in the town was made in October. The physical condition of all the animals was good, with no indications of contagious diseases, and a proper report was sent to the State Cattle Bureau. The herds appeared to be well nourished, and, except in a few instances, were kept under good sanitary conditions. The owners of the herds under criticism were instructed to make such changes as were considered necessary.

Three horses affected with glanders were killed by the State Cattle Bureau. This is three less than last year. One bull was killed for tuberculosis.

My attention was called in May, by the Chief of the State Cattle Bureau, to the condition of the drinking fountains in the town. As these fountains are in charge of the Water department, the matter was referred to them. The Bureau was promptly notified that the fountains and drinking troughs were cleaned just before the notice was received.

The semi-annual inspection of cattle stables was made in May.

Milk Inspection.

Every milk wagon has been examined and when necessary suggestions have been given as to the proper arrangement of boxes and compartments and the packing of milk bottles, with a view to prevent unnecessary noise, as well as to prevent contamination of milk and receptacles by contact with dirty cans, blankets, etc. A special circular on this subject was issued to milkmen August 1st. Pressure has also been brought to bear upon owners of defective and noisy wagons, also upon noisy drivers, thereby stopping much unnecessary annoyance from this source.

Laboratory Report.

During the year 1904, 801 samples of milk were examined at the laboratory in the Town Hall. Of these, 56, or 7 per cent of the whole, were below the legal standard. Of these low samples 40 were poor enough to warrant sending a notice to the dealer. This was done in each case and the notification has sufficed to bring the milk up to the proper standard, and it has been unnecessary this year to resort to legal proceedings.

During the year the department has made a considerable number of bacteriological examinations. The work has been done according to the methods of Prof. Conn of Wesleyan University, the cultures being made on a medium very carefully prepared to distinguish between colonies of acid-forming, putrefactive and other bacteria. The result of this examination has been to show that there might be, and ought to be much greater care taken to keep the milk supply clean and wholesome. There will undoubtedly be room for improvement along this line for many years to come, and I deem it advisable that a sufficient amount be added to the appropriation to allow me to arrange with the bacteriological laboratory for the counting of bacteria in suspected samples. I would advise in this connection the adoption of the regulation adopted by the Boston Board of Health last April, that "No person, by himself, or by his servant or agent, or as the servant or agent of any other person, firm or corporation, shall bring into the city of Boston for purposes of sale, exchange or delivery, or sell, exchange, or deliver any milk, skimmed milk, or cream which contains more than 500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter, or which has a temperature higher than fifty degrees Fahrenheit."

The public and also the milk dealers have availed themselves of the privilege of sending milk to the laboratory for examination to a somewhat greater extent than last year, 15 samples having been received. It may not be out of place to state that "office samples" thus received and tested free of expense are not subjected to an exhaustive analysis, as this would be impossible on account of the time required. Such samples are reported upon as being above or below standard, and more than this the department cannot promise to give, although in many cases much more than this has been done. No formaline has been detected during the year. Upon special requests two or three samples have been examined for gelatine and one for borax, but with negative results in each case.

Food Inspection.

Reliable dealers in the town are beginning to appreciate the work of this branch of the department, as it in a measure eliminates the sale of inferior and adulterated brands which are usually sold at a low price, by their competitors. When this work was begun there were few stores in the town where adulterated foods in some form were not sold.

The present system of inspection has reversed this condition. There are, however, some flagrant violators of the law, against whom some action should be taken. Some of the dealers promptly discontinued the sale of brands that were in violation of the law when notified of such fact.

A pure-food law has been enacted by the recent Congress which clearly defines the amount of adulteration allowed on foods which in the process of manufacture must necessarily be more or less adulterated. It also gives to the local authorities considerable scope under which to make prosecutions. Considerable attention has been given to stores during the year with a view of preventing certain foods, confectionery, etc., which are commonly used uncooked, from exposure to dust and handling. Some merchants have shown gross carelessness in these matters and many instances have been found where the articles referred to have not only been susceptible to infection from the dust raised by sweeping and that from the street, but persons having contagious diseases, such as tuberculosis, would naturally infect the food in the act of coughing, while making purchases in the stores. The proper storing of milk by the merchants has also received attention.

Laboratory Report.

A year ago an appropriation was made to cover the expense of a certain amount of food analysis which, from the results of some preliminary work of that nature done during the preceding year, seemed to be advisable.

During the past year no steps have been taken to enforce the law, as the food inspection was a new thing, and many dealers were innocent violators. In many instances the fraudulent character of the goods consisted simply in misrepresentations by neglect of proper labelling.

Several packages of baking powder were found to contain alum with no mention of the same on label. A pure baking powder is, according to popular notion, composed of cream of tartar and cooking soda (saleratus), and while an alum powder may be as pure and may be as healthful, we notice the manufacturers are slow to advertise an alum powder as such. We contend that if an individual asks for baking powder, pays for and expects to get a cream of tartar powder, he should not be sold an alum powder, and of course the converse is equally true. Many cases of adulteration, however, are sold with evident intent to deceive. For instance, two samples of maple syrup were examined, both of which were largely adulterated with cane syrup and with but little pure maple in them. In these cases the local dealer was undoubtedly not guilty and should not be held responsible. During the coming year it is expected that some definite method of dealing with adulterated food cases will be decided upon.

Following is a list of the samples of foods and drugs examined during the year, numbering nearly two hundred.

Baking Powders. Several samples were examined as to their leavening power as well as to their adulteration. All were satisfactory except the failure to properly show the composition of baking powder by the label, to which previous reference has been made.

Brandy Drops. Two samples were examined, both of which came within the legal limit of the alcohol content.

Butter. Fourteen samples of cheap butter were examined, all of which were pure.

Cider. Ten samples of cider were taken and tested for salicylic acid, which is largely used as a preservative, but, as it happened, they were taken in the cider season, and no salicylic acid was found.

Cream of Tartar. Several samples conformed to the requirements of the pharmacopœa.

Extract of Lemon. Six samples were examined; two only contained oil of lemon, two might properly be regarded as spurious, while two contained no lemon oil but bore a label which did not claim that lemon oil was a constituent of the preparation.

Extract of Orange. One sample was examined and found all it was represented to be.

Extract of Vanilla. Two samples were examined and neither contained any vanilla. A label in very fine type gave the formula as containing cumarin and vanillin: nevertheless the portion of the label most easily seen read "Extract of Vanilla."

Hamburg Steak. One sample was examined for artificial coloring matter, with negative results.

Iodine Tincture. Of seven samples examined only two were fully up to the U. S. P. standard. The others, however, were only slightly below it.

Lard. Thirty samples have been examined for cottonseed oil. One sample contained a considerable amount of this adulterant, four a slight amount, and three a trace only (possibly accidental); at least 10 per cent of samples examined contained cottonseed oil.

Maple Syrup. Two samples, both largely adulterated with cane syrup.

Salad Cream. One sample was brought in, but little time was spent in its examination, as it might legally contain almost anything not injurious to health. Nothing harmful was found, but its composition was not ascertained.

Saleratus. Twelve samples of bicarbonate of soda (cooking soda or saleratus) have been examined. Two were found to be low in percentage of carbonic acid, and one contained salt. The others were pure.

Sweet Spirits of Nitre. Eight samples were examined, all but one of which had suffered somewhat from age, although there was no evidence of intentional fraud.

Tomatoes. One can of tomatoes examined, no adulteration detected.

Vinegar. Twenty-one samples of vinegar have been examined and only one was spurious. This is rather a remarkable showing and probably accidental, as there has always been a considerable amount of spurious vinegar sold.

The analysis of vinegar by the department is not a new thing. In the state law butter and vinegar inspection is a part of the work of the Milk Inspector, and these articles have been tested with more or less regularity for a number of years.

Water. Fourteen samples of water were taken in connection with the dairy inspection. Five of these were contaminated, mostly with barnyard drainage, but to an extent that made their use undesirable, to say the least.

Dairy Inspection. The inspector when possible has had the milkmen who deliver the product in Brookline accompany him when visiting dairies from which their supply is obtained. This has had a good effect upon dealers, tending to educate them upon the proper methods of sanitation in connection with milk production.

A great many dairymen have feared losing the sale of their milk after being told that their barns, cattle or methods of handling milk were objectionable to your Inspector, and consequently immediately acted upon the suggestions and instructions given them. In milk-raising districts, the local inspectors as a rule are not compensated enough for their services to admit of a thorough inspection of all dairies in their districts and consequently give their attention mostly to those dairymen who market their product within their own town. As an illustration, the Brookline Inspector last June told a local inspector of the filthy conditions found on a man's farm within the Inspector's district, and he, not knowing the Brookline man's business there, remarked, "We don't care, the milk goes out of town." The milk dealer, who was present, discontinued taking the milk the following week.

There are milkmen who continue to take milk that is raised under filthy and unsanitary conditions, and others who raise their own milk, under like conditions, against which some preventive measure should be applied that milk from such sources may not be sold in Brookline. There are also a few, whose source of water supply is anything but desirable, as an analysis showed the water to be contaminated. Over a score of citizens have visited the office for the purpose of ascertaining the conditions of the dairies from which their supply came; among these were three physicians.

Practically all the dairies within a radius of fifteen miles from the town, from which milk is sent to Brookline, have been inspected and the results obtained have been such as to make it advisable to continue the work among the dairies at a greater distance.

Inspection of Stores.

A general inspection has been made of the sanitary condition of provision stores and their surroundings, generally with satisfactory results. In one case of specific complaint by a citizen, the evils were promptly corrected, after examination and notice to the owner.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH HOSPITAL.

BROOKLINE, MASS., Jan. 31st, 1905.

To the Honorable Board of Health:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to submit the following report for the year ending January 31st, 1905.

The following table shows the number of patients admitted to the hospital each month:—

1904	Diphtheria	Scarlet Fever	Measles	Erysipelas
February	0	0	2	0
March	0	3	4	0
April	3	3	5	1
May	2	0	3	1
June	5	0	0	1
September	1	3	0	0

December	1	2	0	0
January	5	5	0	0

In addition to the above-mentioned patients, one was admitted, believed to be ill with diphtheria, but the bacteriological test had not been made, and the case proved to be one of abscess of the tonsil. Having been kept isolated from the other patients, no harm resulted.

Including the latter patient, the total number admitted was 64. This number does not include two mothers who were given special permission to make a short sojourn with their children. Of the 66 persons admitted, 56 were in the wards and 10 were in private rooms. The number of Brookline residents at the hospital was 56, and of non-residents 10. Of the entire number of patients during the year, only one died. This patient had diphtheria of the most malignant type, and although a consultation with Dr. McCollom was held the morning after entrance, the patient died early the next morning. State Board antitoxin was given every diphtheria patient. A large number of the patients the past year were very seriously ill, a number requiring the help of specialists; fortunately, however, all except the patient mentioned recovered.

All of the three erysipelas patients were adults and so situated that they could neither be cared for at home nor in any Boston hospital.

The fourteen measles patients were with one exception adults, most of them employed as domestics.

Although the total number of patients admitted (64) was one less than during the previous year, 1903, the proportionate number of all the infectious cases in the town the past year taken care of in the hospital has been considerably larger.

There are in the hospital at the close of the fiscal year eleven patients.

The four new hospital buildings have required only very slight repairs the past year. The small wooden building that formerly served as a diphtheria hospital has been greatly improved by the installation of an adequate heating plant and a bath room, and is now used when necessary for patients with measles and occasionally for cases of erysipelas.

The monolith floors of the new buildings for diphtheria and scarlet fever patients will need to be revarnished the coming summer, and some slight but very important changes in the basement of the central building would materially lessen the labor of the engineer.

The heating and disinfecting plants have done their work satisfactorily, but it is regrettable that the former requires during the winter months the services of a fireman to assist the engineer at night.

The Hospital horse and ambulance are in very satisfactory condition.

Appended is the report of the matron and resident nurse.

In closing the writer takes this opportunity to express his appreciation of the cordial support of the members of the Board, and of its bacteriologist, also of several other physicians, of many parents of patients, and of the officials and employees in the various positions at the hospital.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE MATRON AND RESIDENT NURSE
OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH HOSPITAL.

BROOKLINE, MASS., Jan. 31st, 1905.

To the Honorable Board of Health:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to submit the following report for the year ending January 31st, 1905:—

Number of persons admitted to the Hospital	66
Number of persons discharged	54
Number of deaths	1
Number remaining in the Hospital	11
Diphtheria patients	24
Scarlet fever patients	22
Measles patients	14
Erysipelas patients	3
Quinsy patients	1
Companions (two mothers)	2
	66

Records have been kept of all cases and filed with the charts for reference. The nursing has been largely done by pupil nurses from the New England Baptist Hospital, and when necessary a graduate nurse has been employed in the scarlet fever ward. They have done very efficient work; at times caring for four or more patients alone, except when relieved for an afternoon once a week by myself. These pupil nurses come for three months' training, having six weeks in the scarlet fever ward and six in the diphtheria ward, and one week quarantine. They have lessons in contagious nursing and bedside instruction.

There has been very little breakage or destruction of furnishings; some new dishes and furniture have been added to the administration building, and the measles ward has been thoroughly renovated.

We have had gifts of magazines, a number of discarded books from the Public Library, a picture for the diphtheria nurses' dining-room from Mr. William H. Lincoln, and from another friend of the hospital the gift of a dozen finger bowls for the same room.

Having a telephone in the ward has saved much time and given me a better opportunity to attend to my other duties.

Yours respectfully,
MARTHA W. MEEK,
Matron and Resident Nurse.

REPORT ON THE VITAL STATISTICS.

To the Board of Health of Brookline:—

The wooden gateway at the entrance to Walnut Hills Cemetery, which has served its purpose for a much longer time than was anticipated, is now so badly decayed that further repairs seem ill-advised. The Trustees have studied the matter of a gateway of a permanent character, appropriate but simple in design, with stone posts and iron gates, and for the construction of such an improvement recommend an appropriation of $800.

The improvement in the appearance of the old town cemetery on Walnut street, under the supervision of Mr. Sheehan of the Park department, is most noticeable, and now that the grass and surface of the grounds have been brought into fairly good condition only a small annual expenditure for care is necessary. For the coming year the Trustees recommend an appropriation of $200.

REPORT.

The Brookline Water Board herewith submits its twenty-ninth annual report, it being for the fiscal year ending January 31st, 1905.

As in former years, the reports of the Superintendent of the works and the engineers at the pumping stations, with pumping statistics, are appended.

At the annual town meeting held March 16th, 1904, Mr. T. J. Burke was re-elected a member of the Board for three years.

The Board organized with the choice of Oscar B. Mowry as Chairman. Z. R. Forbes was appointed as Registrar and Clerk, and Fayette F. Forbes as Superintendent of Works.

New Distributing Main.

The necessity of laying this main was due to the rapid growth of the town along Beacon street and in the district north of Coolidge Corner. For a number of years past complaints have frequently been received of an insufficient pressure in this vicinity and the question of generally re-inforcing the supply in the thickly settled portion of the town was carefully considered. After a thorough investigation of the matter, it was decided to recommend the laying of a twenty-four inch main from the reservoir to a point near Coolidge Corner.

Plans and estimates were therefore prepared and presented to the town, at a meeting held December 28th, 1904, and the necessary appropriation for this work was secured.

Bids for cast-iron pipe and special castings were at once solicited and were opened February 23d, 1904. R. D. Wood & Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., were the lowest bidders and were awarded the contract.

The actual work of laying the new main was commenced early in May and was continued without serious interruption until the latter part of November, when the work was completed. This main was laid from the corner of Fisher avenue and Boylston street, where it was connected directly with the force-main leading to the reservoir, over Boylston street, Sumner road, Gorham avenue, Greenough, Washington and Park streets, to the corner of Beacon street. Connections were made with various street mains along the route wherever practicable, thus reinforcing the entire distributing system.

Should a serious conflagration now occur in the thickly settled portion of the town, where an extraordinary amount of water would be required, this main would carry such a volume of water directly from the reservoir to the point needed that no lack of supply or pressure would be noticeable.

The cost of this work was well within the original estimate.

Extension.

Various petitions for short extensions of street mains, all guaranteeing five per cent income on the cost of the work, were granted last year. A detail of this work will be found in the report of the Superintendent, hereto annexed.

As the call for extensions has been somewhat less than usual, we have a sufficient supply of cast-iron pipe on hand to meet the ordinary requirements of the coming season.

During the past year it has been necessary to postpone the work of connecting dead ends of mains, as the time of the department was fully occupied in laying the new distributing main.

It is the purpose of the Board, however, to continue this work as time and opportunity offer.

Maintenance.

The electric lighting plant, mentioned in our last annual report, has been installed at the low-service pumping station and is now generating the light at a much lower sum than it could be obtained from a private company.

The new covered reservoir has been in constant use for nearly a year and is of great service in maintaining an ample reserve supply of water during the summer months. The reservoir grounds have been graded and seeded during the past year and will be planted with suitable shrubs in the early spring.

The buildings of the department have required only ordinary repairs and, with the exception of the work shop and stable, are fulfilling all necessary requirements; this building is very much crowded and additional accommodations will be required in the near future.

Meters.

An important step has been taken by the town in adopting the universal meter system. As all water hereafter supplied for both private and public uses will be metered, it will be possible to check waste, improper use and leakage in a manner which was never before attained.

It is believed by this Board that the use of meters will be for the best interests of the public and the expenditure of large sums for additional water supply will be further postponed by the checking of waste and unnecessary leakage.

The special committee appointed by the town at the annual town meeting of March 30th, 1904, for the purpose of considering the matter of water rates, gave the whole question a thorough investigation and unanimously recommended, at the town meeting held December 28th, 1904, "that meters should be introduced throughout the water works system."

At this meeting the following votes were passed:—

Voted, That hereafter all water used by the town in its various departments for public purposes be measured by meters, so far as practicable.

Voted, That all water now or hereafter supplied to water takers in this town, be furnished through meters as soon as meters can be installed on or for the premises of takers where meters are not now used, and in all buildings hereafter erected, and that all provisions of the water ordinances of the town which are inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed and rescinded.

Voted, That the town be recommended to appropriate at the next annual town meeting the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) to provide for the expense of installing water meters on premises of water takers where such meters are not now installed, and for meters necessary to measure the water used by the town or its departments for public purposes.

Voted, That the Water Board be charged with the execution of the foregoing votes and that it have all necessary powers in the premises.

In pursuance with the above votes, meters are now being installed on all unmetered services and it is hoped that the work will be completed during the coming year.

The following table shows the number and size of all meters now set:—

Quality of Water.

It can be said, as in former reports, that the water supply of the town is of unvarying purity. The State Board of Health have continued the practice of making chemical analyses of water taken from the pumping station, the covered reservoir and Charles river, the reports of which are on file at this office.

Number laid as per last report	3,987

Total laid 4,091

A mental review of the work of maintenance of the past year does not disclose anything especially out of the usual. It is to be expected, however, that each year will add more work to the department than the one preceding, and it is quite evident that the problems of the present will not be completely solved before the future ones appear.

A brief summary of the season's work is as follows:—

The usual care was taken of the pipes, hydrants, gates, stand-pipes and fountains, and various repairs made where necessary.

The high-service tank was painted with the best grade of asphaltum varnish on the inside, and on the outside with lead paint early in the season. A careful inspection was made of the tank at this time and a slight deterioration of the iron was noticed, but so slight that the tank can be safely used for many years — probably until one of larger capacity is required. Eventually it must be replaced, and it is hoped that a masonry reservoir can be built similar to the covered reservoir on Fisher Hill.

Repairs and changes were made in the screen house in February last, to fit it for use in connection with the new covered reservoir, as recommended in the annual report.

The adjoining grounds under the charge of this department were carefully graded and seeded, and arrangements have been made for planting suitable shrubs, as soon as the weather will permit.

A large part of the driven wells were examined, drilled and pumped out with diaphragm hand pumps. The accumulation of fine sand around the perforations at the bottom was removed in this way, and the yield of water was much increased thereby. This work should be repeated the coming season.

The usual care has been taken of all grounds under the charge of this department.

The standing grass on the Charles River meadows was sold for $200.00.

The amount of water consumed has increased the past year, and the per capita rate is greater, as the table following will show:—

PER CAPITA RATE PER DAY.

1894	84 gallons
1895	88 "
1896	82 "
1897	79 "
1898	79 "
1899	80 "
1900	86 "
1901	92 "
1902	88 "
1903	89 "
1905	98 "

The rate stated above is calculated from the water pumped as indicated by the engine counter, and no deductions have been made for slips in the pumps or for any other cause.

Quite an effort has been made the past season to find leaks, if such existed, and nearly all the service-pipes were examined, and the gates and hydrants inspected with this end in view.

The unmetered water fixtures were also inspected twice, yet it is quite evident that water is being wasted somewhere, as the amount of water delivered to the town is larger than it should be.

When all the services are metered, as it is now expected they will be in the near future, it will be possible to ascertain what part of the water pumped passes through the various water fixtures, water cart hydrants and fountains, and what part is lost by leakage from pipes of all kinds underneath the ground.

Still more vigorous action will be taken the coming season for the detection of leaks and waste, and it is expected that the consumption can be materially reduced.

It will be noticed from the table that the number of gallons of water exceed the number used. This difference is explained by the fact that the water stored in the new covered reservoir was pumped but not consumed.

The covered reservoir was filled for the first time the last of February. The water was allowed to stand unused for nine weeks for the purpose of dissolving all the free lime from the masonry linings. Observations were made in the meantime for the detection of any leakage from the reservoir, but the loss of water was so small that no measurements could be accurately made with the gauges used.

At the end of the time above stated, the reservoir was emptied, and thoroughly washed out with hose, and on May 16th refilled, since which date it has been used continuously.

The only repairs made to the buildings were as follows:—

The storage building on Pearl street was shingled, and the outside painted with two coats of lead paint. A lean-to was added to the yard side, for the storage of numerous tools.

The number of service pipes laid was less than during the previous year, but the number of feet of street mains was nearly twice as great, not including the 24-inch main.

The laying of the new distributing main from Fisher avenue to Beacon street, was the most important work of the season.

Owing to the delays in the delivery of the castings, the pipe laying was not finished until late in the fall. Water was turned into the main in November, since which time it has been in constant use, giving a noticeable increase in the water pressure in the distributing system. Connections were made with existing pipes at Beacon street, Marion street, Auburn street, Harvard avenue, Washington street, Gorham avenue, Tappan street, and Sumner road. Provision was made for other connections and for extensions so that the full capacity of this main can be used when required in the future. Sumner road bridge was crossed by a section of wrought-iron pipe made strong enough to sustain its own weight, laid underneath the sidewalk.

A small electric lighting plant was installed at the low-service station, which now furnishes all the light required there, and has resulted in reducing the cost of lighting fully one-half.

In some parts of the town a few hydrants were added where extensive building has been carried on during the past year to insure a better fire service, and more hydrants will be set the coming season.

Repairs will be needed during the coming season on the engineer's house at the low-service station. The storage shed at this location requires shingling and painting, and the woodshed at the high-service should be shingled.

The wood work of both pumping stations should be painted on the outside.

Several important extensions and additions should be made in the near future, as enumerated below:—

The upper part of Beacon street will soon need a larger main for fire protection, as building is now going on extensively in this district.

As soon as South street is widened and graded, a ten-inch pipe should be laid from the high-service main in Newton street, to Grove street, to give a more efficient fire service to this part of the town.

More land should be acquired on the hill adjoining the high-service standpipe, as a larger reservoir will be necessary there in the near future.

The department has completely outgrown the work shop and stable and new quarters are required.

A second engine will soon be needed at the high-service station, as the daily consumption is reaching the capacity of the present reserve engine.

I subjoin the following tables, etc., all of which is respectfully submitted.

FAYETTE F. FORBES,
Supt. Water Works.

LOW-SERVICE ENGINEER'S REPORT.

LOW-SERVICE PUMPING STATION,
BROOKLINE WATER WORKS,

WEST ROXBURY, February 1st, 1905.

To the Brookline Water Board:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to present herewith, the annual report of the Engineer for the year ending January 31st, 1905.

The total amount of water pumped by engines No. 3 and No. 4 is 869,496,467 gallons — over eighty-eight million gallons more than last year. The coal consumption shows an increase of 201,433 pounds, and the time during which the engines were in operation an increase of 219 hours and 49 minutes.

Boilers.

The boilers are in good condition. The boiler settings and the walls of the boiler room need a coat of whitewash.

Pumping Engines.

The pumping engines are in good working order. An air-chamber has been attached to the end of the suction-pipe of engine No. 4. This air-chamber tends to reduce the noise in the suction valve-chambers of the pumps. Some slight adjustments have been made on the valve gear, and the feed pipe has been overhauled. The duty of engine No. 4 is now ten per cent better than the duty of engine No. 3. The average station duty of the engines is $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent less than duty of the last year. This falling off is on account of the additional coal consumed for lighting the buildings.

Lighting.

A 5" x 5" Buffalo Forge engine, direct connected to a $5\frac{3}{4}$ kilowatt Westinghouse generator, has been installed in the small engine room. This generator furnishes current for 100 sixteen candle-power incandescent lamps and is now working satisfactorily. The Engineer's dwelling house needs repairing and painting. A saving in oil and fuel would be effected by heating this house with steam and lighting it with electricity. I sub-join the pumping record, all of which is respectfully submitted.

RICHARD J. FLINN,
Engineer.

HIGH-SERVICE ENGINEER'S REPORT.

HIGH-SERVICE PUMPING STATION,

BROOKLINE, February 1st, 1905.

To the Brookline Water Board:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to present herewith the report of the Engineer of the high-service pumping station, for the year ending January 31st, 1905.

The woodwork of the building should be painted on the outside and the wood-shed shingled.

Boiler number one is in fair condition and boiler number two in good condition. Engine number one should be repaired by renewing the rods, plungers, and sleeves of the water ends. Engine number two is in good working condition.

I would recommend that a new engine be purchased in the near future to replace engine number two, which is of insufficient capacity to perform the increase of work at this station.

The following table shows the record of this pumping station for the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM B. WEBBER,
Engineer.

REPORT OF THE PARK COMMISSIONERS.

During the past year all of the public grounds belonging to the town including the school yards and their planting places have been maintained in good condition.

The Cypress Street Playground is one of the most difficult of all the playgrounds under the charge of the Board to keep in proper order, owing to the variety of purposes for which it is used, and also because the land is sterile and full of small stones that continually rise to the surface and make play dangerous.

The Board proposes during the coming year to resurface the whole of this area and add about six inches of loam to those portions which require it, and has included in the list of special appropriations asked for, the sum of $4000 for carrying out this work.

The Pierce Primary School building has been practically completed and as all the work outside of the walls of the public buildings has been included in the work to be supervised by the Park Commissioners, the Board has asked for an appropriation for building granolithic sidewalk, setting edgestones and constructing a walk, driveway and paved space in the rear of the schoolhouse, the latter to facilitate the handling of coal and ashes. It may well be questioned whether the Board has jurisdiction over any spaces outside of the street lines bounding public grounds, but as the work has to be done by the town in any event, and in this particular case a saving will probably result from having all of the work done together, the Board has asked the Town Engineer to estimate the probable total expense of the different items, and he reports that $2000 will be necessary for this purpose.

A number of improvements have been carried out during the past year in connection with the large piece of land known as the Reed lot surrounding the Heath School, and they are still incomplete. An eighteen-inch drain has been laid in the cut over the Cochituate aqueduct for the purpose of carrying off the large amount of surface water, and the cut has been back-filled for a small portion of its depth. If this cut, which forms a ravine on the easterly side of the land, is filled, it will add materially to the area of the playground and very much improve the appearance of the grounds. Whenever the street is built the work will become necessary, and in the meantime the children will have the benefit of a larger playground. The Board has included the sum of $3500 in the list of appropriations to carry out this work.

The sum of $4000 is asked for, to build a terrace wall as designed by the architects for the easterly front of the school. The foundations were laid during the past year.

The School Committee has asked the Board to set aside a small piece of land at the Heath School for a school garden. This has been done and the sum of $250 included in the list of special appropriations, to drain the land and put it in order. The balance remaining from last year's appropriations, $1948.55, is to be used for grading, surfacing, seeding and sowing.

The Reed lot had already been robbed of its loam before it was acquired by the town. As loam is very scarce and commands a high price, it will be economy for the town to postpone the re-loaming of a large part of the surface until Reservoir lane, as now planned by the Selectmen, is constructed.

At the Washington Street Playground a large amount of filling has been placed during the past year on the site of the proposed semi-circular driveway surrounding the playground and the larger part of the filling has been completed; it consists mostly of ashes dumped by the Street department. The saving to the town by using ashes for the purpose of filling has been considerable, but it has taken nearly three years to do the work. This playground has proved to be a popular one during all seasons of the year, and an effort will be made by the Board during the coming season to fit the area for flooding for skating. At present, whenever water is admitted from the public water supply, it disappears rapidly into the loose soil surrounding the site, particularly during a dry winter. In using water from the public water supply, it has been found necessary to employ an extra number of men at the pumping station to pump water during the night to make up for the large draughts of water used from the Reservoir. This is an extravagant and objectionable method of providing water for skating purposes. Some investigation will be made during the coming summer to ascertain if it is feasible to prepare the ground to hold water at a reasonable expense, and some way may be found for using the water which flows down the valley for flooding.

The town owns a right-of-way ten feet wide from Marion street to the Washington Street Playground, and the Board proposes to grade and fence this approach in order to make it available for use and has asked for the sum of $675 for this purpose.

It is to be regretted that the efforts of the Board to provide suitable skating places in the town have not been more successful. There are few natural ponds where this healthful sport may be enjoyed. The recent purchase by the town of the old Boston Reservoir on Boylston street provides a sheet of water of large area and centrally located. Its great depth, however, 20 feet, delays the time of the formation of an ice sheet until late in December on the average, and a further delay ensues until the ice acquires sufficient thickness to render skating safe. This is a disadvantage which is not possessed by a small, shallow sheet of water. Skating on Leverett Pond has been prohibited owing to the numerous accidents which have occurred in the past, due to the fact that two large streams of water empty into the pond, which break up the ice after rain storms, rendering skating at this point dangerous.

It is possible that a small area may be flooded on the Cypress Street Playground for skating, and the sum of $700 has been included in the special appropriations to try the experiment of providing skating for the smaller children in this central situation. It is proposed by the Town Engineer to divert water from Village Brook and convey it to that portion of the Cypress Playground lying between the board walk and Cypress street, which will be prepared to receive the water. If this experiment proves successful, the area to be flooded can be enlarged.

At the Amory Playground in Longwood, Dymoke street bounding the playground on its westerly side has been graded under the direction of the Town Engineer. It now remains to surface the street with macadam. This work should be done as soon as possible; it is estimated that the sum of $3600 will be necessary to complete the street. To this sum $1700 has been added to surface the slopes of the land adjoining the street and to do the necessary seeding and planting.

Many people use the walk around the old Boston Reservoir for the purpose of shortening the distance to the electric cars. One point of the easterly boundary of the Reservoir grounds abuts upon Walnut street and it is proposed to construct a small foot-bridge, about 50 feet in length, from the street to the walk inside the Reservoir grounds. A plan and estimate have been made by the Town Engineer for this work, and the sum of $550 has been included in the list of special appropriations for the above work.

The large triangle on Dudley street, near the westerly end of the Reservoir, should be put into good condition, and the sum of $1000 has been included for the purpose of grading, surfacing and sowing the triangle.

The appropriation of $600 for improving the ground connected with the Boylston street Primary School is added to the estimates for Park construction at the request of the School Committee repeated during several years. The surroundings of this schoolhouse are bare and exceedingly unattractive, and the small space available for the planting of shrubbery or grass is shaded by a row of elm trees on the north side of Boylston street. The difficulty of inducing shrubs to grow under these trees and the expense of the work in proportion to probable results have deterred the Park Commissioners in former years from undertaking it. If the town wishes to make the experiment, the Board is willing to undertake the proposed improvement.

The following table contains the appropriations for the coming year, recommended by the Board:—

For maintenance of parks and all public grounds $12,000 00

Special appropriations for construction as follows:

For grading in connection with the Heath Street

School on the Reed lot $3,500 00

————— 9,698 55

Total $36,523 55

During the past year a much needed improvement has been carried out under the able direction of Professor Sargent. The fine trees on the old Reservoir grounds, the Cowan lot, and also those in Putterham Park have been carefully examined, and poor trees thinned out and the permanent ones trimmed where necessary, adding very much to the value and life of those that remain. The town has upon its various parks and public grounds very beautiful trees and it has been the aim and practice of the Board to protect them by every means in their power.

No new land has been acquired during the past year. Several negotiations have been in progress, but no results have been reached.

The unexpended balance remaining from the special appropriations of $100,000 made at the town meeting of last year for the purchase of lands for playgrounds and schoolhouse sites is now $46,768.01, and this amount should be reappropriated.

Respectfully submitted,

DESMOND FITZGERALD,
CHARLES S. SARGENT,
ALBERT L. LINCOLN,

Park Commissioners.

Some trees were killed by horses and teams driving over them, and others by escaping gas, which latter our plantsman, Mr. Philip S. Allen, regards as the most dangerous to tree life.

Perhaps the most important question is a solution of the Gypsy and Brown Tail Moth infestation. A good many scattered egg clusters of the Gypsy Moth were found last fall on Corey Hill and vicinity which required additional money to dispose of. When moths appear in this way they are termed skirmishers: that is to say, they usually indicate the near presence of an army or colony that may soon prove very troublesome.

The Brown Tail Moth is more numerous than ever before and is to be seen in immense numbers today in Brighton over the line along Washington street.

Unless some check is introduced, through parasites, either naturally or by effort on our part, Brookline is likely to fall into the same condition as the city of Medford, where hand suppression has become practicably impossible. It is for this reason of the greatest importance to provide at once for the introduction of parasites, and your committee advises if possible the employment of Mr. Albert Koebele of Alameda, California, as being the best man for this work.

The Committee asks, therefore, an appropriation of $6,000 for the coming year; $5,000 to cover regular work and $1,000 to be used, if called for, to help to provide a fund to introduce, breed and distribute parasites for the Gypsy and Brown Tail Moths, said appropriation of $1,000 to be so used at the discretion of the Committee subject to the approval of the Selectmen.

It is hoped that the State of Massachusetts will employ Mr. Koebele, but if it does not, it is intended that the various cities, towns, societies and individuals interested shall provide the necessary money, viz., $15,000 for the ensuing year, to insure us, so far as possible, against farther moth depredations.

Mr. Koebele needs $15,000 a year for four successive years; at the end of which time he promises to have the moths in such check as to be productive of little further injury, and that this cure will be permanent.

FORTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The Trustees of the Library herewith submit their annual report to the town. Full details of the administration of the Library are contained in the Librarian's report, and the Treasurer's report gives the financial status. Items of receipts and expenditures are to be found in the reports of the Town Treasurer and the Town Accountant.

In April, 1904, Rev. Leonard K. Storrs, D. D., was elected Chairman of the Board to fill the vacancy made by the death of Judge Charles H. Drew in January.

At the town meeting on February 1, 1905, the report of the Trustees on the subject of a new Library building was accepted, and an appropriation of $2,500 was made so that expert assistance and advice might be employed in preliminary studies. The Trustees are now enabled to make a beginning toward carrying out the plan which they have long had under consideration as necessary to meet the growth and requirements of the people of Brookline, and of which they have frequently informed and advised the town. Their special report on this subject, which appeared in the report on the articles in the warrant for the special town meeting, February 1, 1905, is reprinted here as a permanent record in detail of existing conditions, and the reasons governing the Trustees in their conclusions.

It is almost six years since the Trustees of the Public Library called the attention of the town to the approaching need of a new Library building. In their annual report for 1898-99, after mentioning the inconveniences which were even then experienced, they expressed the opinion that "very soon, if not immediately, the town must come to our aid with an entirely new Library building better adapted to modern ways, or a complete reconstruction of the present one." They have repeated and emphasized this opinion in every subsequent report, except that for 1904, when the whole subject was under consideration by a special committee of the town.

The brief statements in those reports do not reveal the extent of the anxious, repeated and prolonged study which the Trustees have given to the question. Vote after vote has been passed directing the Library Committee to provide additional shelving for books. Committee after committee has been appointed to devise ways, by rearrangement of the space within the building, by curtailing the room allotted to this purpose and that, to provide accommodation for growth and for proper administration in a building already occupied by a larger collection of books and by a far larger corps of assistants than the building was originally designed to accommodate.

In 1901 the situation had become so serious that a special committee was appointed to take the whole question into consideration and to ascertain, with expert assistance, what it was possible to do with the old building by radical reconstruction. A small appropriation was made for the services of an architect, who, with the committee, made a most careful examination of the building. They studied most earnestly the possibility of replacing the antiquated alcoves with modern steel stacks in order to avoid asking the town to incur the expense of a new building. Not only was this found to be out of the question, owing to the design and construction of the building, but it was shown that even if it could be done the change would introduce new difficulties almost as serious as those which were already pressing. It was the unanimous judgment of the committee, with the reluctant acquiescence of some members of the Board of Trustees, that it was not possible to adapt the old building to the increasing needs of the Library. The Trustees, unwilling to urge the immediate erection of a new structure, adopted the device of placing intermediate shelves in the alcoves in the rear room, which, although objectionable from some points of view, gave room for a few years' expansion. As these new shelves filled up, the problem again became urgent, and at last the Trustees, in their annual report for 1903, asked for an appropriation for the purchase of land, with a view to the erection of "such a building as will correspond to what we consider the needs of the community."

This proposition was ultimately referred to a joint committee, composed of members of the boards of Trustees of the Public Library, Selectmen, Park Commissioners, and School Committee, and has resulted in the purchase of land on both sides of the Library lot. But the project of providing a new Library building was not acted upon in any way. An appropriation was, nevertheless, made by the town to enable the Trustees to remedy some of the worst sanitary defects of the present building. A small part only of the sum appropriated was expended.

It will be seen from the foregoing statement that the subject has been long under consideration, and that the need of a new building, notified to the town nearly six years ago, has become steadily greater. It is by no means the mere lack of room for the housing of the new accessions to the Library that renders the present building unsuitable. It is badly adapted to the present need of such an institution in many other respects. The fact that it is neither fire-proof nor even "slow-burning" is of itself a condemnation of it as a depository for a valuable collection of books. In its internal arrangements it has become radically defective. The main building of the Library was opened to the public in the autumn of 1869. The population of the town in 1870 was 6,650, and was not increasing rapidly. The Library then contained about 12,000 volumes. The circulation in 1870 was about 25,000. Owing to the subsequent growth, the northern extension was built in 1888. In 1890 the Library contained 35,000 volumes; the circulation was 50,000; the population to be served was 12,103. In 1892 Gardner Hall, the reading room of the Library, was constructed, but added little room for book shelves and none for administration. At the present time the population of Brookline is probably 25,000. The Library contains 65,000 volumes, and the circulation at the desk, for home use, is more than 100,000 a year. The difficulty of adapting any building to increased use by additions to it is too well known to be argued. It is especially great in dealing with a library. The Brookline Library, since the extensions were made, has added a children's room and a school reference room to the original features of the institution. Both of these rooms are in the basement, where they are remote from the Library proper and from the supervision of the librarian, and are not even near each other. Each, therefore, requires special attendants, and on occasions additional attendants, who are necessarily withdrawn from their usual duties in the main Library.

Owing to the lack of room in the alcoves, it has been necessary to store congressional documents, files of newspapers and other books of special classes in rooms on the second floor accessible only by a long flight of stairs, each room lighted by a single window. The heat in summer of the attic over Gardner Hall, where newspaper files are stored, will quickly ruin them and render them illegible.

The construction of the northern extension added but little room to that which was available for administration, and no room has been added in the last sixteen years for that imperative need or for any other purpose. In 1890 the whole work of the Library was performed by a librarian and three assistants. At present there are eleven assistants, including two apprentices. The librarian's office is a small room not larger than many a private citizen uses as his "den." It is constantly occupied by the librarian and her first assistant, but at times as many as five persons are at work there, in the rattle of a type-writer. There is no convenient place to which the librarian can take a visitor for a private conference. Moreover the space available for cataloguing, classifying, and other work of the assistants is so limited that they are compelled to take their work from place to place. It will be seen that for all this administrative work there is absolutely no room for expansion, although the work itself grows constantly. Indeed every appropriation of room for books is an encroachment upon the already insufficient space for administration.

Similar remarks may be made of the circulation and delivery department. In the rush hours there is not sufficient desk room to serve the public properly. Delays occur which are annoying to persons desiring books, tend to discourage visits to the Library, and lead to unjust reflections upon the efficiency of the Library attendants.

A good example of the overcrowding of the Library is afforded by the condition of the reference room, where dictionaries, cyclopædias and handbooks of all kinds are placed for consultation and not for home use. The room itself is too small, and is often incapable of holding those who resort to it, and it cannot be enlarged. For a few years past the bookshelves have been so full that a new book could not be admitted without removing another which should be retained. Recently more shelf room has been obtained by occupying a window space and a wall space that had been used for exhibitions of photographs.

The greatest and most serious deficiency is still the lack of room to house the Library proper. Some of the expedients adopted to shelve 65,000 volumes in a building not suitable for more than 50,000, have already been noted. It may be added that other radical measures have been resorted to for the purpose.

Last year more than 1,000 volumes were permanently withdrawn from the shelves for the sole reason that the room was needed for newer books. They were removed as not likely to be called for again; but no librarian can be sure that any book in a collection is worthless. There remain but two possible opportunities to increase the accommodation for books. Intermediate book shelves may be placed on the second floor of the northern extension, provided the floor itself be strengthened, at considerable cost, to sustain the increased weight. This would probably provide for the increase of books during three years to come, but it would involve another complete rearrangement of the books in that part of the Library. The other measure is the construction of a longitudinal book-case on the street floor of the extension, where would be accommodation for two years' growth at the outside.

The utmost the Trustees can do, according to their present information, then, is to provide for five years' growth of the Library, and that at a further sacrifice of room sorely needed for purposes of administration. Such is the situation they present to the people of the town.

They regard it as of the utmost importance that the enterprise of constructing the new building which they believe they have shown to be absolutely required for the efficient service of the public, should be deliberately planned, and executed without haste. They think that at least a year should be given to the preparation and consideration of plans, and they doubt if such a building as the town will approve can be properly and thoroughly constructed in less than two, perhaps not in less than three years. If the longer time should be required, the Library will, at the time the new building is ready for occupancy, be within one year of completely exhausting the space available for new books.

For these reasons they ask for an appropriation of $2,500 to be expended under the joint authority of the Selectmen and the Trustees of the Public Library in studying the proper placing of a new building on the enlarged Library lot, and in preparing plans, including the expert services of one or more librarians, landscape and building architects.

The Trustees have deemed it wise to bring this matter to the attention of the town at this time rather than at the annual town meeting, when many important questions are to be decided, in order that the proposition submitted by them may be neither adopted nor rejected without a full opportunity to understand the situation, and to reach a decision upon this matter uncomplicated with any other.

The Trustees feel that a word of appreciation is due from them to the Librarian and her staff of assistants for their intelligent, efficient, and faithful performance of their duties.

The appropriation last year for the maintenance of the Library was $19,500.

The amount asked for this year is $20,000; the $500 in excess of last year being asked for on account of the additional expense incident to opening the Library on Sundays.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER.

The undersigned assumed the duties of Treasurer of the Trustees of the Brookline Public Library on April 23, 1904, at which time Captain R. G. F. Candage resigned the office of Treasurer which he had held since February 1, 1904, and for a long time before that date.

Consequently the appended account herewith submitted embraces the entries made by my predecessor upon the Treasurer's books upon transactions occurring between February 1, 1904, and April 23, 1904.

Since my assumption of the duties no bills for, or expenses of, the Library have been paid by me, but I have made payments of income from the invested funds to the Town Treasurer as shown by my account, and the Treasurer's Report will show the disposition of the money.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

BROOKLINE, Mass., February 1, 1905.

To the Trustees of the Public Library of Brookline:—

I have the honor to present herewith my third annual report for the year ending January 31, 1905.

Circulation.

During the year the number of books issued for home use was 146,475, of which 15,454 were issued from the Coolidge's Corner station, and 3,734 from the Boylston station. These figures show an increase over last year of 9,331 volumes. The proportion of fiction circulated was 61 per cent. The table at the end of this report shows in detail the figures of circulation.

Cards have been issued to 1,218 new borrowers. Of this number 343 were given out through the Coolidge's Corner station, and 35 through the Boylston station. The total number of names now on our register is 7,692, of which 997 are entered in the children's room.

The yearly inventory shows a loss of 93 volumes, of which 14 are missing from the children's room and 9 from the school reference room. No valuable books are included in this missing list. 33 volumes are modern fiction, 25 of which have had their day of popularity and need not be replaced.

Deposit Stations.

The first year of the Coolidge's Corner deposit and delivery station shows that it was a much needed agency of the Library. 15,454 volumes have been issued from this station, and cards have been given out to 343 borrowers never before registered in the Library. The books issued have been chiefly from the collection which is kept at the deposit station, which is constantly changed by the addition of fresh books from the central Library.

The station at upper Boylston street shows a circulation for the year of 3,734 volumes, and the issue of 35 cards to new borrowers.

The management of these stations has been entirely in the hands of Miss Heath, who deserves much credit for very successful results. The work has been of a new kind for this Library, and much ingenuity and many experiments have been essential to its satisfactory accomplishment.

432 volumes have been issued during the year to the fire stations.

School Reference and Children's Rooms.

From the school reference room 7,681 volumes have been issued to teachers, who in turn report a circulation to pupils of 10,955 volumes, making a total for the year of 18,606, an increase over last year of 1,012 volumes. The attendance in this room has been 4,332 during the year.

9,166 books have been issued from the children's room to children under twelve years of age, and the attendance in this room has been 20,503 against 19,890 last year.

Accessions.

3,363 volumes have been added to the Library, against 3,503 last year. Of these 203 were gifts, 818 were bought to replace old copies, 2,097 were new books, and the remaining 245 were gained by binding periodicals.

Adding the year's accessions to the number of books in the Library last year gives a total of 67,293 volumes, from which must be deducted 2,023 volumes which have been discarded, leaving 65,270 volumes,—the number in the Library at present.

In response to the urgent demand for current fiction, 176 titles have been added, which with some duplicates have cost $221, about 6 per cent of the total expenditure for books of the year ($3,523.57.)

A few of the most important purchases of the year are as follows: A fac-simile of the Shakespeare Folio of 1685; Hastings' Dictionary of the Bible; The Cambridge Modern History; Ricci's Pintoricchio; Latham's In English Homes; Tanner's English Interior Woodwork of the 16th, 17th, and 18th Centuries; McClellan's Historic Dress in America; Vols. 3-5 of the publications of the Harriman Alaska Expedition; and new editions of Hakluyt's Navigations, Voyages, etc., Crowe and Cavalcaselle's History of Painting in Italy, Walpole's Letters, and the new edition of Grove's Dictionary of Music.

Among the gifts of the year should be mentioned the portrait by Healy of the late George Peabody from Mrs. Arthur W. Blake, and from the University of Chicago ten volumes of its Decennial Publications.

Re-Classification.

The work of re-classifying and re-cataloguing the Library will be completed by the end of 1905. It has been carried on during the past year by Miss Brown and her assistants, Miss McNeil and Miss Morse.

The latter, after serving as an apprentice through the winter, was engaged, May 1, 1904, to take the place of Miss Hobson, who was then transferred to the regular staff.

The Staff.

One change in the regular staff must be reported, the resignation of Miss Alice Burrage on May 1, and the appointment of Miss Alice M. Hobson to fill her place. Two apprentices are now serving their eight months' term without pay: Miss Eleanor M. Beers and Miss Ethel S. Downer.

Sunday Opening of the Library.

In November, 1904, for the first time in the history of the Library, the reading and reference rooms were opened to the public on Sunday from 2-9 p. m. The attendance has varied from 107 to 230 on a single Sunday, making a total of 2,178 readers during the twelve weeks, and an average of 181.5 a Sunday. Only 176 out of the 2,178 represent adult readers, the majority of our Sunday readers being young people, including children over twelve years of age. The work has been in charge of Miss McNeil, who has been withdrawn for this purpose for one day a week from her special work of re-classification.

Miscellaneous Matters.

The labor of cataloguing has been much lessened in the last few years by the purchase from the Library of Congress of printed catalogue cards for current American publications. These cards are sold at a merely nominal cost, and have proved an invaluable help to the cataloguers.

Respectfully submitted,

LOUISA M. HOOPER, Librarian.

REPORT.

The School Committee respectfully submits to the town the following report for the year ending January 31, 1905. On April 11, 1904, the Board effected the following organization:—

Chairman, Prentiss Cummings; Secretary, Franklin W. Hobbs.

Committee on Buildings — Messrs. Driscoll, Channing and Bowker.

Committee on Finance — Messrs. Hobbs, Driscoll and Fitzpatrick.

Committee on Teachers — Dr. Lyon, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Paine.

Committee on Text Books and Courses of Study — Dr. Lyon, Mr. Cummings and Mrs. Paine.

Visitors — High, Mr. Cummings, Mr. Hobbs and Mrs. Paine; Cabot, Mr. Fitzpatrick; Devotion and Pierce Primary, Dr. Bowker; Heath and Runkle, Dr. Channing; Lawrence and Lincoln, Mrs. Baker; Longwood and Newton Street, Mrs. Paine; Pierce Grammar and Winthrop, Mr. Driscoll; Parsons and Sewall, Dr. Lyon.

At the end of the spring term, June 24, the resignation of Mr. Cummings caused a vacancy in the Board and on the same date Mr. Hobbs terminated his service as secretary. At its regular September meeting, held on the 12th, the Board elected Franklin W. Hobbs as its chairman, and at its meeting of October 10th, voted that the Superintendent of Schools serve as its secretary. At a convention of the Selectmen and School Committee, held on October 31, Prof. William T. Sedgwick was elected to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Cummings. At the September meeting just referred to, the Board added one to its list of standing committees, viz., a Committee on Hygiene, and as members thereof appointed Dr. Channing, Mrs. Baker and Dr. Bowker. At the same meeting Mr. Fitzpatrick was made a visitor to the High School. At the Board meeting of November 14th, Mr. Sedgwick was made a member of the Committee on Text Books and Courses of Study and also a visitor to the High School.

The Board wishes to record its high appreciation of Mr. Cummings' services as a member and its chairman. A man of marked ability, able and fearless in the discharge of his duties, we regret his resignation from this Board, but are glad that the Commonwealth now has him in her service.

School Buildings — Construction and Repairs.

The last report of the Board indicated an expectation that the new Heath Building would be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the school year, 1904-1905. The Board now reports that such expectation was realized. On Monday, September 12, the school assembled in the beautiful structure which the liberality of the town has provided for it. On the evening of Thursday, October 27th, the building was dedicated, the programme of exercises being as follows:—

Our last report also contained an account of the successive steps taken for the provision of additional accommodations for the Pierce School, the last of such steps then recorded being the passage of a vote at the special town meeting of December 2, 1903, authorizing the School Committee to make contracts for the alteration and enlargement of the Pierce Primary building at a cost not exceeding eighty thousand dollars. One year ago the Board announced that it was about to advertise for proposals and expressed the hope that the work would be completed by January 1, 1905. How nearly such hope was realized will be apparent from the statement that on the 16th of January the building was ready for occupancy. At present nine of its twelve rooms are in use. While the building was in the hands of architect and contractors, two classes (grade VII) were accommodated in the Manual Training building while fairly satisfactory provisions for the children of the kindergarten and of the primary grades was made at the Pierce Grammar building. The School Committee are of opinion that the town has reason for satisfaction with the two buildings now under discussion and extend a cordial invitation to all citizens to give them a critical inspection. For the convenience of such citizens as may not find it possible to make the inspection suggested, pictures and floor plans of the structures are given a place in this report. For a detailed statement of expenditures upon these buildings, reference is made to the report of the Town Accountant.

A third matter discussed in our last report was the renovation of the three buildings composing the Lincoln School plant. At the annual town meeting March 3, 1903, the sum of $5,500 was appropriated for this purpose and at the special meeting held December 2, an additional appropriation of $9,000 was made. To one unacquainted with all the circumstances, the sum of $14,500 will doubtless seem an unduly large expenditure. The Board is confident, however, that its action will find complete justification in the minds of those who will take the trouble to familiarize themselves with the very extensive and complete improvements which have been effected.

As set forth in our last report these improvements included (1) an extensive addition to the heating apparatus, (2) the thorough renovation of the entire premises involving sundry new floors and ceilings, (3) fitting up additional school room, (4) providing toilet accommodations in main building, (5) installing a gymnasium, a system of shower baths with apparatus for supplying warm water, (6) adding a story to small "L" at rear of shop.

Because of the large expenditure at the Lincoln, the Board asked for no special appropriation at the last annual meeting for the renovation of any other building. During the long vacation of 1905, however, the Board is of the opinion that the Lawrence School building should be put in thorough repair, and it recommends that the sum of three thousand ($3,000) dollars be specially appropriated for this purpose.

With the completion and occupancy of the two new buildings, to which attention has been called, we believe the present needs of all sections of the town can be well cared for, and we are glad to be able to add that we think there will be no necessity for any new buildings in the immediate future. That will depend, however, entirely on the growth of the town, and we must expect calls for additional accommodations as they may be needed from time to time in order to properly provide schools for all the children, as required by the Statutes.

Last year the Committee very seriously considered the advisability of closing the old Newton street school, but on account of the urgent request of citizens in that neighborhood, decided to keep it open for the present school year. We are far from satisfied with the existing conditions, and believe that the proper policy for the future, for that section of the town, will be to make as much use as possible of the splendid equipment and enlarged facilities now furnished at the new Heath School.

Gifts.

Since the appearance of our last annual report, gifts have been made to various schools as indicated below. The Committee desire at this time to make acknowledgments for all such benefactions.

To the High School, a case of New England birds from Dr. T. W. Clements; two framed reproductions of the Magna Charta from Mrs. Henry S. Macomber; thirty volumes and pamphlets in the Spanish language from Signor FitzSimon of Buenos Ayres; and, as a loan, from Edward R. Warren twenty-five reproductions of the cartoons of Ford Madox Brown.

To the Cabot School, from friends of the school, a sum somewhat in excess of $50.

To the Devotion School, from the class of 1904, a bookcase and books and a relief in plaster, fragment from "The Monument of Hegeso"; and from Coburn Smith, 1904, a copy of "The Young Folk's History of the War for the Union."

To the Heath School, two pictures from Mrs. R. T. Paine, 2d.

To the Lawrence School, from the class of 1904, Statue of Diana and bas-relief "The Singers"; from T. Wilder Pollard, picture of Lincoln, and from Pauline Pollard a picture of Longfellow.

To the Longwood School, from friends of the school a sum approximating $160.

To the Parsons School, from the Lawrence School a Sistine Madonna, and from Mrs. R. T. Paine, 2d, a picture (Dutch scene).

To the Pierce School, from the family of the late D. H. Daniels, $100 (second gift) to be added to the library fund; from the class of 1904, Guido Reni's "Michael Trampling upon Evil."

To the Runkle School, from friends of the school, the sum of $321.94, a first step toward the adornment of the buildings, and from Mrs. W. H. Munroe a picture of the Roman Forum and a Japanese vase.

To the Winthrop School, from the Winthrop family and Mrs. R. T. Paine, 2d, the sum of $50, and from Mrs. Paine two German posters.

Penny Savings.

As was explained in our last report, the statement annually made of the cost of conducting the system of Penny Savings is misleading inasmuch as it makes no mention of the large amount of labor performed by the clerk of the Board and by at least one teacher in each school. Such labor is performed by clerk and teachers without additional compensation and this fact is to be kept in mind in scanning the statement which follows:—

Printing stamps	$36 00

1903-04	21 05

Our last report contains a brief account of the system of Penny Savings since the use of cards was adopted in March, 1899. The total value of stamps printed since that date is $23,650. In the office and in the hands of teachers are stamps approximating $4,000 in value. This indicates that stamps to the value of $19,650 have been sold during the six years which have elapsed since the date named above.

Financial.

As the fiscal year 1904-05, drew to an end, a special effort was made to secure all bills outstanding against the School department. After the payment of all bills thus found, the Board is able to report unexpended balances as shown by the following table.

FISCAL YEAR, 1904-05.

	Appropriated.	Expended.	Balance.
1. High School	$35,490 00	$35,276 08	$213 92
2. Grammar and Primary Schools	96,199 00	96,104 05	94 95
3. Kindergartens	15,370 00	14,894 99	475 01

6. Evenings Schools	2,000 00	1,655 36	344 64
	$188,539 00	$187,208 30	$1,330 70

In the preparation of estimates for the next fiscal year, the Board has given careful consideration to every item of expenditure, being earnestly desirous that such estimates show as small increase as possible when compared with those of the present year. In spite of such effort, the Board finds itself compelled to recommend an appropriation considerably larger than that made a year ago. The Board could, indeed, point out steps the adoption of which would effect a marked reduction in the amount of money expended for educational purposes. In the judgment of the Board, however, none of the steps should be taken, as, indeed, none of them could be without distinctly curtailing the advantages now offered to the children and youth of the town. The increase of appropriation recommended for 1905-06 is chiefly designed for the salaries of an increased number of teachers and it will be generally agreed that money can scarcely be used for a better purpose. An objection frequently made to public schools relates to the large number of pupils assigned to the individual teacher.

The preference for private school instruction is not infrequently founded upon the fact that their classes are ordinarily much smaller than those to be found in public schools. Within four years the town has seen fit to erect a new Heath building and to treble the capacity of both the Pierce primary and the Runkle buildings. As a result, the Committee has found it possible, in several instances, to separate two grades which had previously occupied a single room, and to divide into two classes grades which have become unduly large in point of numbers. The advantages which result to the pupils concerned cannot be gainsaid, but inevitably involve larger expenditures. The Board has prefaced its estimates for 1905-06 with this explanatory paragraph, because it wished the town to be assured that its School Committee is duly sensitive as to increase in appropriations and recommends such, and such only, as in its best judgment are clearly justifiable.

During the month of January, 1905, the Committee on Hygiene visited all the school buildings in town. From their report we quote the following paragraph.

"We wish to bear testimony to the excellent condition and well regulated use of the sanitary appliances in our school-houses. It might be expected that the school rooms would be neat and clean, but after a somewhat careful inspection of every cellar and basement in all the schools, there are almost no criticisms to be made, which in the opinion of this committee speaks well for the care and thoroughness with which our schools are administered."

During the last few years a gradual improvement has been made in the corps of teachers by the exercise of the greatest care in selection of new members. While we realize that there now is, and always will be, room for improvement, we believe that never before have we had such an efficient body of men and women teaching in the schools. We are confident that the standard was never higher, that the spirit was never better, and that the service rendered was never greater.

The scope of the work carried on in our schools has been enlarged from time to time to meet the changes in public opinion and demands, but we have insisted always that there shall be most thorough instruction and grounding in the essentials, realizing that the real aim of all public school education is to fit the boys and girls of the community for useful lives, and to help them to become good citizens.

Reference is hereby made to the accompanying report of the Superintendent for details as to the work and condition of the Schools.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Committee of Brookline:—

Whether the annual report of a Superintendent of Schools should be, as strict interpretation might imply, merely a record of facts and figures,—or whether such report should also, in part, take form as an educational essay or tract, is a matter on which men differ. The former it must be if it is to serve the useful purpose of preparing and preserving such continuous record of circumstances and developments in the history of a system of schools as ought to be kept. The latter it may well be, if the mind which prepares the report can add to the necessary statement of facts and figures wise comments and conclusions, judicious recommendations and stimulating and inspiring exhortations. If any one would know the heights which annual school reports may attain, let him turn to those written by Horace Mann more than a half century ago and read the glowing utterances which have strengthened the feeble faith and renewed the failing courage of multitudes in the army of educational workers who have succeeded him and which have served, not less usefully, to maintain in the public mind belief in the improbability of human nature, and confidence in the efficacy of education as a means for effecting such improvement. When one remembers, what can never be safely forgotten, that ultimately in a democracy the progressive well-being of public schools is vitally dependent on the intelligence, loyalty and devotion of the community which supports them, we shall be more likely to sympathize with the efforts so often put forth by writers of school reports, who do not wield the pen of a Horace Mann, to make of these reports something more than vehicles freighted only with statistics. The end sought is so essential as to justify the effort of the feeblest pen. Such considerations as these lead me to devote the opening paragraphs of the present report to remarks, wholly without novelty, but relating to matters never to be ignored. In our American polity, committed as we are to universal compulsory education, the responsibility for securing such education rests chiefly on the individual municipality. This is most conspicuously to be seen in the history of Massachusetts and the other New England states. While it is true that the individual town or city is the creation of the state and derives from the state all its rights, powers and privileges, the Commonwealth has uniformly and wisely imposed on each town and city responsibility for the education of its own children. Acting through its legislature, the state has indeed determined certain particulars for all of its members. For example, it has indicated the kinds of schools to be maintained, the minimum number of weeks in a school year, the branches which must be, or which may be taught. As we compare the educational history of the Middle and Western States with the history of New England we discover that in the former the measure of state control is larger. In New England, since the days of our forefathers, the state has contented itself with a few simple enactments — albeit of tremendous consequence — and has left to the people of each of its constituent units a very large measure of freedom in the domain of public education. As one result of this policy, the educational opportunities open to children have varied very greatly in different parts of the same state. While this is to be regretted, one's regret is lessened as he discovers that wealth of opportunity is clearly not the decisive factor in the education of youth. To this thought I shall have occasion to revert in another connection. For the sake of convenience restricting our views to Massachusetts, and for the sake of brevity employing the word town as including city, it is evident that in meeting their educational responsibilities the different towns of the Commonwealth will have much in common. This will appear if we pass in review the financial burdens imposed, the difficulties encountered, the problems requiring solution, and the influences, social, economic or political, which are active. If we should attempt to classify these Massachusetts towns, quite a small number of groups would suffice to include the great majority of them. There would remain, however, a very small number of towns possessed of such unique characteristics as almost to constitute each a group or class by itself. In one case the town might be distinguished by the number and magnitude of the difficulties which confront its attempts to educate its children. In another case the town might be distinguished by the number and magnitude of the advantages which it seemed to possess. I have used the word "seemed" deliberately, because of a conviction that no material advantages can ever prove an adequate and complete substitute for a vigilant, enlightened and devoted public sentiment. Each of the towns which resists successfully our attempts to classify it must be studied by itself, and of such towns Brookline is one. If I attempt to set forth very briefly some characteristics which distinguish it, I do so only that we may the better understand the special problem which confronts us and so be helped to solve it aright.

Those who are familiar with the annual reports of the State Board of Education are aware that the latter pages of each report contain statistical information as to the educational affairs of all the towns of the state. Using the sixty-eighth report of the series, issued in January, 1905, I find data relating to three hundred and fifty-three towns. Consulting a table which shows the comparative amounts of money expended for the support of public schools per child, for the year 1903-4, I find that Brookline is third, i. e., two towns only expended in that year a larger amount per child, while three hundred and fifty towns expended a smaller amount. Turning now to a table in which all the towns of the state are numerically arranged according to the proportion of their taxable property appropriated for the support of public schools for the same year, I find that Brookline is numbered three hundred and forty-three. That is to say, a heavier financial burden was carried by property in three hundred and forty-two, while a lighter burden was imposed in only ten towns. Here, then, is a town having two very marked characteristics. With wellnigh the smallest contribution from each dollar of taxable property, it expends wellnigh the largest amount upon each child to be educated. With these facts before us, certain reflections and inquiries claim attention. Let me put in the foreground the temptation to lavish and extravagant expenditure to which the facts just stated subject the town. There is a sharp distinction to be made, however, between lavish expenditure and liberal expenditure. The one is to be condemned, the other to be approved. The one is not only to be condemned as wasteful but pernicious in its influence upon all concerned; the other to be approved not only for the positive good which it produces but for its beneficial influence on those who practise it. Following closely after this reflection come two inquiries. Having in mind the large expenditure per child and the correspondingly large aggregate, one inevitably asks himself for an explanation. What is done with the money? Even if one is sure that the money is honestly expended, that each dollar disbursed is made to bring a hundred cents in return, still one asks what is done with so many dollars. In answer to an inquiry so pertinent, let me call attention to certain facts, and first to the fact that the bulk of the money is paid for the services of teachers. All intelligent and right-minded persons will agree that it flows in the right channel. As one considers the matter of a teaching staff, he thinks first of their character and their competency—terms which I am likely to repeat in another connection. Now character and competency command compensation, more or less liberal, whatever be the field of activity in which they are secured. It is one of the inescapable facts—and regrettable as inescapable—that with all our boasted American devotion to education these two invaluable qualities in teachers command such meagre returns. While the general law which I have just stated is true as a general law, it is equally true that most American communities are enjoying the incalculable advantages of an elevation of character and a measure of competency in public school teachers which they do not pay for — if indeed such qualities can be paid for.

Coming now to particulars, let me remark that while our teachers are far from being overpaid, they are relatively well paid. That is, if all New England be taken into account, Boston alone being excepted Brookline is paying a little more than the rate generally prevailing, and so is able to attract to its service teachers from almost all communities. While this is a tremendous advantage, and beyond question worth all that it costs, our enjoyment of it explains, in part, Brookline's position in the first of the tables referred to above. Next in importance to character and competency in a teaching staff comes its measure of adequacy in point of numbers. A town which has been employing one teacher for each group of fifty pupils, will at once double the cost of instruction if it employs a teacher for each group of twenty-five pupils. A former report has shown how fortunate are the children of Brookline in this respect. Without going into details again, it will suffice to say here that our usual practice is to place forty-two desks in a school room and that few indeed are the classes enrolling pupils in excess of this number. Any one familiar with schools will realize instantly how unusual is such a condition and will understand its bearing on the matter of expense.

Passing now from the supremely important topic of teachers, let brief attention be given to school buildings. From the following remarks the little building on Newton street, now attended by eleven pupils, is excepted. Speaking, then, in general terms, which are, nevertheless, substantially accurate, the liberality of the town has provided schoolhouses which are adequate in number, substantial in quality, and, in varying degree, beautiful in appearance. These buildings are provided with adequate heating apparatus, with approved means of ventilation and the best of plumbing. The recent policy of the Board, involving the complete renovation of one or more buildings annually, maintains buildings and accessories at a high standard. To this may be added the fact that scrupulous attention is paid to all matters of schoolhouse sanitation. Now all these things, while no guaranty of good schools, do cost money and they are here mentioned because they throw light on the inquiry which now engages us, viz., what becomes of the large amount of money annually expended on the schools?

Still pursuing this inquiry, let me next call attention to the elaborate system of schools which the town has chosen to establish and maintain and to the wealth of opportunity afforded by the extended and complex courses of instruction. To guard against possible misunderstanding, let us remember that the wisdom of so establishing and maintaining is not now under discussion. We are now solely occupied with their bearing on the matter of school expenditures. Kindergartens sufficiently numerous to care for the youngest children of all thickly settled portions of the town and provided with teachers in sufficient numbers to enable them to be kindergartens in fact as well as in name, the primary and grammar grades, a high school not easily to be duplicated in the cost of its plant and the extent and variety of its courses of study, evening schools and vacation schools, these constitute the town's system. The first and the last, kindergartens and vacation schools, it maintains of its own volition and not in response to any requirement of the state. While the law of the state is silent as to the length of time during which evening schools shall be maintained, Brookline complies with the spirit of the law rather than with its letter in this respect, being excelled in but eight instances in the state.

An examination of our courses of study will throw further light on the inquiry as to what becomes of the money spent on the schools. Omitting present reference to those features of the course of studies common to public schools, further than to note in passing the liberal provision made for them, I call attention to manual training and to physical training. Besides the Manual Training building on Tappan street, designed for the boys and girls of the High School and probably equal in excellence to any other building of its class thus far erected with public funds, each of our six grammar buildings contains a cooking room, a sewing room and a sloyd room. For service in these rooms a sufficient number of teachers is employed, and as a result of these arrangements, all girls are taught sewing and cooking and all boys wood working under the same roofs which shelter them as they carry on their other studies. The High School building contains a gymnasium for boys, another for girls, while each of the grammar buildings contains a gymnasium used in turn by each sex. It is true that these gymnasias vary in excellence, but each is adequately equipped with suitable apparatus and serves fairly well the purpose for which it is designed. For the oversight of all instruction in physical training a competent director is employed, and as special teachers thereof we have at present the full time of one man and one woman. Without pursuing further this line of discussion, I have said enough to indicate broadly what becomes of the money so liberally appropriated by the town for the support of its schools.

As I have already intimated, and as I now wish to bring into clearer relief, money alone, however liberally expended, is not the sole and efficient cause of good schools. This leads to a brief consideration of another peculiarity which compels us to deal with Brookline as a town that resists attempts at classification and to mention certain disadvantages which result from such peculiarity. The peculiarity to which I allude arises from our proximity to the metropolis of New England,—a proximity so intimate that while we fortunately enjoy the advantages of town government—to which long may we cling—in most respects we have become an urban population. Clearly this condition is not without its advantages, but those do not now concern us. If, still numbering rather more than twenty thousand people, Brookline were fifty miles distant from a large city, we should enjoy certain advantages of which we are now deprived. Such situation would probably imply the existence of a body of industries, somewhat varied in character and sufficient to support the community. As a result, the men of the town would spend their days as well as their nights at home. As a result would come a closer knowledge of local affairs and an added sense of responsibility for their wise management. The existence of the industries and the constant presence of the fathers would have an important influence upon the children. As another result of such change in situation as I have imagined, a large proportion of the population would be fixed rather than floating. There would be fewer apartment houses and more homes. With the local industries and the homes would exist tasks and responsibilities suited to children and which cannot be escaped by them without loss. Our intellectual life would centre in the community to a larger degree than it now does. What it might lose in apparent breadth and variety, it would gain, more than gain, in depth and earnestness. We should look for our amusements chiefly at home and less in the adjoining city. There would, again, exist neighbors and that delightful spirit of neighborliness which can only be found where households dwell side by side through quiet and uneventful years and where congenial spirits would form the delightful groups which add so greatly to the real pleasure of living. Can it be doubted that the chief agencies in the education of each generation, the family, the school and the church, would gain elements of strength and efficiency which they now greatly lack? Life for all would be simpler, but it would also be more satisfying.

Through all the foregoing runs the implication that a community can contribute to its schools something better than money. Far from me be the suggestion that our own people do not make the better contribution. It can do no harm, however, to guard against the delusion that in giving of our abundance we have done a creditable thing and our full duty. In an earlier paragraph, and when speaking of teachers, I used the words character and competence. I now wish to use them with reference to pupils and as indicating the qualities for which all our money is spent and toward which all our efforts are directed. Palatial buildings, elaborate equipment, apparatus for heating and ventilating, teachers, general and special, kindergartens and high schools, complex courses of study, manual training, physical training, — all are sounding brass if they do not produce both character and competence. Any person who has visited Hampton or Tuskegee and who has eyes with which to see has looked on a striking illustration of character and competency in the making. The industry, patience, persistence, faith, steadfastness and courage which characterize the majority of those southern students we do not find it easy to secure. Nor should it be thought for a moment that those schools are places of gloom, constraint or solemnity. Quite equal to the respectful and self-respecting earnestness which characterize the work of pupils in the class room, is the wholesome spirit of abandon which characterizes their sports. One who has chanced to be present at a matched game of ball between classes at Hampton will corroborate my statement. Well might the northern millionaire, visiting that noble institution, exclaim, "Why can't I have such an education for my son?" The degree in which a high school, for instance, will produce character and competency can never be determined by asking how many thousand dollars its building cost, or how many other thousands have been spent in equipment, or by asking how many courses of study it has, — nor even by asking how many teachers are numbered in its staff. It is true today, as it has always been true, that the great work may be going triumphantly on in the cheap building of wood heated by a stove and having no means of ventilation save the open window — possessed, it may be, of no equipment, not able to rejoice in even one course of study and having a teaching staff perchance of one or two. It may be that here character and competency are every day making, while pupils of the great school of the city, housed in a palace, seem smothered by the very wealth of opportunities which encompass them. If the history of the past teaches anything, it teaches that opportunity in and of itself, is a small matter. The great university affords opportunities which the small college may not dream of offering, but it does not follow that the boy at Harvard gets more out of his college course than does the boy at Williams. It is easy to say that he ought to get more, but so far is this from the fact that many a father, solicitous alone for the welfare of his son, deliberately sends him to the smaller college. Not the presence of opportunity, but the use to which the student will put it, whether he will regard it as an opportunity or as an infliction, this is ever the vital question. And, under Providence, this question is determined by the compelling personality of one or more teachers and by the atmosphere which they create in the institution to which they give their lives.

The regulations of the Board direct the Superintendent to report in February on the condition of the schools for the year preceding, and that is, in this instance, for the school year which began with September 14th, 1903, and ended with June 24th, 1904. In complying with this direction, I present certain statistics of interest, following the general plan of last year's report and thus making it easy to compare that document with the present. The Boylston School having been merged in the Lincoln, there will disappear gradually from our annual reports a name which has long been familiar.

As indicated by the following table, the school year under discussion comprised thirty-nine weeks, instead of forty as required by the rules of the Board, and these thirty-nine weeks yielded a total of one hundred and eighty-three working days, three days less than the preceding year.

Population — Children between 5 and 15 years of age.

According to the United States census of 1900, the population of the town was 19,935. I suppose that the present population is not far from 23,500 persons. In September of each year, under the direction of the School Committee, is made an enumeration of the persons between five and fifteen years of age who are residing in town on the first day of said month. Recent enumerations show the following results : —

Excluding from present considerations pupils of the Kindergartens and of the High School, I present next a table showing the distribution in grades of all remaining pupils for the school month which ended with October 30, 1903. The purpose of this table is to bring into clear relief the great advantages enjoyed by the children of Brookline, because of the moderate number of pupils assigned to the individual teacher. This table contains data relating to seventy-seven class rooms and in seven instances only does the enrollment exceed forty-five. From these seven, we may properly deduct the two ninth grades, Lincoln and Pierce, since for each of these classes there were available the services of the principal and his assistant. If it be further observed that the largest enrolment in any class room is forty-eight and this in but a single instance, it will be seen that in this matter of pupils and teacher the situation of affairs in Brookline was exceptionally good in October, 1903. Today it is even better.

School Buildings.

Within the past ten years the town has expended large sums in the erection of new school buildings. The High School (1896), the John D. Runkle (1897, enlarged in 1901), the Devotion Grammar (1899), the Pierce Grammar (1901), the Manual Training building (1902), the Heath (1904) and the Pierce Primary (1905) all come within this decade. As a result we have at present an adequate number of attractive and commodious buildings. In all cases these buildings provide accommodations sufficient for immediate needs, and in certain instances the future is somewhat provided for. It may fairly be expected that demands for schoolhouse construction during the few coming years will be lighter. With the enlargement of the Pierce Primary building has come much needed relief. That the conditions of the Pierce School are now almost ideal will be evident from an inspection of the following table, which gives the number of pupils at present (Jan. 26, 1905), connected with each of its classes.

Shower Baths.

When the renovation of the Lincoln School buildings was undertaken, it was deemed advisable to install a system of shower baths which should be used by both boys and girls. Our confident belief in the value of such baths led to a call for them in the specifications for the new Heath building. Experience to date justifies the expectations which were entertained. At the Lincoln School the number of baths taken is about five hundred per month, while at the Heath, a much smaller school, the records show that more than fourteen hundred and fifty baths were taken between September 12 and December 23. That the pupils of these schools will be greatly benefited by the gymnasias and baths which are in active use can scarcely be doubted.

Kindergartens.

The latest report of the State Board of Education contains an interesting table relating to Public Kindergartens for the year 1903-1904. This report is read by comparatively few and, on this account in part, and in part because we are under no legal obligation to maintain Kindergartens, and because their maintenance accounts for about a twelfth of our ordinary annual expenditures, I select a few facts from the table just referred to. Thirty-five towns are reported as supporting Kindergartens, the number varying from one to eighty-nine, the number of Kindergarteners from one to one hundred and seventy, and the number of different pupils from twenty-eight (Wellesley) to six thousand two hundred sixteen (Boston). In each of these particulars Brookline's place is seventh. The cost of maintenance varies from $328 (Sutton) to $120,918.01 (Boston). In this respect Brookline's position is fifth. The places maintaining a larger number of Kindergartens than does Brookline, are Boston, Cambridge, Lowell, Newton, Springfield and Worcester. Taking into account the marked difference between the population of Brookline and the population of each of these cities, it appears that in point of adequacy in number of Kindergartens to local needs, Brookline must stand nearly or quite at the head of the list.

Vacation Schools.

The same state document contains a table which relates to the Vacation Schools which were reported as maintained at public expense during the summer of 1903. Inasmuch as the support of schools of this character from public funds has come about very recently and as yet in very few places, it seems worth while to reproduce this table.

CITIES AND TOWNS	NUMBER OF —			Average length of schooling	Total expenditure for support of schools
	Schools	Teachers	Pupils
Athol	1	4	96	Mos. Days — 15	$9 00
Boston	8	161	10,487	1 5	10,277 95

Winchendon	1	2	32	1 —	52 00
	16	187	11,993	— —	$12,486 14

For the Vacation Schools of 1904, the town placed $1,200 at the disposal of the Committee. Of this amount the Board determined to devote $150 to School Gardens, such sum being added to a considerably larger amount which had been raised by the efforts of the Education Society's Committee on School Gardens. The three gardens maintained were located near the Lincoln, Sewall and Winthrop buildings respectively. For the success attained in this feature of the summer's work, the community is indebted to the ladies and gentlemen representing the Education Society and to the teacher in charge, Miss Mabel E. Fitzgerald.

Apart from the gardens, the Vacation Schools were carried on during a period of five weeks ending with Friday, August 12, in substantial accord with the plans outlined in the following circular, which was distributed some time before the close of the spring term:—

BROOKLINE VACATION SCHOOLS.

On Monday, July 11th, the School Committee proposes to open Vacation Schools at the Lincoln, Sewall, and Winthrop buildings. Pupils above nine years of age will attend at the Lincoln. These schools are designed for both boys and girls and are likely to continue for five or six weeks. It is probable that the sessions will extend from 8.20 to 10.20 A. M. and from 10.30 A. M. to 12.30 P. M., each pupil attending one session daily.

Applications will be received from pupils above grade 1, but preference will be given to those who are nine or more years of age. Pupils in attendance will divide their time between in-door and out-of-door pursuits. Until the schools are organized it is impossible to give with definiteness the various lines of instruction which will be offered. If circumstances are favorable, however, basketry, bent iron work, drawing, sewing, nature study, and athletics are likely to have places in the daily program.

Children desiring to attend the Vacation Schools must apply at once to their teachers for cards of admission, and assurance must be given by parent or guardian that the child will attend regularly, provided arrangements can be made for his accommodation.

Evening Schools.

In Massachusetts, towns and cities of ten thousand or more inhabitants are required by law to maintain Evening Schools, although each is left to determine for itself the number of nights for which such schools shall be in session. As a result wide variations exist. The sixty-eighth report of the Board of Education contains a table showing the number of sessions in each of fifty-six places for 1903-1904. The numbers vary from eighteen to one hundred ten. Brookline reports sixty-nine sessions, a number exceeded by only eight other places, and affording evidence that here the spirit of the law as well as its letter has been complied with. In order to preserve the continuity of our records, I insert here a statement of attendance for the complete season 1903-04, and a similar statement for a portion of the season 1904-1905.

EVENING SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Between October 26, 1903, and March 4, 1904, the two classes at the Lincoln building held sixty-seven sessions. The average attendance on the class in English branches was 17.8 and the average attendance of drawing class 7.6. The term for the two classes at the Pierce building was prolonged by one week, ending on March 11, 1904 and comprising seventy-one sessions. The average attendance on the English class was 28 and the same item for the class in stenography and typewriting was 8.6.

The Evening Schools of 1904-1905 were opened on Monday, October 17, of the former year. Sessions are held on the evenings of Monday, Wednesday and Friday, instead of four times per week, as was the case last year. Up to Friday, Jan. 27, 1905, forty sessions have been held, with an average attendance as indicated below.

Lincoln School.

	Men and Boys
General class	28.8
Class in industrial drawing	5.5

Pierce School.

	Woman and Girls
General class	37.7
Class in stenography and typewriting	11.7

In the fiscal year 1904-05, the appropriation for Evening Schools was $2,000. This liberal appropriation was recommended by the Board in order that it might be in position to provide technical or trade instruction at the Manual Training building on Tappan street, in case of a demand for such instruction. No appeals from such enlargement of the scope of evening instruction have as yet been made. Reference was made in my last report to the desirability of making a more extensive use of school buildings. As yet little has been accomplished in this direction. At the Lincoln building the use of the gymnasium by pupils of the Evening School, and an illustrated lecture given by Mr. George H. Worthley on the evening of February 1, are incidents which ought to be multiplied.

High School.

For reasons easily discernible, preparatory schools are influenced in manifold ways by the colleges. Some of these influences are salutary, some of them mischievous, and all are powerful. As an example of the first sort may be named the influence of the college on high school courses of study and high school standards of attainment. One may say as much as this, and at the same time take some exceptions to the demands made by the higher institutions. Most prominent among the influences of the second kind come the effect upon high school athletics and a stimulus to the formation of secret societies. With no disposition to ignore the valuable features of college athletics, and believing that their abolition would be as unwise as it is impossible, one may yet point out the fact that certain reformatory measures are urgently called for. The vicious features of high school athletics are a reproduction of evils which exist in college athletics, and can only be effectually removed through thorough-going reforms in the higher institutions. As to secret societies few will deny that they are wholly out of place in a public High School. Up to the present time our own High School has suffered as little as any other school of corresponding size and prominence. While this is true, it behooves all friends of the school, parents and citizens as well as school authorities, to guard against any extension of these influences. Nor should this suggestion be regarded as in any way unfriendly to the true interests or to the happiness of High School pupils. In this connection I may remark that much remains to be done in bringing physical training and athletics into vital and sympathetic relations. While the difficulty of so doing is not insuperable, it will require time, will demand our best efforts, and can only be accomplished through agents sufficiently broad in their views and sympathies to do ample justice to the claims of both training and athletics.

For instruction in manual training, Class I	13
“ “ “ “ “ “ II	14
“ “ “ “ “ “ III	28
“ “ “ “ “ “ IV	40
For instruction in drawing, Class II	30
“ “ “ “ “ “ III	28

“ “ “ “ “ “ III	15

Ages of Pupils in Ninth Grade.

While neither thoroughness nor breadth of preparation should be sacrificed to an eagerness to bring pupils to the end of the Grammar School course at an early age, it still remains desirable that such course be completed as early as is consistent with breadth and thoroughness. Chiefly for the sake of continuity of record I submit here a table setting forth the age conditions of the present ninth grades. These classes now contain two hundred seventeen pupils who will be candidates for diplomas at the end of June, 1905. In the preparation of the tables, ages have been reckoned up to that time. An inspection of the table shows that 49 per cent of these pupils will be more than fifteen years of age at that time, as opposed to 51 per cent in 1904, 62 per cent in 1903, and 55 per cent in 1902.

	Whole number belonging to Grade IX	Between 12 and 13	Between 13 and 14	Between 14 and 15	Between 15 and 16	Between 16 and 17	Between 17 and 18	Between 18 and 19	Between 19 and 20
School A	27		2	14	6	5
B	22	1	2	4	5	4	6
C	36		4	15	4	11	2
D	48		2	16	19	7	4
E	60	2	7	20	21	8	1	1
F	24	7	11	3	3
	217	10 5%	28 13%	72 33%	58 27%	35 16%	13 6%	1

In a final paragraph I make brief allusion to several matters which deserve such attention. As anticipated one year ago, a manual training exhibit, illustrative of work in all grades was prepared for the St. Louis Exposition. In October last notice was received that a gold and a silver medal had been awarded the Committee for the excellence of the exhibit.

Readers of earlier reports may recall certain paragraphs in which was discussed the need of provision for certain pupils who in every system of schools will be found to call for special attention. While this need has not been wholly overlooked elsewhere, it is in the Lincoln School that most has been accomplished. In the renovation of the Lincoln premises, a room was secured for this purpose, and excellent results are now being achieved by a teacher exceptionally very qualified for this difficult work.

In December, 1904, there ended a period of ten years since medical inspection of public school pupils was begun in Brookline. The chief purpose of such inspection has been the prevention of epidemics of infectious diseases, and there can be no doubt that it has done much to protect pupils from preventable diseases. The agent of the Board of Health has recommended to such Board that occasional inspection of eyes, ears, naso-pharynx and teeth be made by specialists. It is clear that such inspection would improve the present health of many pupils and prevent future suffering from impaired vision, from deafness and from the results of neglect of the teeth. Whether parents should be in any measure relieved of responsibility in these matters is a fair subject for discussion.

As evidence of the high standard of sanitation maintained in our school buildings, I may call attention to a recent tour of inspection made by members of the Committee on Hygiene. These visits were wholly unannounced, included every public school building in town and gave special attention to basements, heating apparatus, plumbing, and sanitarities.

Such measure of success as was achieved during the school year 1903-04, may be explained in large measure by the stability of our teaching corps. The pay roll for the first month of the year comprised one hundred thirty-five names, and one hundred twenty-eight of these names appeared also on the last pay roll of the year. One teacher was removed by death, two by marriage, two were attracted by exceptionally good openings in private schools, while two accepted positions in the public schools of Boston. Whether or not stability in a teaching staff is to yield good results depends on the character of such staff. If selections have been made solely on merit, if subsequently teachers have been allowed such measure of freedom as they prove themselves to deserve, if they have been surrounded by helpful influences and encouraged by adequate appreciation, then such stability can only result in good. We may justly claim that such have been the conditions in Brookline, and I am glad to testify that teachers have shown themselves worthy of the freedom allowed them, quick and constant in availing themselves of all stimulating influences, and responsive to every token of appreciation whether coming from officials or from the community.

During the town's financial year; ending January 31, 1905, I have examined the accounts of George H. Worthley, the Treasurer, at the close of each month's business, and have found them to be correct, with the balances, cash on hand and in bank, as entered in his books. I have had in my hands all the notes and bonds paid during the year and found them properly cancelled.

I have also verified his accounts as Collector,— the taxes collected and uncollected, and in connection with those abated by the Assessors. The Receipts from Water Rates I have compared with the books of the Water department and find everything as recorded on the Collector's books. I have compared the Sewer Assessments reported collected with the original entries made by the Town Engineer, and find the amounts to be correct.

His accounts as Treasurer of the Trustees of the Walnut Hills and Brookline Cemeteries and of the Warren Tree Fund have been examined from time to time, and are all found to be as reported by him.

A statement giving the estimated value of town property and a classified statement of the Maturing Funded Debt are appended.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD H. FENTON,
Town Accountant.

TOWN OF BROOKLINE. ASSESSORS' DEPARTMENT.

REPORT
BOARD OF ASSESSORS
BROOKLINE,
MASSACHUSETTS,
FOR THE YEAR 1904.

BROOKLINE :
THE RIVERDALE PRESS : C. A. W. SPENCER.
1905.

REPORT OF THE ASSESSORS.

The Assessors of the town of Brookline for the year 1904 submit their report as follows : —

By vote of the town, Mr. Charles A. Bowditch was elected a member of this board at the March meeting, taking the place of Col. Thomas H. Talbot, who had been a member of the board for eleven years.

At the commencement of its official year, the board organized with R. G. F. Candage as chairman, and Irving L. Shaw as clerk.

The districts allotted to each Assessor for convenience of the Board have remained without change for the past ten years, Messrs. Candage and Stearns having charge of the northern and middle districts, and Mr. Bowditch of the southern.

The canvass of the town began May 1st, due notice of the same having been published in the Brookline Chronicle and Brookline Press, and printed sheets requesting all persons subject to taxation in the town to bring in true lists of their polls, personal and real property, were left by the Assessors during their canvass at each dwelling and place of business within the town.

For the purpose of ascertaining names of poll taxpayers, examination and valuation of visible personal and real property, the canvass of the town was concluded in June.

Probate records of Norfolk, Suffolk, and other counties, Norfolk registry of deeds, corporation and bank stock lists at the office of Tax Commissioner at the State House, were consulted and carefully examined, as in the preceding years.

We recommend to the town an appropriation of $9000 for the Assessors' department for the year 1905, the same as for 1904 (including $4500 for salaries of the three Assessors, office plans, clerical assistance, stationery, printing, and all current expenses).

An exhibit of some of the details of the Assessors' work for the year 1904, with comparisons of increase or loss with the preceding year, here follows : —

Polls assessed in 1904	6,411	an increase of	277
Polls only, assessed in 1904	3,933	an increase of	137
Transfers of real estate	884	an increase of	69
Dwelling houses	3,594	an increase of	79
Number of tax bills	9,064	an increase of	297
Number of horses	1,496	a decrease of	73
Number of cows	166	a decrease of	47
Number of sheep	6	a decrease of	119
Acres of land taxed	3,506.96a.	a decrease of	40.29
Railroad locations exempt	22a.	same as last year
Acreage of town property	302.31a.	an increase of	16.50
Exempted property	40.03a.	a decrease of	10.72
Total in streets and ways	475.99a.	an increase of	34.33
Total acreage of the town	4,350a.	approximately Valuation of taxable real estate . . .	$61,842,600	a gain of	$1,876,800
Valuation of taxable personal estate .	26,432,200	a loss of	774,900

Total $88,274,800 a net gain of $1,101,900

The total of the town appropriations was $1,072,240.04 ; state tax, $70,125.00 ; county tax, $63,572.17 ; metropolitan sewer tax, $53,933.77 ; metropolitan park tax, $41,732.98 — making a total of $1,301,603.96 ; from which was deducted cash in the treasury $32,944.75, and estimated receipts $353,951.81 = $386,896.56, leaving the amount to be raised by taxation, including $25,000.00 overlay, to be the sum of . $939,707 40 less deductions for 6,411 polls @ $2 each. . . 12,822 00 which made the rate $10.50 per $1,000, an increase of 50 cents per $1,000 above the rate of 1903.

In order that the rate for 1905 shall not exceed that of 1904, it is quite plain that the appropriations that must go into the tax levy for the present year should be made with care and consideration. From the state, county, and metropolitan taxes, present appearances give no hope of relief, but rather indicate that they will exceed those of 1904.

A condensed statement of the taxation of the town for the year 1904, table of aggregates of debt, expenditures, valuation, and tax rates from February 1st, 1847, are herewith submitted.

R. G. F. CANDAGE,

CHARLES H. STEARNS,

CHARLES A. BOWDITCH,

Assessors of Brookline.

BROOKLINE, January 31, 1905.
